

THE COURIER

LOCAL AND PERSONAL

Asheboro, N. C., September 3, 1914.

Mr. Herbert Craig, of Raleigh, is the guest of Mr. Lacy Lewis.

Mr. Robert Cochran, of West End, was an Asheboro visitor Sunday.

Mr. Gus Hayworth, of Greensboro, spent Sunday in town.

A number of Asheboro people attended the protracted meeting at Flag Springs last Sunday.

Mr. F. King has bought Mr. C. C. Kime's interest in the firm of King & Kime in South Asheboro.

Misses Mabel and Hazel Spoon, of Ramseur, were week-end visitors in Asheboro.

The Randolph county Republican-Progressive convention will meet in the court house in Asheboro Saturday. A full county ticket will be selected and a new county chairman chosen.

The Deep River Mills at Randleman are making preparations to rebuild the part that was burned some time ago. Work will begin at an early date.

An improved road from Asheboro to Coleridge is needed badly. The road most used is in bad condition at many places—in fact it is almost impassable. A road could be built over the route with very little grading.

The Republican primaries for Randolph county were held last Saturday. Township committees were elected, candidates for Justices of the Peace named, delegates elected to the county convention, etc.

The Courier subscription list is growing rapidly. Scarcely a day passes but that several new subscribers are added to the list. No special inducements are being used to catch the subscriber—the paper is being sold on its merits.

The Courier man recently visited the Coleridge section and found crops looking fine, manufacturing establishments doing a good business and everybody in a good humor. Despite the continued dry weather the corn crop in that section is very good.

Sunday, the sixth, will be the day for the regular communion services at the M. E. Church, South. The pastor requests all Methodists, and others, who are not members of this church, and desire to become members, to get their church certificates to be announced at that service.

From present indications a large wheat and oats crop will be sown in the county this fall. The continued dry weather detained the farmers from plowing for several weeks, but now all teams available have been put to work and many acres are being turned this week.

The recent good rains have revived late gardens and many families are feasting off corn, beans, etc., that would not have been had the rain not come at the time it did. In many sections of the county an abundance of late corn was planted which would have been a complete failure but for the rain.

The Courier job office has been flooded recently with orders and some high grade work has been turned out. With few exceptions, your order will be filled and delivered to you the same day received. Nothing advertises a farmer's business more than to use stationery with his farm name printed on. Come in and see samples when you come to town.

Paul Byars, the victim of Isaac Randolph's gun at Randleman on Saturday of last week, died last Thursday night at his home in Randleman. No hope for his life was entertained from the time of the shooting. The funeral and burial was at Mt. Pleasant church Friday afternoon at five o'clock. Arrangements are being made to have Randolph's trial next week.

In making up a list of North Carolina's fast growing towns, Ramseur and Franklinville must not be overlooked. The cotton mills are running on full time and the capacity of the other business enterprises is taxed to the utmost. Several land sales conducted at Ramseur recently show that real estate is not to be given away.

Rev. J. Ed Thompson, pastor of the M. E. Church, South, has announced that a series of revival services will begin the thirteenth. Dr. C. W. Byrd, pastor of West Market church, Greensboro, will lead the services. The choirs of the different churches are invited to join in the song service. It is earnestly hoped that the church workers of the town will join in and make the meeting a blessing to the town.

Drs. G. F. Duncan and W. L. Jackson, of High Point, will leave Thursday for special study at Mayo's Celebrated Clinics at Rochester, Minn. Returning they will spend some time in Chicago and Cleveland, where Dr. Duncan will continue his surgical studies under Dr. Murphy, Ochner, Crile. They will probably be away about two months, returning about November 1. Messrs. A. T. Wishart and C. Kephart will accompany them on part of the trip, which will be made via automobile.

An interesting occasion is being planned for the meeting of the State Sunday School convention at Winston-Salem, September 15-17. Those who have seen the program pronounce it the best in many years. Each Sunday School in the state is requested to send two delegates. It is a well known fact that Randolph leads many of the counties in the state in Sunday School work, and why not again demonstrate this fact by sending to the State convention the largest number of delegates?

Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Underwood spent Tuesday night in Greensboro.

The Liberty theater has recently installed a player piano.

Miss Annie Fox left yesterday for Greensboro, where she has a position in Mrs. Tate's millinery store.

Mrs. E. B. Kearns has returned from a visit to relatives and friends at Farmer.

Mr. J. H. Swain, of Randleman, was among the visitors in Asheboro Saturday.

Advertising in The Courier will help your business because the paper has a large circulation among the people.

Miss Lula Lee, of Greensboro, has accepted a position in Asheboro, as stenographer for Attorney J. A. Spence.

Col. and Mrs. A. C. McAllister and daughter, Miss May, and Miss Maude Carson, of Charlotte, and Mr. Lacy McAllister left yesterday for Piedmont Springs to spend a few days.

The brick work on the new building for Mr. O. R. Fox's furniture store is now complete and the plastering of walls and carpenter work has been commenced. The building will probably be ready to be occupied in less than a month.

The members of the Methodist Episcopal church, South, Sunday School were given a lawn party at the parsonage Tuesday evening. A delicious feast was spread which all present enjoyed very much. This Sunday School is growing rapidly.

Plans have been drawn for a handsome new depot at Star to replace the one recently burned. The depot will be built after one of the company's standard plans and will be like the one at Mt. Gilead. The accommodation for handling passengers, freight, etc., will be far superior to the old depot.

The tower of Star suffered another loss by fire last Friday night when the wooden store buildings on Main Street were burned. The loss is about $2,000 with very little insurance. The origin of the fire is unknown. Several weeks ago the Norfolk Southern depot at this place was burned.

The regular September term of Randolph county superior court will convene in Asheboro Monday morning, the seventh. This term will be for criminal cases only. The docket is not very large. The most important case will be the Randolph murder trial which will probably be taken up about the middle of the week.

Work on the new gravel road from Ramseur to Seagrave has begun and rapid progress is being made. One force began work at Why Not and another at Ramseur. This road will go by way of Holly Springs, Moffitt's Mill, Erect, Yow's Mill and join the Asheboro-Pinehurst highway at Why Not. Capt. H. H. Kennedy, of Asheboro, has charge of the work at Why Not.

Monday was an unlucky day for the Norfolk Southern northbound passenger train No. 70. At Steeds, Mr. John A. Craven was assisting some people to board the train and in stepping off the rear he fell and broke his wrist. He was brought to Asheboro where he received medical attention. At Seagrave, M. J. B. Gallimore was crossing the track with a team of mules to a wagon when one of them became frightened and started up the track toward the train. The engine struck the mule killing him instantly.

Miss Connie Bell Auman and Mr. Irvin Cox were married at the home of Rev. J. S. Cox in Greensboro yesterday morning at about ten o'clock. Rev. Cox officiating. Immediately after the ceremony they left for a trip to New York, Philadelphia and other points in the North. They will be at home at Worthville after September 10th. Mr. Cox is the son of Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Cox and is now secretary and treasurer of the Riverside Mills, of Worthville; the bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alson Auman.

Miss Gladys Page delightfully entertained the Alpha Delta Club at her home on Sunset avenue Friday morning, complimentary to Miss Bonnie Auman, whose engagement has been announced. After a very interesting business meeting of the club, the guests assembled on the porch. While a guessing contest was engaged in, two little girls, Miss Elizabeth Moffitt and Flora Page Davis, came around the porch pulling a little wagon decorated in yellow and green paper, which was filled with many beautiful pieces of linen for the bride-to-be. A delicious salad course was served.

S. E. Coble, county agent, has arranged with the Department of Agriculture to have on exhibit in the show window of the McCrary-Redding Hardware Store the forms of four different silos and also a pattern of a dairy and horse barn and also a milk house, to be on exhibit for ten days, or through court week. It is hoped every farmer will visit and see those different forms of silos as the Department is very anxious to stimulate a lively interest among all the farmers of Randolph to get more and better cattle and to save more and cheaper food as the price of beef and the dairy cow are going higher every day.

While trying to escape from the convict camp 12 miles west of Asheboro on the Asheboro-Tabernacle road Tuesday, Harry Sorrell, of Waynesville, was shot and instantly killed by one of the regular guards. The young man was about twenty-four years old and was serving a 20-year sentence, having been sent up for manslaughter. The body was brought to Mr. O. R. Fox's undertaking establishment and embalmed by Mr. Laughlin, of High Point and is awaiting disposition by the State. Sorrell and another convict tried to escape and the guard shot at them, instantly killing Sorrell, but the other escaped. The bullet entered the left lower side of the back and came out in the neck.

What is probably the most perilous, hazardous and sensational performance ever conceived is called the "Death Ride," and is executed daily by the Great Reynard outside the show tents of the Sparks World Famous Shows, which are billed to entertain here Friday, September 18. The paraphernalia for this sensational act is so cumbersome and the space for its execution is so great that it is necessarily given as a free outside attraction, and takes place just after the street parade. The Great Reynard, in what is billed as the "Last Word in Human Hazard," rides down a hundred foot ladder incline while blindfolded, mounted insecurely on a top of a unicycle. The hazardous part of this marvelous performance lies in the fact that the Great Reynard is blindfolded and cannot see to maintain the perfect balance that is required in order to successfully accomplish this wonderful performance. Should he in the least lose his sense of direction or his balance he would fall from the ladder to the earth far below. This act is conceded to be the greatest thriller ever presented and the public are invited to witness it free just after the street parade.

DEATH OF MRS. SUSAN COLTRANE

Once again our hearts have been made sad and we have been made to realize that this world is only a temporary abiding place by the angel of death entering the home of Miss Janie Smith and wafting away to her heavenly home the spirit of Mrs. Susan Coltrane. She was born April 5, 1848, and died August 3, 1914, making her stay on earth 66 years and four months. During this time her greatest joy was in making other hearts happy. She was a member of New Union M. P. church, having professed faith in Christ in early life. Her health had been failing just one year, but she was very patient and bore her suffering well.

The deceased leaves two children, her husband having died some years ago. These children, Miss Janie and Mr. R. C. Smith, with a host of sorrowing friends and relatives followed the remains of the dear one to the Asheboro M. E. cemetery where the funeral was held Wednesday, August 7, at 11 o'clock, conducted by Rev. J. H. Stowe. A FRIEND.

IMPORTANT ANNOUNCEMENT

The Randolph Motor Company, successors to Younts-Luck Auto Co., have contracted for the Studebaker Car agency for Randolph and Montgomery counties. An interesting advertisement will appear next week.

BUFFALO-BROWN

One of the prettiest and most unique weddings of the season was solemnized last Thursday night at the cottage home of the groom, 507 Oakwood Avenue, Raleigh, Judge C. F. Koonce officiating. The contracting parties were Mr. James M. Buffalo, of Raleigh, and Miss Vila Luetta Brown, of near Asheboro. More than one hundred relatives and friends witnessed the ceremony and participated in the reception which followed. At nine o'clock the bridal party entered the parlor which was beautifully decorated with ferns and evergreens. The party marched to the strains of Mendelssohn's Wedding march, played by Mr. Peyton Brown. Misses Lena Curtis, of Liberty; Beulah Horn, of Steadman; and Ida Hamilton, of Mt. Gilead; and bridesmaids and Miss Trine Lee, of Raleigh, maid of honor. The groom was attended by Messrs. Ira Styles, Reuben Bradshaw and Charlie Curtis.

The unique feature of the wedding was that it was planned and carried out according to the ideas of the groom—to furnish his home according to his bride's taste and when all was ready take her there to be married. The young couple received more than one hundred wedding presents.

RANDLEMAN GRADED SCHOOL TO OPEN

The Randleman Graded Schools will open next Monday morning. A cordial invitation is extended to all patrons and friends of the school to attend the opening exercises at 8:45 o'clock, at which time we hope to have with us County Superintendent Bull and others.

All children who are within the limit of the law are expected to enter at the beginning of the school. All children living within the Randleman school district but outside of the corporate limits of the town who expect to get full benefit of the public school term proper should enter at the first of the school.

All parents having children for the first grade are especially urged to enter their children the first week of the school. On account of the crowded condition of this grade it is unjust and unsatisfactory to have new children entering each week, thus increasing the already heavy work of the primary teacher.

Hoping to have the hearty co-operation of all the people for a successful and satisfactory school year, I am Yours very truly,

R. C. Cox, Supt., Randleman Graded Schools.

IN LOVING MEMORY OF CAROL ISORA WILLIAMS

On Tuesday, August 18, 1914, at half-past twelve o'clock, the angel of death entered the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Williams and wafted away to her heavenly home the pure spirit of their oldest child, Carol Isora. She had only lived twelve years and eighteen days, but that was long enough for her to greatly endear herself to her devoted parents and the little brothers and with every one, young or old, with whom she met. Isora was never a strong child, but she was such a bright, affectionate little girl that everybody loved her. She was seriously ill for one week only but her suffering was intense. Young as she was, she was ever patient and submissive and her dear face was often illumined with smiles when her was racked with pain. All was done to prolong her stay here that loving parents and grandparents, friends and physicians could do, but all to no avail for God, who doeth all things well, needed another little angel to sing around his throne, so Isora left this world of suffering and went to be with Jesus.

The funeral and burial services were held at Flag Springs church on Wednesday, August 19, the same being conducted by Mrs. Milner Angel Cox.

The sympathy of the entire community goes out to the father and mother and all other relatives in this sad hour of bereavement. Isora, thou hast left us, And our hearts are filled with grief; But with Jesus thou art resting, There thy soul finds sweet relief; Sweetly resting there, So now dear loved ones, let us not grieve, For soon she'll beckon us to come, To live with her up there in Glory, So the parting will not be long; She's sweetly resting there.

A CIRCUS COMING

The Sparks World Famous Shows Headed This Way—Reports Credit This Circus With Being Greatly Enlarged and Now One of the Leaders in Their Line.

On last Thursday Mr. J. C. Tracey, General Advance Representative for the Sparks Shows was in town making contracts and paving the way for the coming of the big circus. Immense quantities of provisions of all kinds will be contracted for from our local merchants, and the grounds known as Fayetteville avenue circus lot was leased for Friday, September 18, which is the date the big show will exhibit here.

From now until show day hardly a day will pass but what one or more agents of the circus will be in town looking after details, promoting public interest and thoroughly advertising the surrounding country. This circus employs over fifty people in the department of publicity alone.

Mr. Tracey, who is a very genial gentleman, has in his possession many newspaper criticisms of the show and they all speak in glowing terms of the excellent entertainment given and the honorable methods employed by the show management in doing business with the public—no gambling or short change artists being allowed among its employees.

Our people will undoubtedly turn out en masse if the weather is at all favorable.

HAVE COURAGE, MY BOY, TO SAY NO

You are starting today on life's journey. Alone on the highway of life. You'll meet with a thousand temptations. Each city with evil is rife. This world is a stage of excitement. There's danger wherever you go. But if you are tempted in weakness, Have courage, my boy, to say no. The siren's sweet smiles may allure you, Beware of her cunning and art. Whenever you see her approaching, Be guarded and haste to depart. The billiard salons are before you, Decked out in their tinsel and show. Should you be invited to enter, Have courage, my boy, to say no. Be careful in choosing companions, Seek only the brave and the true; And stand by your friends when in trial, Near changing the old for the new; And when by false friends you are tempted, The taste of the winecup to know, With firmness, with patience and kindness, Have courage, my boy, to say no. The bright sparkling wine may be offered, No matter how tempting it may be, From poison that stings like an adder. My boy, have courage to flee. The gambling halls are before you, Their lights, how they dance to and fro; You may be invited to enter, Dou you have courage, my boy, to say no? In courage alone lies your safety, When you the long journey begin, And trust in your Heavenly Father. Will keep you unspotted from sin. Temptations will go on increasing, As streams from a rivulet flow, If you are true to your manhood, You'll have courage, my boy, to say no.

—W. L. CORCORAN, Old Forge, Ga.
