RANDLEMAN NEWS

Mr. Noah R. Hill, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. K. Hill, of Naomi, died Saturday, September 12, aged 30 years and 24 days. He leaves a wife, father and mother, two sisters to mourn, but not as those who have no hope. He was a good boy. He professed faith in Christ a few years ago and told his wife that he was going home. He was taken to Guilford county at the request of his wife and was buried in the Gethsemane Cemetery. We all bow in humble submission to Him who doeth all things well. The family have the entire sympathy of all who know them.

St. Paul Sunday School had their picnic last Saturday. If the weather was cold it didn't hurt any one's appetites as we could see. There were plenty of good things and a large crowd to eat them. There were over one thousand present and all had a fine time from 3:30 to 6:30. We got knocked out of our ice cream but got cold enough without it.

Mrs. H. G. Collins' brother and sister visited her last week. They were Mr. L. J. Johnson, of Wake county, and Mrs. R. H. Wilson.

The closing exercises of Prof. Fentress' singing class at St. Paul was just fine while all the classes could not be present that were expected. Mt. Vernon failed to show up as the weather was too bad. Mt. Lebanon was there in good time and so was Worthville. The day was well spent and the church filled to the gallery, and every one seemed to enjoy themselves. Mr. Fentress' classes seemed to be very much attached to him. He has done good work in Randleman and it will tell in eternity and may he ever sing the praises of Him who died for all.

MRS. BINGHAM DEAD

Brown, who took for his text the 13th verse of the 14th chapter of Revelations. She professed faith in Christ while quite young and lived a consistent member of the church at New Union. She bore her suffering with great patience, seeming to put her trust all in Christ.

She was the mother of seven children, six of whom survive, as follows: Mrs. Hattie Jackson, Asheboro, Route 2; Mrs. Lottie Sluder, Seagrave, Route 2; Messrs. W. H. Ledwell, Thomasville; Thomas Bingham, Mechanic; Marvin Bingham, Marotock; Charlie Bingham, who lived with her at the time of her death.

COTTON CROP CAN BE CARED FOR

Governor Locke Craig says that if a sufficient number of men in the state will co-operate by lending their money the cotton crop can well be taken care of. His plan is as follows:

To form a corporation with $1,000,000 capital authorized and around $250,000 subscribed; loan money on cotton to seven cents a pound; in case of sales of stored cotton for over ten cents the excess to be divided equally between warehouse company and grower; borrowers to pay in 10 per cent of amount borrowed as stock; notes secured by cotton to run six months and bear interest at six per cent.

TEACHING CHILDREN TO BE KIND

Most parents think they are teaching their children to be kind, but are they?

I was in a home recently where there was a pet cat. The married son and his wife were staying there and they had a little girl two years old. One morning the child came into the sitting room and picked up the cat and put her arms around it and squeezed it. My hostess took the cat and put it out of doors. The child cried a little. The mother of the child said: "Never mind, baby, when the kittens out in the woodshed get big you can squeeze them all you want to."

Children frequently see their elders strike animals. If we had no other way of finding out this fact we should know it from watching children play. Children when riding a stick will jerk and whip it. It is the first impulse of a child when anything happens to strike the offending object.

Children are merely copyists. They do what they see their parents do. When they are small they have tender hearts and a strong sense of justice. A very young child when anything goes wrong feels nothing but grief. It is the training of parents that hardens children, dries up their well of sympathy and turns their thoughts unconsciously toward revenge. I saw a very little child once that had fallen out of a chair and hurt itself and it cried quietly. The father came into the room and said: "We will whip the mean old chair for hurting baby," and then the child gleefully whipped the chair. When children have such training no one need wonder that there is so much cruelty in the world. It they were properly taught by example and precept, they would realize that it is not right to torture any of God's creatures.—Anna Lillian Swett.

AS TO PARTNERSHIPS

The last legislature made some important changes in the law relative to partnerships which our readers will do well to look over. The law went into effect the first day of July and a penalty is now hanging over those who have not complied with its provisions. The new law reads as follows:

No person or persons shall hereafter carry on, conduct or transact business in this state under assumed name, or under any designation, name or style other than the real name or names of the individual or individuals owning, conducting or transacting such business, unless such person or persons shall file in the office of the clerk of the superior court of the county or counties in which such person or persons own, conduct or transact such business, or maintain an office or place of business, a certificate setting forth the name under which such business is owned or is to be conducted or transacted, and the true or real full name or names of the person or persons owning, conducting or transacting the same, with the home and post-office address or addresses of said person or persons. Said certificate shall be executed and duly acknowledged by the person or persons so owning, conducting or intending to conduct said business: Provided, that the selling of goods by sample or through traveling agents or traveling salesmen or by means of orders forwarded by the purchaser through the mails, shall not be construed for the purpose of this act as conducting or transacting business so as to require the filing of said certificates.

The clerk of the court is required to keep an alphabetical index of all complying with the law and a certified copy of the record in his office shall be prima facie evidence of the truth of all statements contained therein in any court in the state.

Sow Crimson Clover and Save Fertilizer Bills

The indications are that prices of fertilizer the coming season will be much higher than usual, owing to the fact that the supply of fertilizer materials will be largely cut off on account of the European war. This should cause farmers everywhere to put land in crops that will save fertilizer bills. Nothing will do this better than Crimson Clover. It is unquestionably one of the best soil-improvers that can be put in, and wherever it is grown, it gives largely increased crops of corn, cotton and tobacco.

We have secured more liberal supplies of Crimson Clover than was expected and will be able to sell at much more reasonable prices than was anticipated.

WOOD'S CROP SPECIAL gives full and interesting information about the fertilizing value of Crimson Clover; also about other seeds for fall sowing. Write for Crop Special and prices of any seeds required.
