Lesson XIII.-Third Quarter, For Sept. 29, 1907.

THE INTERNATIONAL SERIES.

wilderness (Ex. xvi, 1-15). Golden file who redeemed them from Egypt by His own right hand without any assistance whatever from them gave drem bread and flesh to the full without any labor on their part, and in the discourse of our Lord in John vi He plainly taught that the manner was typical of Himself.

LESSON 11.—The Ten Commandments; fluties toward God (Ex. xx. 1-11). Golden Text, Dest. vi, 5, "Thou shall love the Lord thy God with all thine heart and with all thy soul and with all thy might." He who loved them enough to redeem them and whose love to them was an everlasting love, an unchanging love (Deut. vii, 6-8; Jer xxxi, 3; Mal. i, 2; iii, 6), asked that they should love Him in return for such great love.

LESSON III.—The Ten Command.

should love Him in return for such great love.

Lesson III.—The Ten Commandments; duties toward men (Ex xx, 12-17). Golden Text, Lev. xix, 18, "Thou shait love thy neighbor as thyself."

It is only by our love to our fellows that we can prove or manifest our love to God, for "he that loveth not his brother, whom he hath seen, how can he love God, whom he hath not seen?"

(I John Iv, 29.)

Lesson IV.—The golden calf (Ex. xxxii, 18, 30-35. Golden Text, I John v, 21, "Little children, keep yourselves from idols." The people who promised to do all that God said could not keep it six weeks, could not keep their

1-13, 34-38. Golden Text. Ex. xi, 34,

"Then a cloud covered the tent of the congregation, and the glory of the Lord filled the tabernacle." A dwelling place for God in the midst of israel erected by the Spirit filled men from the willing efferings of the people, who had to be restrained from bringing.

Lesson VI.—The sin of Nadab and Abihu (Lev. x, 1-11). Golden Text, Prov. xz, 1, "Wine is a mocker, strong drink is raging, and whosever is deceived thereby is not wise." The sin of these men was the strange fire they offered before the Lord, refusing a willing obedience and presuming to do as they thought best. Verse 9 may possibly imply that the cause of their sin was strong drink.

Lesson VII.—The day of atonement

them to the uttermost that come unto God by Him," God's provision for the so in ours—the priest did it all; we re-ceive the benefit.

LESSON VIII.—Israel journeying to Canasu (Num. x, 11-13, 29-30). Golden Text, Ex. xill, 21, "And the Lord went before them by day in a pillar of a cloud, to lead them the way, and by night in a pillar of fire, to give them light." Delivered from their enemies, their Delivered rece with them, dwal. their Deliverer error toer enemies, their Deliverer ever with them, dwell-ing in their midst; provision for all the journey assured day by day, the good land before them, and all the way their faithful guide to tell them when their faithful guide to tell them when to go and when to stay.

Lesson IX.—The two reports of the spica (Num. xiii. 17-20; 23-33). Golden Text, Num. xiv. 9, "The Lord is with us; fear them not." Under such peculiarly blessed circumstances and with such assurances from the living God to talk of sending spics to see if it was as God had said was surely sinful unbellef, and yet Moses fell into line with it, and God in gracious compassion for their weakness permitted it that these who would not believe His word might learn in their own His word might learn in their own

Lesson X. — The brazen serpent (Num. xxi, 1-9). Golden Text, John III. LESSON X. — The braren serpent (Num, xxi, 1-9). Golden Text, John III, 14, 15, "As Moses lifted up the scrpent in the wilderness, even so must the Son of Man be lifted up, that whosoever believeth in Him should not perish, but have eternal life." Not liking God's way and speaking against God brought a lot of trouble, and yet it is the ordinary way of all men since that old serpent caused Adam and Eve to old serpent caused Adam and Eve to old serpent caused Adam and Eve to fall in with his plan of getting on in defiance of God.

Lesson XI.—Moses pleading with Israel (Dent. vi. 1.15). Golden Text. Deut. vi. 1.15. Golden Text. Deut. vi. 1.15. Golden Text. Deut. vi. 1.2. "Beware, lest thou forget the Lord." In the end of the fortieth year since they left Egypt (Dout. 1. 3) Moses rehearsed all the Lord's dealings with them, reminding them of all the ways that the Lord had led thom, or His un. that the Lord had led them, of His un-changing love and manifold mercies, and he may be said to sum up his ex-hortation to them in the words, "Remember, forget not the Lord; love and obey Him." Lusson XII. — The death of Moses (Deut xxxiv, 1-12). Golden Text, Ps. czvi, 15, "Precious in the sight of the Lord is the death of His saints.' Lord is the death of His saints." In John xvii, 24, He said to His Father that Ho longed to have them with Him that they might see His glory. In Phil. i, 21, 28, we read that "to die is gain, * * * to depart and be with Christ is far better." More literally the last two words should be "very far better."

HOW TO SOW OATS BY "OPEN FURROW" METHODS.

Col. Redding Urges Every Farmer to Give the Plan a Trial This Fall-Direction for Seeding and Fertilizing.

I may be incurring some risk of being called a "crank" on the subject of sowing oats. If so, so be it. I would rather be called a crank than a "fifth wheel", and have often felt that it were worthy of a life's effort to succeed in inducing the upland farmers of the South to quit putting "all their eggs in one basket", which they do relying atmost exclusively on corn as grain food for work animals. Thousands, yea hundreds of thousands of corn yea hundreds of thousands of corn fields have produced this year less than 10 bushels of corn to the acre—how much less I am ashamed to say—that might be sown in oats this fall, according to the open fur-row plan, and well fertilized that might be reasonably expected to yield 25 to 30 bushels of oats all yield 25 to 30 bushels of oats all through middle Georgia and corresponding sections eastward. (The time for sowing oats passed away several years ago with the advent of the open furrow systems.) I have sometimes said that if my entire crop of oats could be sown in one day, the 15th day of October would be the chosen day. But fortunate be the chosen day. Bu, fortunate-ly, the period of sowing extends from October 1st to November 1st, and even much later—south of latitude 32 degrees-Of course every reader has heard Of course every reader has heard of the open furrow plan of sowing cats and how to fertilize the crop. If not, such can be had by applying to the "Georgia Experiment Station, Experiment, Ga., for a copy of "Press Bulletin, No. 45." The method and the fertilizer formula been frequently given in these col-omns, but I will repeat the formula, the amount being for one acre, as

The above to be applied at the time of sowing oats, and in the furtime of sowing oats, and in the fur-rows with the seed, to be supple-mented by a top dressing of 50 to 75 pounds of nitrate of sods in March cext, if, at that time, such top-dressing shall appear to be de-sirable.—R. J. Redding, Director of Georgia Experiment Station.

"OPEN FURROW METROD" BRIEFLY DISCUSSED.

During five years' experiments, the Georgia Station found that oats sown in drills 18 to 24 inches apart invariably gave a larger yield than when sown broadcast and plowed or harrowed in. In itself this was an important result of experiments to that end. But a more important discovery is the fact that when the seed are sown in open furrows and barely covered, leaving the furrows open or unfilled, the oat plants are very much less liable to be killed by a severe freeze. The idea was conceived several years ago, and annually since we have sown the larger portion of the fall-sown area in drills 18 to 24 inches apart, lat-terly using a Gantt fertilizer dis-tributor. This sows but a row at a time, has no covering attachment, but simply opens a small furrow and sows the seed, the single wheel following in the furrow and barely covering the seed. The result is the plants come up one and a half to two inches below the general sur-face. The winter rains, light freezes and thaws, gradually, but only partly, fill in the open furrow, and the more vital and sensitive parts of the plant are left at the original depths, below the reach of even very severe freezes.

Sixteen inches apart is probably the best width between the oat fur-
