HINTS FOR FARMERS The SPORTING WORLD

Hoofs of the Horse.

When the foot is gone there is no horse left. There is an old adage to this effect, the truth of which is in-controvertible, says E. Russell in Farm Journal. Yet no port of a horse's anatomy is worse used than the feet, and there are no more frequent diseases brought to the notice of the veterinary surgeon than those of the feet. This comes of the unwise fashion of

This comes of the mwhile fashion of resping, cutting, burning, tarring and greasing the hoofs.

When a shoe is to be fitted the edge or wall sole should be prepared by cutting or rasping, not by burning, indeed, the shoe should be fitted to the foot and not the foot to the shoe.

When from bid management the sole and frog laye become fix and con-water and does not displace it.

Glyrerin contains no acid or nerid properties, but is soft, bland, emoilient and does not evaporate. It therefore softens the horn and allows the fibers to expand, Contraction is thus prevented or is overcome when it has actually occurred.

Stamping Out Hog Cholers. It is said that Council has rid itself f hog cholers by killing all hogs af-of hog cholers by killing all hogs affected, by quarantine inspection and by paying for these losses. In referring to this matter Veterinarian McNeil of the Iowa Agricultural college says:

"The only remedy is in sanitation and prevention by using this method. If your pigs become affected with scables or any of the minor skin affections, mate a small dip insit, or if that is too much expense simply each the pigs and take some disinfectant and seruh brash and clean up their faces and heals. Get all the matter away and then paint them with a lift the lodine. That helps to disinfect. the lodine. That helps to disinfect. This should be done from time to

Feeding Dairy Cattle.

Feeding Dairy Cattle.
Remember that mitt can be produced from feed only. The cow can tanke mitt only from the feed she consumes. The more feed the more mitts is an invariable rule. If the cow is a beef cow she will get fat, but if a milk cow every owner of feed she consumes except that needed to support the an-imal body will show in the milk pull. If you have the right cow, do not feed her stingily. Whoever heard of a man feeding a bunch of fattening steers scantily? Does the steer not have before him all the feed he can possibly eat and usually all he can waste? Then give the milk cow the same chance—Farmers Advocate.

Milk Value of Corn Fodder. Frials at the Vermont station show at there is no material difference in mlik producing value between lumature and mature corn fodder when compared on the basis of dry matter. The same results were secured with sliage made from mature and immisture corn. A pound of dry matter of the immature corn produced the same results as a pound of dry matter of the mature corn. This suggests that if corn is cut too early the farmer loses too many pounds, and, on the other hand, if cut too late too much in the way of coarse butts is wasted.

Keeping Squashes.

Many gardeners do not succeed in keeping squashes until late in the seeping squasses until late in the spring, but it is not difficult to hold them until June if all conditions are right. In the first place the squasses should be harvested before frost. They should be handled without bruising and stored where there is an even temperature. Either low or high tempera-tures are disastrous to the long keep-ing of this vegetable. The soft shelled, immature specimens should be used or sold in the fall.—National Stockman.

The Farm Driving Horse.

Every farmer should have a horse Every farmer should have a horse that the wife and daughter can ride and drive as well as the loops. In so-lecting such a horse choose one about fifteen hands and one or two inches high, weighing about 950 to 1,000 pounds. He should have a good even disposition and go equally well in harness or under saddle. Small horses are better than large ones for light driving. Their feet are apt to be firmer and finer in texture and more likely to remain sound.—Farm Journal.

apple tree in the orchard se examined for borers before frost gets into the ground. The knife and the wire method of exterminating these pests is old, but it is the surest. Neglect of this duty till spring may cost the orchard a number of valuable trees through girdling.

Care of the Colt.

Do not allow the colts to run out in the pasture until late in the autumn without giving proper care and so have them become stunted in growth and of become winned in ground in the state them up put them in the barn overnight a corresponding closely. The dog is said to live largely on lixards, smakes and other small ground vermin. even if they are allowed to run in the pasture in the daytime.

Pitcher Grant McGlynn.
Pitcher Grant McGlynn of the St.
Louis National league club is a vet-eran player and pitcher, though this is his first season as a major leaguer. McGlyon was born in Laucaster, Pa., on May 26, 1872, and learned to play on May 26, 1872, and learned to play ball in and near Harrisburg. Prior to joining the Cardinals in the fall of 1200 "Stoney," as he is called by players and patrons, pitched for Cumberland Valley, Penasyivania State and Tristate league teams. His best season was in 1904, when he won sixtyone out of sixty-eight games he twirled and batted 256. He pitched York Into the 1906 championship by winding thirty-six of his fortively games. uing thirty-six of his forty-six games. He joined the Cardimis last fall and at once made good. Cold weather af-fected his arm last spring, and he did not strike his stride until midseason Since then, however, he has done splendid work for the St. Louis club and is now regarded as one of the mainstays of that club's pitching staff

Hanton's Change of Heart.
Manager Hanton of Clacimust would elimitate the sacritice hit as the play is ordinarily made. Said he the other day: "If I made the rules I would forbid the sacritice hit with a man on first and no one out. It is not baseball. The play - purely a mechanical one and far removed from the scientific features that characterize the playing of championship teams. I don't say that the play is not a winning one. It that the play is not a winning one. It is a ron getter, but it is retarding the general advance of skilled play. What is prettier than the hit and run for the is prettler than the hit and run for the fellows boosting for the team at bat, or, on the other hand, what beats a fast double play in the eyes of the fans on the other side? I have siways said that a benting team could not be beaten," added Hanion, "but it is the unexpected plays that win. The speciators expect a sacrifice when one is due, as the game is now generally worked, and neither they nor the opposition is surprised." position is surprised."
