MILLIKAN REUNION.

know that his aged father and uncle had returned in good health after having the "time of their lives". I gleaned the preceding facts of the family gathering. I sought more prosaic information. Mr. Millikan told me in answer to my inquiry, that it seemed just like home folks out there. The eating and cooking was the good old time country sort, plenty of it and on hand all the time in good old Randolph style. Besides his immediate kin, the names of visitors and neighbors were familiar, there being Cobles, Stalkers, Hinshaws, Gardners, Brilees and Foxes a plenty. The country was just one big neighborhood village out there. Farms were in squares of 80 acres, few owning more, and everybody was in hollering distance of each other.

These lands, not for sale, when sold brought from $100 to $125 an acre. The principal crop was corn, which was largely fed to hogs, cattle and horses. Generally a farmer would plant from ten to fifteen acres only in corn, getting about a thousand bushels. This he would feed to the stock being raised for market, the balance of the land being set to hay or pasture to raise the stock on. Ten years ago these Indiana lands could be bought for $50 an acre. The Illinois farmers, where lands were selling for $125 per acre, finding that Indiana lands were just as good and cheaper, took to selling their lands and moving over to Indiana. This raised prices of lands until now they were as high as the Illinois lands. "It's a fine country, I tell you," exclaimed the Marshal, "but I had rather take my chances in North Carolina for a steady diet." The old settlers are still Quakers or Friends, they and their descendants sticking to farming.

On last Tuesday, while in Westfield, Marshal Millikan saw one of the St. Louis racing balloons fly over the town, at an altitude so high that it looked about the size of a flour barrel, and going at a rapid rate. The whole country was excited over the race, and an immense crowd on the watch for some of the balloons were rewarded with this sight of one at 9 o'clock Tuesday morning.

MAKE IT YOURSELF.

Says Many Persons Here Can Be Made Happy Again By Using This.

There is so much rheumatism here in our neighborhood now that the following advice by an eminent authority, who writes for readers of a large Eastern daily paper, will be highly appreciated by those who suffer:

Get from any good pharmacy one-half ounce Fluid Extract Dandelion, one ounce Compound Kagon, three ounces of Compound Syrup Sassaaparilla. Shake these well in a bottle and take in teaspoonful doses after each meal at bedtime; also drink plenty of good water.

It is claimed that there are few victims of this dread and torturous disease who will fail to find ready relief in this simple home-made mixture, and in most cases a permanent cure is the result.

This simple recipe is said to strengthen and cleanse the eliminative tissues of the Kidneys so that they can filter and strain from the blood and system the poisons, acids and waste matter, which cause not only rheumatism, but numerous other diseases. Every man or woman here who feels that their kidneys are not healthy and active, or who suffers from any urinary trouble whatever, should not hesitate to make up this mixture, as it is certain to do much good, and may save you from much misery and suffering after while.

Our home druggists say they will either supply the ingredients or mix the prescription ready to take if our readers ask them.

Revenue Officers Exhonerated.

A large crowd attended the hearing given the revenue officers who were arrested for shooting John Bram, a distiller, near Greensboro. The defendants were United States Marshal J. M. Millikan, Deputy Sheriff J. M. Bailey, Revenue Agent K. W. Seavey, Deputy Sheriff John T. Sheppard and Marshal P. H. Gaster. G. T. Seabolt, after whom the case was named, declared the shooting justifiable and dismissed the warrants against the defendants.

Work on Blawett Falls Power Plant Suspended.

Work on the big electric power plant at Blawett Falls, in Chatham county, suspended last week because of the failure of the Mecklenburg Trust Co., with whom the bonds of the company erecting the plant had been placed. A meeting of the company at an early date will be held and plans perfected to begin work as soon as as possible.

OLD RANDOLPH.

A Former Resident Has Many Kind Words for Home County and the Courier.

Mr. O. C. Hamilton, Principal and Proprietor of Union Institute, of Unionville, N. C., writes as follows in remitting his subscription:

Dear Sir:—Find inclosed money order to renew my subscription. I should have sent this before now, but I did not know the date of my subscription, which I am certain has expired.

I read no paper that I appreciate more than the Asheboro Courier—especially its locals, which frequently contain (to me) valuable news from dear old friends whom I should otherwise lose sight of.

I was born and raised in Randolph county; I was educated at New Hope Academy and Trinity College; I served in Company H, of the 38th N. C. Regiment in the Civil War. I have more very dear friends in the county than anywhere else. No other county can ever be so dear to me as Randolph, and no other friends can ever be so dear as those there of my boyhood and youth. Therefore we are always interested in getting the Courier, which so often contains items of personal interest to us.

Very truly yours, O. C. HAMILTON.
