The following is a part of one of the late Bill Arp's letters, containing the sermon of an old-time preacher. I have had an occasional re-quest to reproduce and save from oblivion a sermon that went the rounds of the Southern press some oblivion a sermon that went the rounds of the Southern press some fifty years ago and was known as the "Harp of a Thousand Strings." It looks no bigger than your finger nail, and a friend writes me from the author of that quaint old sermon lived and ded in that parish and his daughters and grand children live there now, and are his near neighbors.

buzzard, that flies up into the air, and he goes up, and up, and up till it looks no bigger than your finger nail, and the fuss thing you know, he comes down, and down, and down, and goes to fillin' hisself on the carkies of a dead hose by the side of the road, and "he played the harp of a thousand strings, the sperits uv jest men made pertick."

And then that's the Methodis, ah! they may be likened into the squirneighbors.

When the Rev. J. T. Lewis wrote this sermon it was not uncommon for amateur preachers to perform up and down the western rivers and thus advertise their business, which thus advertise their business, which was principally flat boating and peddling their produce. Lorenzo Dow took continental journeys from Maine to Texas, but he was a pretty good orthodox preacher. These flat boat preachers were a rough and tumble set and tangled up the Scriptora are all key they could draw ture awfully but they could draw the crowds and their whiskey was a good card. It was an orthodox product then, and preachers and the product the, and preachers and the people were as fond of it as Odl Father Noah, who was a preacher of rightcousness. Rev. Mr. Lewis does not give this preacher's name but his sermon has been sent me by my friend and I give it to your readers as it was given to me. When it first came forth we thought it inexpressibly funny. It is not so funny now to the old people, but the younger generation are more easily amused than the veterans and for their sake, I append it.

This sermon was said to have been preached at Port Hudson, where the amateur divine had "tied up" the anateur divine man 'tee ap' for the double purpose of observing the sabbath and selling whiskey. I may say to you, my brethering, that I am not an edicated man, an'

I am not one them as believe that edication is necessary for a Gospel minister, for I believe the Lord edithe limb, and chings, and he chings the limb, and chings, and he chings the more than the stare of Indianny, where I live, that's do man as gets bigger congregations nor what I gits.

Thar may be some here today, my brethering, as don't know what persuasion I am uv. Well, I must not say to you, my brethering, that I'm as to you, my brethering, that I'm as to you, my brethering, that I'm

"And he played on a harp of a thousand strings—spirits of jest men made perfick."

My tex, my brethering, leads me to speak of sperits. Now, thar's a great many kinds of sperits in the world—in the fuss place, thar's the sperits some folks call ghosts, and thar's the sperits of turpentine, and thar's the sperits as some folks call liquor, and I've got as good an artikel of them kind of sperits boat ason my flat ever foch down the Mississippi River; an artikel of them kind of sperits boat ason my flat ever foch down the Mississippi River; but thar's a great many other kinds of sperits, for the tex says, "He plays on a harp of a thousand strings, sperits of jest men made perfick." And thar's a great many kinds of fire, and then there, foxfire, and camphire, fire before you are ready, and fire and fall back, and many other kinds of fire, for the tex says, "He played on a harp of a thousand strings, sperits of jest men made perfick."

But I'll tell you the kind of fire as is spoken of in the Bible, my brethering, is hell fire! and that's the kind of fire as a great many of you'll come to, ef you don't do better nor what you have been doin'—for "He played on a harp of a thousand strings marits uv. is the kind of fire as a great many of you'll come to, ef you don't do better nor what you have been doin'—for "He played on a harp of a thousand strings marits uv. is at the kind of fire as a great many of you'll come to, ef you don't do better nor what you have been doin'—for "He played on a harp of a thousand strings marits uv. is at the kind of fire as a great many of you'll come to, ef you don't do better nor what you have been doin'—for "He played on a harp of a thousand strings marits uv. is at the kind of fire as a great many of you'll come to, ef you don't do better nor what you have been doin'—for "He played on a harp of a thousand strings marits uv. is at the kind of the mark the mid and the first day of July. they may be likened into the squir-rel runnin' up into a tree, for the Methodis believes in gwine on from Methodis believes in gwine on from one degree of grace to another, and finally on to perfection, and the squirrel goes up, and up, and up, and up and he jumps from limb to limb, and branch to branch, and the fust thing you know he falls, and down he comes kerllumix, and that's like the Methodis, for they is allers fallen from grace, ab! "And he fallen from grace, ab! "And he played on a harp of a thousand strings, spirits uv jest men made perfick."

And thar is the Presbyterians, my brethern, with their long frock coats and high shirt collars, and dis-mal swamp faces, but they never cleared no new ground, nor burns no bresh, nor deadened no timber, nor killed no bears. They always waits for us to do that, and settle up the wilderness, and then they will slip in and go to plantin', and put of heavenly airs, and claim to be the only people that are elected and shore of eremal salvation— and they play on a harp with a thousand strings—sperits of jest were made perfect.

And then, my brethering, thar's the Baptists, ahl and they have been likeued to a possum on a simmon tree, and thunders may roll and the earth may quake, but the possum clings thar's till, ahl and you may shake all feet lose and be puts his tail around the limb, and clings, and he clings furever, ab' for "H's played on a harp of a thousand strings, spirits my jest men made perfick."

"Vinol is a Godsend to old people. I am 76 years old, but have a hearty appetite, sleep soundly, and feel active and well today, thanks to Vinol. When I was young cod liver oil was dispensed in a greasy, unpalatable form, and it fairly gazged me to get it down. Vinol is entirely different, very palatable and nourthing to impoveriabed blood. It is the finest tonic and strength creator I ever used in my life."

Vinol is a real cod liver preparation, from which the useless oil has been eliminated and tonic iron added. Try Vinol on our guarantee.
