COOKING RECIPES.

Raised Biscuit.—Form individual portions of white bread milk dough. If wanted later than when the bread is baked, either set aside in a cool place or reheat for dinner or breakfast, moistening slightly and placing in a very moderate oven to renew crispness.

For Strawberry Shortcake.—Add a beaten egg and a tablespoonful of sugar to bakin' powder biscuit dough or use it plain. Cobblers also may be made by filling up deep baking-dish with fruit, such as peaches or apples, and covering the top with plain biscuit crust. They are more healthful and easier to make than pies.

Poppers.—Mix two cupfuls of flour, four eggs, beaten directly into the flour, two cupfuls of milk, half a teaspoonful of salt. Beat thoroughly till all lumps disappear. Bake in old-fashioned iron gem-pans, which should be warmed before greasing, from thirty to forty minutes in a moderately hot oven.

Parker House Rolls.—To three pints of flour, add one pint of scalded milk, one teaspoonful of salt, one tablespoonful of sugar, half a cupful of butter and one dissolved yeast-cake. Mix as for bread, kneading as usual. Let rise and cut down twice. Roll out into a sheet half inch thick; cut out in rounds which should be folded over and brushed with melted butter. Bake the edges lap. Let rise for an hour, bake twenty minutes in a hot oven.

Egg Muffins.—Use two cupfuls of flour, add one cupful of milk, one level teaspoonful of salt, two eggs, three level teaspoonfuls of baking powder and three tablespoonfuls of melted butter. Mix and sift the dry ingredients. Add the beaten yolks of two eggs, butter and milk. Fold in the stiffly-beaten whites. Sugar may be added, if desired. Bake fifteen minutes in a hot oven.

Berry Muffins.—To batter for egg muffins, add a cupful of floured berries. Nuts make delicious muffins; also raisins, dates, currants and figs. Serve piping hot, with butter.

Rice Muffins.—Scald one pint of milk, add to it a tablespoonful of butter and allow to cool. Dissolve half yeast-cake in a quarter cupful of warm water and add this; then stir in two eggs and three cupfuls of flour with which a teaspoonful of salt has been sifted. Lastly, heat in the mixture a cupful of cold boiled rice. Let stand over night and take in gem pans in a quick oven.

Cereal Muffins.—Almost any combination of cold cooked cereal may be used with the corn meal in the following proportions: One cupful of meal, one cupful of cereal, half a cupful of milk, one egg, two level teaspoonfuls of baking powder, two tablespoonfuls of melted butter and half a teaspoonful of salt. Hominy, rice, wheat and oatmeal lend themselves well to this method of using left-over cereals.

Griddle Cakes.—These are best made of sour milk and leavened with soda, one level tablespoonful to a pint of sour milk. Sweet milk with a teaspoonful of baking powder allowed for each cupful of flour or other filling, may be used instead. Allow one egg for each cupful of flour.

Buckwheat Cakes.—Mix two cupfuls of buckwheat flour, half a cupful of white flour or corn meal, half a teaspoonful of salt, two cupfuls of boiling water, half a yeast-cake. Let stand overnight. In the morning, add half a cupful of milk in which a quarter teaspoonful of soda is dissolved. A tablespoonful of molasses may be added before cooking.

Fritters.—For fruit fritters, make a batter consisting of one cupful of flour, two tablespoonfuls of sugar, a pinch of salt, two eggs, half a cupful of milk, the grated rind of a lemon, or a teaspoonful of vanilla flavoring. Dip the pieces of fruit in this batter, fry in hot fat, and serve with a sweet hot sauce. For fish, oyster, clam, tripe or vegetable fritters, leave out sugar and flavoring and put in a dash of cayenne pepper. Season these before dipping in batter. Corn is cut from the cob and mixed with the batter.

INTERNATIONAL SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

(By O. E. SELLERS, Director of Evening Department The Moody Bible Institute of Chicago.)

LESSON FOR MAY 17 THE RICH MAN AND LAZARUS.

LESSON TEXT.—Luke 16:14-15; 19-21. GOLDEN TEXT.—"Whoso stoppeth his ears at the cry of the poor, he shall also cry, but shall not be heard." Prov. 21:13.

Verses 14 and 15 link this parable with the teaching of Jesus about covetousness and stewardship. Verse 15 is a most heart-searching one. It demands that we look well to the standards by which we measure our conduct, I Sam. 16:7. That the teaching of Jesus was effective is evidenced by the statement of verse 14. These Pharisees were naturally cool, cynical, calculating and their scoffing shows that Jesus had probed them deeply. Their love of money—service of mammon—made them unfaithful in their professed stewardship. In the intervening verses (16-18) Jesus condemns their attitude of seeking to justify themselves in the sight of men, declaring such an attempt to be useless in the sight of God. The methods men exalt are an abomination to him. No jot or tittle of the law can fail. This he emphasizes by an illustration about the binding nature of the marriage relationship. We get our suggested two-fold division of this lesson from I Tim. 4:8.

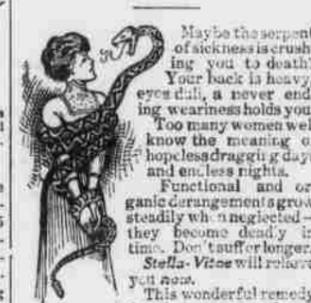

Why He Is Condemned. I. The Life That Now Is, vv. 19-22. The revised version for verse 19, "now there was a certain rich man"—indicates even stronger than the King James version that this is the story of a historical incident. Jesus did not mention the rich man's name, nor does he enumerate his moral delinquencies. Even morality cannot save a man from punishment in the next life. Nor is this rich man condemned because he is rich. He is condemned because he sought to enjoy his pleasures in this life, squandering his time and his money upon sensual pleasures, ignoring the need of those at his door. Jesus had just told these Pharisees how to use money (v. 9), see I Tim 6:17-19. A wrong use of money damns a man. A few paltry charities or even larger gifts given for ostentatious display will not suffice. There was, however, no real joy to the rich man in his life as he sought sensual satisfaction. Eccl. 1:8. Lazarus lying at the door was a living rebuke to his self-indulgence. Here is another of those vivid pictures that not alone reveals the misery but makes an indelible impression on the mind. It is better, however, to be a beggar, sore and hungry in this life and go to heaven hereafter, than to enjoy the pleasures of sin for a season and be forever in torment in the life to come. The name Lazarus means "God his help" and is an indication of his character. It did not look as though God was "mindful of his own" but the sequel abundantly corrects such an idea.

Positions Reversed. II. The Life Which Is to Come, vv. 23-31. Unconscious of the need of others here the rich man is very much conscious of his own need in hades when subject to torment and anguish. There is no need of trying to minimize or to "explain" nor to deny these words of Jesus. Hell is for the willfully disobedient, and was never prepared for man (Matt. 25:41). On earth he saw Lazarus "at his gate," now with Abraham, resting "in his bosom." Their positions are reversed, the petitioner is now the rich man who begs for "mercy," though in life he showed none at all. His plea was for his tongue; that organ had been pampered in life but now it is in misery, because deprived of earthly satisfaction. The solemnity of this lesson is very great. As we have suggested Luke does not call this a parable. It is possible that Jesus' auditors knew the very people of whom he was speaking, some notoriously wealthy citizens recently deceased, and some well-known alms-seeker. For a moment our Lord withdraws the curtain to let those about him read the story, catch, for an instant, a glimpse. He shows us that the attitudes of today determine the destinies of tomorrow. The experience of life beyond death is determined by the use of the life "that now is." The gate of heaven is without our self-centered life and often takes the form of a beggar. To wrongly employ our wealth, to live within the gate of selfishness will shut the gate of heaven in our own faces. If we pass without that gate of selfishness and minister, presently we find we have made a friend in the life beyond. It is not the crumbs we give the beggar, that which we do not miss, it must be self-emptying service.

This lesson raises the question, "are the ruling desires of our lives such as shall develop gratification and satisfaction in the life to come?" If not, we do well to heed this story, Col. 3:1-2. Memory is also active in that future existence and it will be either a source of gratifying joy or else of unspeakable anguish. We are taught that education is largely developed out of memory and the Scripture tells us that as a man thinketh so is he. Prov. 23:7. Small wonder Paul should exhort us to think on holy things, Phil. 4:8, with such a prospect in view for all.

GARDEN NOTES.

Snap Beans. Repeat plantings of snap beans such as Early Round Pod Valentine and Stringless Green Pod, should be made about every two weeks so as to have a continuous supply of this vegetable.

Tomatoes. Seed may be planted now in open ground for your main crop of tomatoes, dropping them right where you intend for the tomato plants to stand. Plants for your early crop should be ready to plant in the open by the 15th of this month, however, in the meantime, push them in the beds and give them all the warm air possible in order to have them as hardy as you can get them before putting them in the open.

You can easily get three crops of tomatoes by planting seed again, the last of May or the first of June and late tomatoes are often as profitable as the early crop. Every person having a garden should plant enough tomatoes so they will have enough over table use to can all their family can use next winter. Tomatoes are very easily canned and are very convenient to have during winter.

Okra. Okra should be planted about the same time as cotton, being somewhat similar to it in its nature. We have found that early planting gives us very little advantage, for if the plants are stunted by cold they are very slow to recover, and seed planted a little later will catch up and pass them by. It is very important that land for okra be thoroughly prepared and the seed bed very fine. The seed should be dropped into freshly opened furrow by hand. Step each one so as to press it firmly into the soil before covering; then cover the same as you would corn and later knock off the surface just before the seed begins to come up.

Okra seed are very hard and slow to germinate, so that special pains must be taken in planting.

Dampness in Mines causes rheumatism and gradually weakens even a strong man; your blood must be purified and your general health improved.

Scott's Emulsion is a miner's greatest help; it is so medically perfect it promptly increases red, life-sustaining blood corpuscles to drive rheumatic aches and pains out of the joints and muscles and upbuild your strength—but it must be Scott's Emulsion.
