FOR CRIMINAL ASSAULT.

High Point Boy In Trouble At Lexingon-Held Under Bond of Stores.

Report comes from Lexington that Carl Maynard, a young white man of High Point, heretofore sistaining a good character, was charged with criminal assault on Molly Everheart, aged 25 years, at Lexington on Thursday night of last week.

The alleged assault took place on the grounds where the St. Louis Arms ment Co. was holding a carnival.

Maynard had gone to Lexington to attend the carnival, and while on the grounds met the Everheardt woman.

After being in her company for a while, it is alleged that he enticed her to a secluded portion of the grounds and there assaulted her.

Conflicting etories come from Lexington as to the character of the woman. While it is admitted that she comes of a respectable family, it is said that her character is not Maynard was given a preliminary hearing Friday and the evidence was considered sufficient to justify his detention for criminal assault without bail. Later the committing justice of the peace decided to permit him to give $1000 bond, which he so far has failed to do. This indicates that the justice does not believe the State's evidence in its entirety.

Lexington, June 9.—A public speaking on the question of special school ax at Piney Academy, in Boone Township, last night ended in a sensational fight between H Clay Grubb, the distiller of Boone, and the principal speaker of the occasion, Mr. D. W. Connor, Jr., of Raleigh.

In the middle of his speech, Mr. Connor was interrupted by Mr. Grubb calling him a liar, prefacing this short ugly word with the usual adjectives of condemnation. Mr. Connor was game. Without any preliminaries, he left the speaker's stand and made for Grubb, shedding his coat as he went. He met Grubb half way, landing a heavy blow full in Grubb's face. In his speech, Mr., Connor told the joke about the weoden notineges, stating the advantage of long term schools, and comparing Massachusetts and North Carolina. He said that in New England the people had 180 school days to only 80 in this State. 'It is no wooder then that those pankers can sell our people wooden nuturegs.' Then Mr. Connor stated that all the taxes collected under this special law would accrue to the sole beneat of the children in aboue township Mr. Grubb icuned this, and stated that it was a "G-d-t-lie, just like that miting story."
