SAVES DAUGHTER

Advice of Mother no Doubt Prevents Daughter's Untimely End.

Ready, Ky.—"I was not able to do anything for nearly six months," writes Mrs. Laura Bratcher, of this place, "and was down in bed for three months. I cannot tell you how I suffered with my head, and with nervousness and womanly troubles. Our family doctor told my husband he could not do me any good, and he had to give it up. We tried another doctor, but he did not help me. At last, my mother advised me to take Cardui, the woman's tonic. I thought it was no use for I was nearly dead and nothing seemed to do me any good. But I took eleven bottles, and now I am able to do all of my work and my own washing. I think Cardui is the best medicine in the world. My weight has increased, and I look the picture of health. If you suffer from any of the ailments peculiar to women, get a bottle of Cardui today. Delay is dangerous. We know it will help you, for it has helped so many thousands of other weak women in the past 50 years. At all druggists.

That Was Not in His Line.

The man who learns many languages does not always enlarge his mind. A porter in a Swiss hotel who spoke many languages with equal facility and accuracy, was once asked what was his native tongue. He replied that he did not know, but that he spoke all languages. "But in what language do you think?" asked the persistent questioner. "I never think was the prompt reply.—Tooth's Companion.

Process of Milking.

I do not know that the process of milking has ever been described. The forefinger first clasps the upper part of the teat, and then the middle, ring and little fingers, in rapid succession, so as to drive the milk before them through the orifice. The knack is rather difficult to acquire, and at first very wearying to the hands, though this soon passes.—From "A Farmer's Note Book," by C. E. D. Phelps.

Trinidad's Mangrove Trees.

The mangrove tree, which is found in Trinidad, has many peculiarities. For one thing, its seeds germinate on the branches, and when the shoots are considerably grown they fall off and take root in the mud. As the young tree grows it sends out fresh roots from its trunk and lower branches, until at last the tree seems to be supported by a network of roots, or complicated series of arches, in the midst of which crabs, aquatic birds and insects take up their abode.

INTERNATIONAL SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

(By E. O. SULLIVAN, Director Sunday School Course, Moody Bible Institute, Chicago.)

LESSON FOR OCTOBER 18

IN THE GARDEN OF GETHSEMANE.

LESSON TEXT—Mark 14:32-42. See also Luke 22:39-46.
 GOLDEN TEXT—Watch and pray, that ye enter not into temptation. Matt. 26:41 R. V.

The account of Peter's boast (v. 28-30), a common but highly significant story, forms the connecting link, in Mark's Gospel, between this and last Sunday's lesson. After singing the hymn v. 5 (the Hallelujah), Jesus and his disciples left the upper room.

I. Into the Garden, vv. 32-35. No other passage in history so moves the human heart with reverential awe. Somewhere outside Jesus left eight disciples. He took three, his closest friends, and resolutely entered the darkness. Our record tells us that he was "amazed and sore troubled" and there is a hint of his humanity suggested by the fact that he should confess the same to the disciples. These three had been with him on the Mount of Transfiguration there to behold his glory. Now they are to see the depths of Divine self-abnegation. He trod the winepress alone, however, for he "went forward a little" (v. 35).

The Master's Prayer.
 II. Praying, vv. 36-38. The Master's prayer was in reality a prayer of triumph; a prayer which enables us to apprehend, in part at least, his suffering and a suggestion of his coming glory. It is easier to appreciate and to understand his prayer than it is to comprehend his glory. The resolute abandonment of himself to the will of his Father is one of the awe-inspiring facts of history.

Jesus asked for this cup, drank it and passed on to Calvary. In the midst of his agony he is strengthened, Luke 22:43. Returning, he found the three disciples sleeping. Peter, who had made such boastful avowals of fealty (vv. 29, 30) and who is about to undergo, and to fall, is addressed in tender reproach, "Simon, sleepest thou. Couldst thou not watch one hour?" Then addressing the three, he said, "watch, and pray that ye enter not into temptation; the spirit indeed is willing, but the flesh is weak."

Found No Comforters.
 III. Again praying, vv. 39-42. Again he passes into the loneliness of that midnight hour. Again we hear his triumphant psalm of prayer. This time he returns and finds the disciples heavy with deep sleep. This is a fulfillment of Ps. 69:20, "I looked for comforters and found none." His gentle reproach goes unanswered. For a third time he enters the trial and returning commands the disciples to sleep on and take their rest.

There is little doubt that between his permission "sleep on" and the declaration "It is enough" that the Savior, in wakeful loneliness, watched over the sleeping disciples. At last he roused them for the enemy, headed by Judas, were at hand. Their dearly bought sleep was short and we can imagine the confusion caused by the torch-bearing mob. The Man of sorrows is calm in this hour after his victory in prayer. The disciples, not likewise strengthened, flee away.

The Supreme Value of this story lies in the effect it may produce upon each one who comes to know it. To one it does not speak at all, to another, it melts the heart and brings tears to the eye.

While he felt the sense of all through which he was passing, yet he did not once hesitate, John 12:27, 28, never for one moment faltered in his cooperation with the complete will of God. Again we are compelled to bow the head with reverence before his marvelous patience with the disciples. Nowhere else have we found a record that will surpass this picture, especially the latter end, as we see him patiently waiting and watching while they slept. The words of the Psalmist are brought to mind:

Like as a father pitieth His children,
 So the Lord pitieth them that fear Him.
 For He knoweth our frame,
 He remembereth that we are dust.

Conscious of his approaching passion, conscious of the strain of the coming hours of that fateful last day, halting on the pathway of his sorrows, he gives his disciples time for repose. While we contrast his self-sacrifice and their selfishness, yet, when we study our own lives, we hardly dare to criticize. We are, however, impressed with the marvelous privilege they allowed to slip from them.

The Golden Text was spoken after the first period of prayer. These words were spoken in tender compassion and in full recognition of the weakness of the disciples: He knew them altogether, the whole truth about each one. That they desired fellowship with him we feel confident, yet they, even as we so often likewise, failed. Let us then endeavor to observe and obey his injunction, "Keep awake, and pray ye enter not into temptation." Not that we shall be kept from temptation, but as in the disciples' prayer, we should pray, "Lead us not into temptation."

SALTS IF KIDNEYS OR BLADDER BOTHER

Harmless to flush Kidneys and neutralize irritating acids—Splendid for system.

Kidney and Bladder weakness result from uric acid, says a noted authority. The kidneys filter this acid from the blood and pass it on to the bladder, where it often remains to irritate and inflame, causing a burning, scalding sensation, or setting up an irritation at the neck of the bladder, obliging you to seek relief two or three times during the night. The sufferer is in constant dread, the water passes sometimes with a scalding sensation and is very profuse; again, there is difficulty in voiding it.

Bladder weakness, most folks call it, because they can't control urination. While it is extremely annoying and sometimes very painful, this is really one of the most simple ailments to overcome. Get about four ounces of Jad Salts from your pharmacist and take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast, continue this for two or three days. This will neutralize the acids in the urine so it no longer is a source of irritation to the bladder and urinary organs which then act normally again.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, harmless, and is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and is used by thousands of folks who are subject to urinary disorders caused by uric acid irritation. Jad Salts is splendid for kidneys and causes no bad effects whatever.

Here you have a pleasant, effervescent lithia-water drink, which quickly relieves bladder trouble.

A MIXUP IN CRANFORD'S WILL

Will of W. L. Cranford is so Badly Mutilated That It Cannot Be Read.

It is reported in Greensboro that a law suit has been instituted for possession of the estate of W. L. Cranford, whose suicide was reported in last week's Courier.

What is supposed to be Cranford's will was filed for probate last Tuesday. The document bears date of July 20th, 1911, is in Cranford's handwriting and was witnessed by one person. By this will, Mrs. Eva Tyson, who later became Mrs. Cranford, was to receive all the property. Mr. Cranford and Mrs. Tyson wasn't married until a little more than two years after the date of the will.

On the back of the will is written and smeared with ink what is supposed to be a second will in which a Miss Coltrane, niece of Mr. Cranford, was to have all the property.

A later report says that Mrs. Cranford has qualified as administratrix of the estate and the will was not offered for probate because, having been made before Cranford's last marriage, it was invalid; and furthermore it could not be proven that the paper was Cranford's will.

GRAY HAIR BECOMES DARK, THICK, GLOSSY

Look years younger! Try Grandma's recipe of Sage and Sulphur and nobody will know.

Almost everyone knows that Sage Tea and Sulphur, properly compounded, brings back the natural color and lustre to the hair when faded, streaked or gray; also ends dandruff, itching scalp and stops falling hair. Years ago the only way to get this mixture was to make it at home, which is messy and troublesome.

Nowadays we simply ask at any drug store for "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound." You will get a large bottle for about 50 cents. Everybody uses this old, famous recipe, because no one can possibly tell that you darkened your hair, as it does it so naturally and evenly. You dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair disappears, and after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully dark, thick and glossy and you look years younger.
