

The Call for Men.

Since God gave out that mysterious law which was set forth on the sixth day of creation, "Be ye fruitful and multiply and replenish the earth," there has been a call; a call of intense earnestness, as it issued from the very souls of men and women who compose tribes and nations. And the nearness of that one call is easily understood. It is a call for men who are capable, proficient, worthy and willing to take the right side of things and battle against wrong.

The world has produced men who have made a profound impression upon their age and whose deathless memories linger with us with a kind of pathetic, loyal devotion. But the great pity of it is, there has not been a sufficient number to meet the various needs and requirements of the world. There have been men but there has been a great lack of the right kind of men, men who will dare to do what pessimists argue against; men who are willing to climb the hill of difficulty and with masterly effort conquer all the foes of good and right; men who will stretch out a strong and sinewy arm in the protection of the strong against the weak; who will unceasingly battle from the first gray speck of dawn until the long, dark shadows of night spread like a huge canopy over land and sea; who will make a determined effort to cause the tide of civilization to tend toward that which is good and right.

The gifts to mankind have been improved and modernized to such an extent that the little steam engine which James Watt built in 1768 has developed into the mighty railroad "jack" that pulls the long string of cars by with a mighty rush. It has joined the jagged peak and rocks that face the mighty waters of the quaint Pacific to the gentle slopes of the storm-swept Atlantic. James Watt faced his calling and gave to mankind one of the greatest inventions the world has ever known, and one that is foremost in helping to cause the great illiteracy of nations to lessen; one that has caused the wasted deserts to blossom forth with thriving industries and comfortable homes.

The brave, the gallant, the impetuous George Washington won for himself a title that has rung out and will ring out in the ages to come, "The Father of his Country." He consecrated his life to the just and honorable cause of the American people. Actuated by the principle of honor and his own love for freedom, he gave the very best there was in him to the best interests of his countrymen. He braved the fierce fires of the Revolution and distilled in the alembic of America the most precious elixir of the ages, "American Liberty." He did not shrink from his call and duty. He was willing to answer any and every call that his country put upon him.

The young men of today often look up and breathe a sigh and say, "Oh, if I only had the opportunity and era to live in that great heroes of the past have had, how great a man I could be." Young men, there is a need for you. Somewhere in the ranks of human activity there is a vacancy that can be filled only by you.

Mr. Johnson Dead.

Mr. R. W. Johnson, a most highly respected citizen of the town, died at 3 o'clock Saturday afternoon at his home in West Asheboro. He was stricken with congestive chill early Friday morning and becoming unconscious late in the afternoon remained so until death relieved him. The deceased is survived by a widow and six children.

Short services were held by his pastor, Rev. Mr. McMillan, at his home Sunday at 2 p. m. After this Mr. S. G. Garvin and his pastor accompanied the remains to Pitts, Ga., where the interment will take place.

Mr. Johnson came to Asheboro from Robeson county. He was the land timber inspector for the Southern Railway and was one of the most trustworthy and reliable men in their employ.

Demosthenes, Socrates, Diogenes

and the men of the past have had their place. They have completed their chapter in the volume of human fate. Now is your time. Around on every side is seen the need, yes, the need of men. In every field of industrial activity there is an opening. Your community needs you, a strong and valiant warrior, and one who will fight the prevailing bad influences; who will uphold the laws of the community. Your State needs men; it must have them. Shall every youth in our glorious "Old North State" lay his life on the altar of dissipation and ruin and let our State perish for the lack of efficient men? Or shall we make a determined effort to have all the youths of the land practice that which is right and helpful in the sight of God and man and show to the world the greatest State and National prosperity that has ever existed?

I long to see the time when all corrupt practices are suppressed; a time when the whole Nation will take on new life and rustle her new formed leaves of honesty, virtue and liberty in a gentle and soothing wing of purpose and zeal formed by inspiration of true men; a time when the whole atmosphere will be permeated with the fragrant perfume of America's greatest possession—Liberty—a time when the thundering roar of the mighty ocean's breakers and the quiet, peaceful lapping and rippling of the tiny rivulet seem to unite in proclaiming the glory of a new era; a time when the gorgeous splendor of the snow-capped peaks try to rival the beautiful green covered valleys in showing forth their beauty for mankind; a time when every inhabitant within the borders of our fair country, the "Queen of the West," from the great lakes on territory is lost in the receding waters of the north until or vast expanse of forest in the receding waters of the Gulf of Mexico, from the highest peaks to the lowest plains, from the water-worn cliffs facing the calm and peaceful waters of the quiet Pacific to the treacherous shoals and rocks of the storm-swept Atlantic join in with Woodrow Wilson in ever swelling chorus, and the little birds seem to echo in their sweetest strain that grand and glorious old song: My country 'tis of thee sweet land of Liberty, of thee I sing; Land where my fathers died, land of the pilgrims' pride, From every mountain side let freedom ring.

USE OF LEMONS. How They May Be Used.

A few drops of lemon juice in a glass of drinking water will kill any typhoid germs that may be in the water, and make the drinking immune from typhoid fever.

There are a great many things that lemons are good for besides making the refreshing lemonade.

Most every one knows that to take hot lemonade when going to bed is good to break up a cold. Not so many may know that juice of half a lemon in a cup of black coffee, without any sugar, will cure sick headache.

To take a strong, unsweetened lemonade before breakfast will also prevent and cure a bilious attack.

To take lemon juice mixed very thick with sugar will relieve that annoying, tickling cough.

If you drink a glass of water with lemon juice squeezed in it every morning it will keep your stomach in good order and prevent you from having dyspepsia.

When you have a bad headache, rub slices of lemon along the temple, and it will soon give relief.

It is good if a bee or insect stings you to put a few drops of lemon juice on the spot.

To saturate a cloth with lemon juice and bind on a cut or wound will stop its bleeding.

If your fruit juices, such as cherry, strawberry, etc., do not jelly, pour in a few drops of lemon juice to do it, and it will cause them to jelly.

Lemon juice and salt is good to remove iron rust.

If you wish to use a lemon that you rub it with lemon, after taking a hot bath, and out away the corn.

Now, if you want to have a beautiful complexion squeeze lemon juice into a quart of milk and rub it on your face night and morning.

There are many useful things that lemons will do for you if you only know what they are and try them. They should be used more freely than they are in most homes, and they might save you doctor bills.

If you wish to use a lemon that is drying up, drop it into boiling water a few minutes and it will become soft.

When you have a bilious attack give Chamberlain's Tablets a trial. They are excellent. For sale by all dealers.

New Pastors.

Last week The Courier published a list of all the appointments of the Western North Carolina Conference of the M. P. Church, South, and the appointments of the North Carolina Conference of the M. P. church.

Rev. J. T. Barber, the popular pastor of the Asheboro Methodist church, is succeeded by Rev. J. E. Thompson, formerly presiding elder of the Salisbury district, and for many years pastor of the leading Methodist church in High Point. Rev. T. M. Johnson, who has for five years faithfully served as pastor of the Asheboro M. P. church, goes to another field of labor. Rev. T. J. Ogburn is the new pastor of the Asheboro church. While these two churches regret to give up their old pastors, they are glad to know that two of the best preachers in the two conferences will make their home with our people.

The people of Asheboro and vicinity are glad to see Rev. C. E. Whitaker returned to the Asheboro circuit of the M. P. church, and the Methodist churches of West End and West Chapel are equally pleased with their pastor.

Rev. W. E. Swain, who has for five years been president of the North Carolina conference, has been assigned to the Mebane station. For several years before he was president he was pastor of the Asheboro church. When he moved to Asheboro his children were all small, now three of them are grown. He and his good wife and interesting family of children have added much to that which has made life worth the more for those living in Asheboro. They built a comfortable home and have formed many attachments and associations, now only to break away from and leave. Mr. Swain has sold his home to Mr. S. W. Pressnell, who will move his family from Rickland township to Asheboro. Mr. Pressnell will engage in business as a partner with Mr. R. R. Ross in the sale of horses and mules.

You will find that druggists everywhere speak well of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. They know from long experience in the sale of it that in cases of coughs and colds it can always be depended upon, and that it is pleasant and safe to take. For sale by all dealers.

Platform and Resolutions of the Democrats of Randolph County.

We, the Democrats of Randolph county in convention assembled, believe in the rule of the people, and declare the following for the guidance of the nominees of this convention:

We heartily endorse the National and State Democratic platforms.

We invite those who believe in the principles enunciated in our platform to unite with us in electing our national leader and great chief, Mr. Woodrow Wilson, and our beloved and distinguished orator and statesman, the captain of our forces in the State, the Hon. Locke Craig, who is at the head of the ticket on which the distinguished citizen and brave Confederate soldier, Col. W. P. Wood, of our own county, is also a nominee of the Democratic party for a high office.

We favor rigid economy in every department of our government and especially so in the administration of county matters.

We congratulate the people of the State and county on the honest and economical administration of public affairs and especially are we gratified at the record of the Democratic party in Randolph county. We pledge a continuance of the honest and economical administration of the affairs of the county if our party nominees are re-elected, and if we are again entrusted with the duties of public office.

We endorse the Turbena land title system and declare that it is in the sense of this convention that the General Assembly enact a law so that those who desire to avail themselves of its advantages may do so.

That State and county convicts should be put to work on the roads.

We favor a legalized primary for the election of public officials. We favor salary for the register, clerk of the Superior Court, or a substantial reduction of fees, if after a careful and accurate investigation it is found that there would not be a sufficient saving to the county to justify a change to the salary basis. If event it is not found, after a thorough and accurate investigation that the salary system is a substantial saving to the county, we favor the reduction of the compensation of the county treasurer to one per cent on all school funds and to two per cent on all other funds coming into his hands, on which the law allows commission. And that fees of the register of deeds paid by the county be reduced substantially and the same be done as to the clerk of the Superior Court.

To the end that the actual income of the county officers may be ascertained we request that the register of deeds and clerk of the Superior Court make out a sworn and itemized report of fees and perquisites of their respective offices for the three months ending Dec. 9, 1912, and for the three months ending Feb. 9, 1913, the same to be approved by the county attorney, and filed with the board of county commissioners within three days after the expiration of the two aforesaid periods.

That the sheriff of the county is requested to keep a list and report likewise as to all fees and perquisites of his office except commissions he receives, which are ascertained and determined by the settlement of the sheriff and are known as a matter of record.

The board of commissioners are to investigate the income of all other officers for the last two years, etc., of each official by Jan. 10, 1913.

We heartily endorse the forward movement and educational progress in the county and favor an economical administration of the public matters, cutting down administration expenses where possible.

We favor a change in the present system of assessment and listing of property.

We are in favor of a system of good roads extending throughout the county and throughout the State, and to his end we favor State and National aid to the building of good roads.

We pledge ourselves to the enactment of laws favoring the reform demanded in these resolutions.
