

The Asheboro Courier

PRICE ONE DOLLAR A YEAR

Wm. C. HAMMER, Editor.

Published at the Post Office at Asheboro, N. C. Second Class Matter.

At the Furniture Expositions, at New York and Chicago, North Carolina furniture manufacturers will be represented. This shows that our state is going forward, as it has not been many years that you could find any exhibits from North Carolina on an exhibition anywhere.

The Courier goes into the home of practically everybody in this section of the state, and many hundreds of copies go elsewhere. It has a circulation that brings results in advertising and is steadily increasing in its value as an advertising medium. The most successful business men are the ones who use newspaper space liberally. We ask our merchants and business men to patronize the Courier more liberally.

The people of Cincinnati, realizing that they cannot do anything in dissuading the President from appointing the negro Tyler to an important government position, have been doing their best to persuade Tyler not to accept the position. Tyler says he has been offered positions before by President Harrison and Senator Hanna, and refused them, and he intends to accept this position in the Custom House, if it is tendered him. Tyler says he is as good as any white man or anybody else and that there is no reason why he should not accept the position that Senator Fraker is his friend and will not oppose him.

The spring and warm weather will soon be here and the freezing will be over, and we have heard quite a number of people say that they thought the proper thing for our county commissioners to do was to divide the road force, get a small traction engine and use one of the scrapers to run over the roads leading to every part of the county; that the force placed in charge of this scraper should be sufficient to do good work, and should also be directed to clean out the ditches, fill up holes, and where the grades have been washed away repair them when necessary. To do this it will be necessary to employ free labor instead of convicts, and we think that it would be well for the legislature to enact a bill giving authority to the county commissioners to do this. The principle part of the work done on the roads, we think, should be in scraping and leveling them up and a great deal of work can be done in the summer time in this way.

During the present legislature a bill was introduced to pension at $100 a month Mrs. Julia Jackson, the widow of Gen. "Stonewall" Jackson, for life. Mrs. Jackson wrote the legislature from her home in Charlotte declining to accept the bounty of the state, and, assigning as her reason that while she was not wealthy, she was worth more than $500 in her own name. Under the general law in this state, persons worth $500 or more cannot be pensioned. Mrs. Jackson did not think it was right for her to accept a pension while there were destitute widows of Confederate soldiers who needed any funds which the state could spare. The attitude of Mrs. Jackson illustrates the qualities of Southern womanhood to which were, in a large measure, due the glorious achievements of the gallant soldiers who followed the illustrious Jackson. In the North there are many widows of officers who fought in the Northern army who live in elegance and ease, who send their daughters to Europe and to the watering-places during the summer, all of which is paid off of the bounty of the national government.

When we hear of a small pox scare we often think of what occurred in Greensboro a few years ago. A drummer was sick in one of the hotels at that place and the city authorities were notified. The night was past and the day was breaking before any one was found who would take him to the pest-house. The physicians examined him; they disagreed in their diagnosis. Finally a specialist from the Marine Hospital at Washington was sent for and came down. He went out and examined the case and found it to be a well developed case of chicken-pox. While we do not discredit the small-pox scare at Oak Ridge which is said to have broken out there a few days ago, yet we always have some doubts about these matters; and especially when the cases are in such mild forms as they are said to be now. We do not claim to be a physician or to have any knowledge as an expert as to small pox, but it is well to be cautious and careful. If there is any danger of a small-pox epidemic in this county, the county physician should be instructed to vaccinate all who apply. This should be done without charge to those who are not able or are unwilling to pay the small fee which is usually charged.

RECEPTION AT FARMER.

Mr. and Mrs. S. M. Kearns Entertain in Honor of Miss McCandless of Washington.

One of the most enjoyable occasions at Farmer was a social gathering at the home of Mr. and Mrs. S. M. Kearns, Monday evening February 11th.

It was given in honor of Miss Daisy McCandless of Washington State.

The guests were received in the east parlor by Mr. and Mrs. S. M. Kearns and Miss McCandless. They were then taken into the west parlor where many interesting games were participated in. The decorations were very elaborate and tasteful.

The "Fruit Basket" was then "turned over" and all enjoyed the delicious fruits.

The following were present: Miss Daisy McCandless, of Washington with Mr. Allen J. Maceon of Farmer, Miss Clara Spencer, with Prof. J. C. Carson of Bethel, N. C. Miss Stella Brightwell of Raleigh, with Mr. Lewis Ridge of High Point, Miss Mae Ingle with Mr. Robert Dorsett, Miss Mable Kearns with Mr. Robert Fuller, Miss Clyde Kearns with Mr. Arthur Maceon; Miss Grace Lowe with Mr. Grover Vander; Miss Kate Kearns with Mr. Cheser Bulla; Miss Clara Johnson with Mr. Ernest Ridge; Messrs Clifford Plummer and Frank Steel, all of Farmer.

All pronounced Mr. and Mrs. Kearns charming entertainers.

At her home on Salisbury street February 7th 1907, from 7 o'clock till 10 p. m. little Ina Auman delightfully entertained a few of her friends in celebration of her twelfth birthday. Each one brought some nice little gift. Games were played refreshments served and all seemed to have a good time. Those present were Misses Maggie Davis, Bonnie Auman, Grace Wood, Edna Laughlin, Lucille Ruch, Ialey Cox, Bessie Laughlin, Enolie Presnell, Fannie Spoon; Masters Clyde Laughlin, Colon Spencer, Carl Auman, Wayland Hayes, Charles Kephart, Jim Davis, Herndon Moffitt, George Hendricks, Frank Richardson and Everet Winslow.

West Randleman News.

Some of the people from this community attended preaching at Davis Chapel Sunday. Rev. J. W. Parker spent a few days in Greensboro last week. John Prevo, of Danville, Va., visited his parents, Mr and Mrs Frank Prevo, last week. R. C. Davis spent Sunday with his family near Edgar. Miss Belle Spain, who has been sick for some time is slowly improving. W. E. Thomas, of Danville, spent last Wednesday night with the family of F. P. Prevo. Charles Marsh, of Sophia, was in town Monday. Miss Malissa Ivy has gone to the country to see her father, who is right sick.

President Roosevelt has instructed Postmaster General Cortelyou to institute proceedings against publishers of newspapers who printed the disgusting parts of the testimony of the Thaw trial and if feasible to bar them from the mails.

Mrs. H. M. Wilson who was at Southern Pines until a few days ago died at Norfolk Monday. Her husband, who was with her in North Carolina, deserted her at Norfolk, eloping with a nurse whom he met at Southern Pines. Mrs. Wilson died of a broken heart.

In the Rowan Superior Court Tuesday afternoon John Butler, a negro, charged with the murder of Shelly Leazar, was submitted by his lawyers on a bill for manslaughter, and Judge Fred Moore sentenced him to five years on the roads. When sentence was passed he fell over in an epileptic fit.

RANDLEMAN.

Fifth Number of Lyceum Course--Death of Little George Reid.

Mrs. T. N. Long and family, of Greensboro, spent Sunday here the guest of Mrs. P. A. Woolen.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert P. Dicks returned Saturday after a two weeks' visit to New York City.

Miss Mary Lindsay, of Greensboro, is the guest this week of Miss Mary Ferree.

Dr. P. R. McFadyen returned Sunday from Clarkton, having been called there to attend the funeral of his mother.

Mr. F. Ingold, of High Point, was a Randleman visitor Saturday.

Mr. John Fox and Miss Maud Fox, left Tuesday for Rockingham, to attend the marriage of their brother Mr. James Fox, to Miss McDonauld, which will take place Wednesday Feb. 13th.

Dr. J. O. Walker, of Concord, spent Saturday here with friends.

Mrs. S. Bryant has returned from a month's visit to relatives at Richmond Va.

Nicola, one of the worlds best magicians, delighted a large and appreciative audience at the school auditorium Friday and Saturday night of last week. The Lyceum is to be congratulated for securing to able a substitute for Maro, who was unavoidably prevented from filling his engagement.

Randleman people are looking forward with great pleasure to the coming of Rosa Crane, the 5th number of the Lyceum Course, who will appear at the Auditorium Saturday night Feb. 16th. Miss Giles who so completely captivated her audience here last season is one of Mr. Crane's assistants and many will be glad to give her a second welcome.

Little George Reid, the youngest son of Mrs. Claudia Reid, died at St. Leo's Hospital at Greensboro last Friday. His remains were brought home Saturday and interred at St. Paul's cemetery, Sunday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. The entire community sympathizes with the widowed mother in her bereavement.

The bad weather has delayed the erection of the new printing office which necessarily presents first issue of "The Central North Carolina," as early as anticipated.

Randleman Book Club.

The Round Dozen Book Club held a most enjoyable meeting with Mrs. William A. Underwood Friday afternoon.

The Club is studying English History, and two very interesting papers were read by Miss Mozelle Dicks and Miss Burfoot.

This was followed by a contest which resulted in a tie between Mrs. Harris, Misses Auman, Hill and Mozelle Dicks, Miss Dicks finally "landing" the prize a beautiful copy of Irving's Sketch Book.

Delicious refreshments, consisting of a salad course, were served by the hostess. Out side the members of the club, Mrs. Harris, Miss Auman, from Asheboro, and Miss Lindsay from Greensboro, were present.

Successful Sale at Naomi.

The Naomi Falls Store Company at Randleman is conducting one of the most successful special sales in the history of Randolph mercantile business. Their advertisement appeared in last issue offering goods, at remarkably low prices. This issue contains an ad giving quotations on seasonable goods at even lower prices. The people are realizing handsomely from the sale, and the Naomi Falls store is making many friends by the exceptionally rare bargains afforded their patrons. Mr. W. T. Bryant, manager is being assisted by Mr. Gossett, of Atlanta, in the conduct of the sale.

This Number Gets the Buggy at the Asheboro Department Store--Look up Your Tickets.

It will be remembered that some time ago the Asheboro Department Store advertised that it would give away among many other things a handsome buggy to their customers. Tickets numbered were given with each purchase. The lucky buggy ticket was sealed and deposited at the bank, no one knowing the number. Tuesday the seal was broken and No. W. W. 90,254 was declared winner of the buggy. The person holding this number will receive the prize upon presentation of the ticket at the store.

GREAT NICOLA.

Audience Delighted With Performances Tuesday Night.

The Great Magician, N. Nicola, was greeted by a large audience at the Academy Tuesday night, which was delighted with the entertainment offered. Nicola fully sustained the reports that preceded his appearance here, that he was one of the most clever magicians and illusionists in the world. All the elves of Witehdom seemed at his command on the stage and the performance was crowded from beginning to end with mystifying tricks. The entertainment was given for the benefit of the School Piano fund, and a neat sum was realized.

ORDER OF PUBLICATION

It appearing to the satisfaction of the Court, from affidavits filed with the Clerk of the Court in this action, that Margaret B. Lowdermilk and her husband, W. W. Lowdermilk, defendants in this action, are not to be found in Randolph County, and cannot be found within the state after due diligence, and that the said Margaret B. Lowdermilk and her husband, W. W. Lowdermilk, are proper parties to this action, that the action is brought for the foreclosure of a mortgage which was executed by said Margaret B. Lowdermilk and her husband, W. W. Lowdermilk, to J. H. Kearns, that these mortgages have been duly assigned to the plaintiff, B. F. Lowdermilk. Exr. of Z. H. Lowdermilk, said mortgages covering and conveying certain lands in Randolph County, which, at the time of the execution of said mortgages, were the property of Abigail Ingram, who has since died leaving the said Margaret B. Lowdermilk one of her heirs at law, and as such heir-at-law, the said Margaret B. Lowdermilk is entitled to an interest in said lands, subject to the said mortgages and that the said W. W. Lowdermilk is her husband.

It is therefore ordered, that notice of this action be published once a week for four weeks in the Asheboro Courier, a newspaper published in Randolph County, setting forth the title of the action, the purpose of the same, and requiring the said Margaret B. Lowdermilk and her husband, W. W. Lowdermilk to appear at the court house in Asheboro at the next term of the Superior Court of Randolph County to be held on the second Monday after the first Monday in March, 1907, and answer or demur to the complaint of the plaintiff, or the relief therein demanded will be granted.

W. C. HAMMOND, Clerk Superior Court Randolph Co. This the 6th day of Feb. 1907.
