SENATOR OVERMAN SPEAKS IN CHARLOTTE.

usual, made a speech that had some- ours. thing in it. We quote from it as

"I deem it a great honor to be able to take part in these ex-ercises tonight. I prize it a distinction to be permitted to be here at the formal opening of this splendid auditorium which will be a credit to your city and will be a credit to your city and means so much to your people. I congratulate you, Mr. Preston, and you, Mr. Dowd, for the part you have played in making this building possible and for your untring zeal in its sompletion. If you say 100,000 inhabitants for Charlotte in 1908, you will have them despite the panic. They say there is a panic and I want to add that Grover Cleveland didn't bring it about either. It's nothing but a great scare. Gold is bring it about either. It's nothing but a great scare. Gold is flowing into this country. They say wages are high, but I say that farm products are correspondingly high. There is an average per capits of wealth in the country of $32. What brought about this panic they are talking about? It was the turning on of the light the disare talking about? It was the turning on of the light, the discovery of great frauds in great companies, bankers using the money of their customers to speculate in stocks, great and infamous manipulation on the part of the onanciers with the money of the people. If there is a panic, it means the purifi-cation of the atmosphere of high finance. And I tell you it is the South that will save the nation from a panic. By the cultivation of cotton as a by product, $600,000,000 is made by the South annually, $400,000,000 is brought to this country from issue of his paper!

"Yet there is one ray of hope for the Democrats, and, curiously enough, this arises out of the single menace to the country, which shows itself across the national horizon—that is, the much-heralded, much-de-nied candidacy of Theodore Roosevelt for a third term. Meanwhile, everywhere, the buc-cancers or sheer partylsm, all the daring opportunists and the intrepid adventurers, the hang-ers-on, and the incense burners are lining up in favor of one more term for Theodore, which means, and can only mean, life tengre and the complete Mexi-canization of the republic. "The very talk of a third term for Roosevelt is treason.

If through any machinations of political conditions, or any con spiracy of party machinery, it could present itself as an ac-tuality, the people will rise en masse, especially in New England, and crush it as a giant would an eggshell."

So we'll speak more of the feeling produced than of the seeing. First, we thought of the wonderfully marvelous change since Colum-bus knelt on this continent not so far from this spot and thanked God for their safe arrival, next, of Washfor their safe arrival, next, of Washington, also a praying man, then of Lord Delaware, bowing and thanking God for their landing at Jamestown just in time to save the fleeing bacco raised in the streets as it was there 300 years ago. Think of this being the traffic now throughout the United States! And compare that deep shade of melancholy and gloom in that wild forest with these acres of land and water, bearing not only their natural products greatly improved, but showing the gigantic strides of the arts and sciences in the indescribable handiwork and the work of thousands of ten-talented women and men, who, at the suggestion, first, of the historic State of Virgin-ia, have prepared and arranged this magnificently beautiful and instruclive panorama, the Ter-Centennial

What monuments to the wisdom, industry and energy of the people of the United States, and all nations who have contributed! Can any mind dwell upon this for one mo-ment and not feel like praising and glorifying God more and loving hu-manity more? O, for this last cord.

But most of all do we rejoice that this gathering has done so much, not only in reuniting the North and South and reburnishing the old dusty links of friendship and love between them, but it has wrought new and long links that reach across the nighty ocean and unite the people of foreign lands with us in a sense heretofore nuknown. God be thanked for all these good results like life has grown more rapidly than he since his election to the Senate.

In God We Trust.

In his explanation of why "In God we Trust" was stricken from the coin, Ar. Roosevelt shows he was ignorant of the law. The Wilmington Star shows that, while the law is not mandatory, it was premissive, and Rev. M. R. Watkinson, having suggested the inscription, Secretary Sal-mon P. Chase wrote this letter to the Director of the Mint:

"November 20, 1861.
"Dear Sir: No nation can be strong except in the strength of God, or safe except in the strength of God, or safe except in His defense. The trust of our people in God should be declared on our National coin. You vill cause a device to be prepared without nanecessary delay with a motto expressing in the fewest and tersest words possible this National recognition.

Yours truly. "S. P CHASE."
