A CONFESSION

Hopes Her Statement, Made Public, will Help Other Women.

Hines, Ala.—"I must confess," says Mrs. Eula Mae Reid, of this place, "that Cardui, the woman's tonic, has done me a great deal of good."

Before I commenced using Cardui, I would spit up everything I ate. I had a tired, sleepy feeling all the time, and was irregular. I could hardly drag around, and would have severe headaches continuously.

Since taking Cardui, I have entirely quit spitting up what I eat. Everything seems to digest all right, and I have gained 10 pounds in weight."

If you are a victim of any of the numerous ills so common to your sex, it is wrong to suffer.

For half a century, Cardui has been relieving just such ills, as is proven by the thousands of letters, similar to the above, which pour into our office, year by year.

Cardui is successful because it is composed of ingredients which act specifically on the womanly constitution, and helps build the weakened organs back to health and strength.

Cardui has helped others, and will help you, too. Get a bottle today. You won't regret it. Your druggist sells it.

INTERNATIONAL SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

(By E. O. BELLERS, Director of Evening Department, The Moody Bible Institute, Chicago.)

LESSON FOR AUGUST 30

A DAY OF QUESTIONS.

LESSON TEXT—Matt. 23:23-28.
GOLDEN TEXT—"They say unto Him, Caesar's. Then said He unto them, render therefore unto Caesar the things that are Caesar's; and unto God the things that are God's." Matt. 22:17-21.

The title of this lesson suggests more than the portion of Scripture selected seems to warrant. We have seen in previous lessons how the Master condemned and denounced the rulers by his teaching in parables. This led the Pharisees to take counsel how they might ensnare him (v. 15). Three questions were asked, one political, one doctrinal and one ethical. Our next lesson deals with the third question.

Secret Methods.

I. The First Question, vv. 15-22. This parable of the wicked husbandman (ch. 21) seems to have been clearly understood by the Pharisees (v. 45). While it stung it did not bring them to repentance. The hardening effect of unaccepted truth is one of its most terrible results upon the human heart. The record tells us plainly (ch. 21:46) why these Pharisees were withheld from at once putting Jesus out of the way. They therefore resorted to secret methods and endeavored to bring him into conflict with the Roman government. The Pharisees entered into this plot to entangle Jesus with their most determined enemies, the Herodian party (Mark 12:13). It was a good scheme from their viewpoint to get Jesus to utter something treasonable and then to turn him over to Herod, who was a puppet of Rome. These Pharisees scorned to pay taxes to this same government with which they are now conniving. They began with words of smooth flattery (v. 16). The devil is never so subtle, so dangerous nor so malicious as when he flatters. Apart from Jesus each party would have given quite a different reply to this question. In fancy we can see them as they must have gloatingly exclaimed, "Now we will see him entrapped." If Jesus declared it illegal to pay tribute to Caesar they could at once formulate a charge of sedition against him. On the other hand, for him to declare it proper thus to pay tribute to a foreign government would seem to them for him to deny his messianic claim, according to their understanding of the messianic program. Calling for a Roman denarius, a legal taxpaying coin worth about 17 cents, he asked, "Whose is this image and superscription?" "Caesar's," they reply, and by those words they have caught themselves and not Jesus. His reply was, in effect, "Very well, you accept the money of Rome, you must by that act accept the responsibility which accompanies it." Jesus first of all denounces their hypocrisy and then exposes the folly of their question.

His Teaching is Plain.

II. The Second Question, v. 23-33. The rationalistic Sadducees, who did not believe in the resurrection at all, now try to entrap Jesus by questioning him along the line of their particular doctrine. The teaching of Jesus is plain and unequivocal as to the resurrection of the body and the immortality of the soul. Jesus seems in this reply rather to ignore the first and to strike at the second, which is more fundamental. Their plan of attack was very scholarly and philosophical and was designed to show the absurdity of his teaching and thus by ridicule discredit his standing. It is always a favorite way for those who quibble to imagine a supposititious case and then to put a subtle question. In this case our Lord, by one sentence demolished their well-planned attack. "Ye do err, not knowing the Scriptures, nor the power of God."

The Teaching. Jesus here shows us the true relation of himself and of his people to political questions. He recognizes the authority of human government and it is his will that his followers shall enjoy the liberties or privileges which that government has to offer; at the same time they are to submit themselves to its requirements under one clearly stated condition, viz, God's supreme will. In so far as the laws of the state are just and true and in harmony with the law of God it is the duty of Christian people to support and to obey them. Jesus would ally himself with neither party, thereby avoiding complicity with any measure of evil. We may likewise maintain a similar relationship with God and speak with authority in the correction of abuses, and in the direction of civic and national life.

We have purposely included the second question inasmuch as the next lesson concerns the third of this group, which ought to be studied as a whole. Jesus was ever ready to meet any question. He never equivocated, but lifts his answer out of the realm of the controversial into that of abiding principles. Jesus denounced the hypocrisy of his assailants, condemned their ignorance of the law they so loudly professed to obey and proclaimed at the same time the immortality of the soul and the resurrection of the body. He emphasizes man's responsibility to his government.

WE SHOULD BE GRATEFUL

Americans Will Feel Effect of War—Europe's Great Plight.

New York Herald.

In no pharisaical, better-than-thou spirit, but in all humility, Americans should be deeply grateful for the many and manifold blessings that are theirs today. We feel the effects of this European war in this country, are already feeling it. But when we ponder the plight of other peoples as peace-loving and as wedded to the arts of peace as ourselves, how pitifully small must our troubles appear in comparison!

Industry in every line is paralyzed throughout all Europe. Workers have been called to the battlefield. Money like men must devote itself to a supreme purpose of national defense.

Here industry goes on. If business in this country should become seriously affected the workers may yet feel the pinch of enforced retrenchment, but he will have the opportunity to see his labor in peace with knowledge that its fruits are going to the maintenance of the loved ones dependent upon him.

And the women! Premier Viviani's eloquent appeal to the women of France to harvest the growing crops bring home to us all that war means. As they have always done in the past, the splendid women of France will rise to the exigencies of the national need. And so, too, will the splendid women of Germany, and of Russia, of Austria, and of Servia. For the men the plough share and pruning hook have been converted into weapons of war, but the women and the children must take their places in the fields or nations will starve.

The theory of war is all wrong, but this is not the time to be debating theories. The tragic picture being unfolded before our eyes—the spectacle of a mighty continent in titanic conflict, with thousands of men slaughtered and tens of thousands facing certainty of death, while not sorrow alone but struggle for existence confronts their women and their children—should bring to all Americans not only realization of their own blessings but deepest sympathy for the kindred peoples now so sorely afflicted; a sympathy, which, when opportunity offers should be translated from thought and words into deeds.

THE HAND AT THE WHEEL

It matters not what course my ship may go
That leaves the port, 'neath skies so calm and clear;
Tho' later, threatening winds may wildly blow.
Of harm I have no fear.
The storm may beat with fury 'round my barque,
The ocean's spray up to the masthead leap,
The way be long, the night be starless, dark,
Secure my course I keep.
It matters not how swift may be the tide,
Tho' lightning cleave with lurid flame the sky;
But my ship will every storm outride;
On this I can rely.
Why there is such a flood of hope in me,
To doubting hearts I will this much reveal.
The hand that launched my barque on life's great sea
Is ever at the wheel. —Exchange.

Who Can Doubt Sworn Testimony of Honest Citizens?

Some time ago I began the use of your Swamp Root with the most remarkable results. For years I was almost a total wreck and was a great sufferer. The doctors who treated me made me believe that my great sufferings were due to female trouble. I was so bad at times I would faint away and had sinking spells. Finally a new doctor was called in and he said that I had kidney trouble and gave me medicine, of which I took several bottles. I obtained some relief from this, but I was getting weaker all the time. I could not sleep and suffered so much pain that my husband and children had to lift me in and out of bed. After this two friends sent me word to try Swamp Root which I did, and I am glad to state that the first dose gave me great relief. After taking the third dose I was helped into bed and slept half of the night.

I took several bottles of Swamp Root and I feel that I owe my life to this wonderful remedy. The two family doctors said that I could not live three months. I would have to be helped in and out of bed ten to twenty times every night. After taking Dr. Kilmer's Swamp Root for two days I was entirely free from getting up and could sleep soundly.

MRS. D. E. HILEMAN,
Tunnelton, W. Va.

Personally appeared before me, this 11th of September, 1909, Mrs. D. E. Hileman, who subscribed the above statement and made oath that the same is true true in substance and in fact.
