The Cause of Many

Sudden Deaths.

There is a disease prevailing in this country most dangerous because so deceptive. Many sudden deaths are caused by it--heart disease, pneumonia, heart failure or apoplexy are often the result of kidney disease. If kidney trouble is allowed to advance the kidney-poisoned blood will attack the vital organs, causing catarrh of the bladder, or the kidneys themselves break down and waste away cell by cell. Bladder troubles almost always result from a derangement of the kidneys and a cure is obtained quickest by a proper treatment of the kidneys. If you are feeling badly you can make no mistake by taking Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney, liver and bladder remedy. It corrects inability to hold urine and scalding pain in passing it, and overcomes that unpleasant necessity of being compelled to go often through the day, and to get up many times during the night. The mild and the extraordinary effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases. Swamp-Root is pleasant to take and is sold by all druggists in fifty-cent and one-dollar size bottles. You may have a sample bottle of this wonderful new discovery and a book that tells all about it, both sent free by mail. Address, Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. What a Man of 45 Ought to Know.

Sylvanus Stall, D. D., Vir Publishing Co., Philadelphia. $4 per copy. It has been aptly said that a man at forty-five is either a fool or a physician. In the earlier books of this self and sex series, the author, Sylvanus Stall, D. D., has sought to save young boys, young men and young husbands from mistakes which can only be avoided by intelligence. For men know that great physical changes await them at middle life. Perhaps it may be truthfully said that men of forty-five are ignorant of the nature of the changes through which they are passing as boys at the period adolescence. In this book, Dr. Stall, in that honest, frank and fearless, but pure and motherly way which distinguishes the earlier books of this series, sets forth the character of the changes which occur in the physical life of both men and women. The author makes out a clear case; appraises laymen of what all intelligent physician admits; portrays his readers to solve the mystery of these changes, and by intelligence to escape the sad consequences of ignorance. To many men the guidance of this book will be a timely benediction.

To Get Better Roads.

On every hand and everywhere we hear of good roads and better schools. The forces are at work for them both and the people are at work for them. Much depends upon the success of the neighborhood as to good roads or good schools. What is everybody's business is as a rule nobody's business. There is a vast difference in sentiment. In some localities there is little sentiment for either good roads or good schools, while in others the sentiment widely prevails for both and there is a demand for the best.

But we did not start to write this article to generalize but to speak more specifically, we will say that we believe in brick houses where they can be had but we prefer a wooden house if stone houses cannot be obtained; just so we prefer stone roads, but if we cannot get them just now we want our dirt roads well kept and not left to wash into gulleys and become impassable. Many thousand dollars have been expended in this county, some of it wisely and some of it otherwise but the roads are at least fifty per cent better than they formerly were under old methods. The worst fault to be found with the present management is that the road overseers do not work the roads as required by law and the supervisors fail to do their duty in most instances in the failure to compel the supervisors to work the roads as they should for the six full days in each year. We believe in the township system of working the public roads by taxation. There was an act of the recent general assembly providing that on a petition of a majority of the qualified voters of any township to the board of county commissioners, the said board shall appoint supervisors and the taxes for roads for that particular township shall be expended in that township. A road overseer shall have charge of the work and he shall be elected only for a year at a time. We recently published this act in the Courier. We have on hand a few copies of the bill which we will send to any one requesting it.

There is also another act which is of interest to our people. It provides for an election in any township to levy taxes for improving or macadamizing the roads.

Where it has been tried the township system has proved more satisfactory than the county system. Let us have the best business men in the township as supervisors.

People growl about the roads but there are few who take the matter up in a way to be effective. We hear complaints here and there about the work on the roads and now and then we hear that work is not in the right place and that bridges are not constructed at the places they should be. To one and all who have complaints permit us to make this simple suggestion, put your grievances or what you want down in writing and get signatures of others who believe with you and present the matter to the proper authorities and you will be heard. Do not rely upon some one who claims to have a pull or you may be left.

Vinol is as delicious as a fresh orange, and as soothing as can be to the weak, irritable stomach. It coaxes back lost appetite, improves digestion and creates strength throughout the whole system. We strongly recommend Vinol to all who are weak and run-down from any cause,--particularly to delicate women and children, old people and for those who have pulmonary troubles. Money back if you try Vinol and are not satisfied.

Industrial Education at A. & M. College.

"The world is demanding men who can do as well as think," says President Winston. "The best equipment for a young man to-day is technical skill, knowledge and power. A century ago education was for the few, and was designed to equip them for the learned professions; to-day education is for the many, and is intended to fit them for life's practical work."

Paint vs. Paper.

I am not an advocate of wall paper. It is almost as unhygienic as the carpet. The ideal wall finish is paint, applied directly to the plaster. Give two good coats of it and you have a surface that can be washed with entire safety. Dust will cling to it. Germs cannot find a lodging place in it. If care is taken in the selection of color, the wall will look better than it would if hung with an expensive paper, especially if it is to serve as a background for pictures. If the coloring does not prove satisfactory, paint can be applied at any time. If it is not thought advisable to use paint, alabaster can be substituted. This makes a hygienic finish, costs but little, and looks well. Anything is better than paper with its musty paste and general unsanitariness. From "Painting the Country Home in Order," by Eben E. Rexford, in The Outing Magazine for June.

Would Release Murderer.

An affray between two negro women at Greensboro, lead to their imprisonment for conspiracy to release Frazier Jones from Guilford jail, who is under sentence to be hung. After the fight, the officers, in searching the offenders found a dozen small steel saws and a file on the person of Maggie Murphy, a sister of Jones'. It is believed that they had conspired to slip them through the bars to the condemned man.
