Notice To Teachers.

The North Carolina Journal of Education has recently been enlarged and otherwise improved. No doubt it is the very magazine every teacher should subscribe for and read carefully. The quality of the reading matter is excellent, and the illustrations are of a high order.

Arrangements have been made by which every teacher in the county may secure this educational journal for only 33 1-3 cents a year, provided the club can be made large enough. It is very earnestly hoped that no one will fail to take advantage of this exceptional offer, because the paper is worth many times the amount required to get it.

Those who desire to subscribe for the next year will please forward the required amount to me at once with the correct name and address. The paper will be mailed to you as soon as the club is completed. Prompt attention to this important matter is urged.

Cordially Yours,
E. J. COLTRANE.

Our Premium Papers.

Several weeks ago we sent out statements to all our subscribers who were as much as three months in arrears on subscription, inclosing with these statements a letter printed in red ink offering to send several other papers and magazines if payment was made promptly. Last week we announced that this offer would be withdrawn the first of October. Since then we have gone over our accounts with the publishers of our premium publications and find we have more than two hundred annual subscriptions still due us by the publishers of each of these publications. So we will not withdraw our clubbing proposition now. It will probably continue fifteen days yet. Those who wish to get a supply of good literature free with 'The Courier' for the next year should send in their subscription at once. If you desire this big offer, do not fail to say so when you send us your subscription, and oblige. Address The Courier, Asheboro, N. C.

Teachers' Examinations.

In accordance with the Public School Law of the State I will give a free public examination to all white teachers in the County desiring certificates, on Thursday, Oct. 10th, in the Court-house at Asheboro. The examination will begin promptly at ten o'clock, and all applicants are urged to be present at that hour in order to finish the work as early as possible.

All colored teachers will please come on Saturday, Oct. 12th.

If there are any teachers in the County desiring to take the examination for the high school teacher's certificates, opportunity for the same will be given on the 11th and 12th. Very truly yours,
E. J. COLTRANE,
Co. Superintendent.
