"MOONLIGHT" SCHOOLS IN KENTUCKY

The object of the "Moonlight" schools of Kentucky is the reduction of adult illiteracy. The story of the attempt begun in September, 1911, by Mrs. Cora Wilson Stewart, Superintendent of Schools in Rowan County, Kentucky, and her associates follows.

Having studied carefully the conditions of the county, Mrs. Stewart decided to open night schools for adults on moonlight nights in public schoolhouses of the county. All the teachers of the county responded. On Labor Day, September 4, 1911, these teachers visited the homes of the people throughout the county, explained the plan, and announced that moonlight schools would be open the next evening. It was expected that the response would be slow, but more than 1,200 men and women from 18 to 86 years old were enrolled the first evening. They came trooping over the hills and out of the hollows, some to add to the meager education received in the inadequate schools of their childhood, some to receive their first lessons in reading and writing. Among these were not only illiterate farmers and their illiterate wives, sons, and daughters, but also illiterate merchants or "storekeepers," illiterate ministers and illiterate lumbermen. Mothers, bent with age, came that they might learn to read letters from absent sons and daughters, and that they might learn for the first time to write to them. Almost one-third of the population of the county was enrolled.

In September, 1912, a "moonlight school" teachers' institute was held in Morehead, Ky., and the superintendent and teachers who had conducted the first moonlight schools instructed others who wished to do work of this kind in Rowan and adjoining counties, and in the fall of 1912 the movement spread to eight or ten other counties, while the enrollment of adults in Rowan county reached nearly 1,600.

The success of the men and women proves that it is not so difficult for illiterate grown-ups to learn to read and write as is generally supposed. They learn in a very short time, if given the opportunity. Reading, writing, and arithmetic are simple subjects when mature minds are concentrated upon them. One man, aged 30, after four lessons in the evening school, wrote the county superintendent a legible letter. Another man, aged 50, wrote a legible letter after seven nights' attendance. A woman, aged 70, wrote a legible letter after eight nights of study. These cases are, of course, exceptional; but experience has shown that a few weeks' attendance at the night schools has been sufficient to enable the adult pupils to pass over the dark line of illiteracy and to get into the class of literates. Several succeeded in securing a Bible, which had been offered as a prize by the superintendent to those who would learn to write a letter during the first two weeks of the moonlight school term.

One of the significant facts brought out in this experiment is that adults of limited education have taken advantage of the opportunity to return to school and to increase their knowledge. Of the 1,600 adult pupils attending night school during the second term, 300 were unable to read and write at all, 300 were from those who had learned in September, 1911, and 1,000 were men and women of meager education.

The change in the attitude of the community toward the school, where the night school has been undertaken, is in itself significant. A school trustee thus describes the change in his community:

"I have lived in this district for 55 years and I never saw any such interest as we have here now. The school used to just drag along, and nobody seemed interested. We never had a gathering at the school, and nobody thought of visiting the school. We had not had night school but three weeks until we got together right. We papered the house, put in new windows, purchased a new stovepipe, made new steps, and bought the winter's fuel."

"Now we have a live Sunday school, a singing school, prayer meeting once each week, and preaching twice a month. People of all denominations in the district meet and worship together in perfect unity and harmony, aged people come regularly, and even people from the adjoining county are beginning to come."

COMB SAGE TEA IN LIFELESS, GRAY HAIR

Look young! Common garden Sage and Sulphur darkens so naturally nobody can tell.

Grandmother kept her hair beautifully darkened, glossy and abundant with a brew of Sage Tea and Sulphur. Whenever her hair fell out or took on that dull, faded or streaked appearance, this simple mixture was applied with wonderful effect. By asking at any drug store for "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," you will get a large bottle of this old-time recipe, ready to use, for about 50 cents. This simple mixture can be depended upon to restore natural color and beauty to the hair and is splendid for dandruff, dry, itchy scalp and falling hair.

A well-known downtown druggist says everybody uses Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur, because it darkens so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied—it's so easy to use, too. You simply dampen a comb or soft brush and draw it through your hair, taking one strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears; after another application or two, it is restored to its natural color and looks glossy, soft and abundant.

WHEN HER BACK ACHES

A Woman Finds All Her Energy and Ambition Slipping Away.

Asheboro women know how the aches and pains that often come when the kidneys fail make life a burden. Backache, hip pains, headaches, dizzy spells, distressing urinary troubles, are frequent indications of weak kidneys and should be checked in time. Doan's Kidney Pills are for the kidneys only. They attack kidney disease by striking at the cause.

Can Asheboro sufferers desire stronger proof than this Randleman woman's word?

Mrs. Arthur Causey, Jerusalem St., Randleman, N. C., says: "Backache clung to me for a long time and made it hard for me to stoop. I could not remain on my feet long and often I became so dizzy that I had to catch hold of something to keep from falling. The kidney secretions annoyed me and showed that my kidneys were out of order. When a friend strongly urged me to try Doan's Kidney Pills, I did. I was soon rid of kidney complaint."

COMMUNITY HEALTH SUGGESTIONS FOR FRIDAY, DECEMBER 4

1. See that the school is properly ventilated with window ventilators and the room heated with a jacketed stove as described in the bulletin prepared by the State Department of Public Instruction and furnished upon request to any interested person. Also get rid of the common drinking cup and roller towel, substituting for these conveyors of infection the suggestions of the above publication.

2. See that the school well is properly constructed and that the school is provided with sanitary privies as described in the bulletin issued on School Buildings and Grounds, prepared by the State Department of Education.

3. Appoint a committee to arrange, with the advice and assistance of the State Board of Health, for a community meeting early next spring to consider measures for relief or eradication of the fly nuisance.

4. Inquire into the teaching of subjects of sanitation and hygiene in the school, and unless these subjects are emphasized, insist that the principal of the school give them the important place in the classes that they deserve.

5. Appoint a committee to consider the problem of a community physician. Write the State Board of Health for particulars.

6. As a means to all of the above, and as the first essential and remedy necessary for the application of all other remedies, work to secure a whole-time county health officer in your county, which is the best step in the direction of efficient county health administration, and from which all communities in the county will profit and by which the above sanitary suggestions for your own community may be more surely and easily carried out. See plan discussed in Bulletin No. 27, of the State Board of Health. If you are interested in this matter, write for this bulletin at once and for any further information that may be desired.

"I was annoyed for over a year by attacks of acute indigestion, followed constipation," writes Mrs. M. J. Gallagher, Geneva, N. Y. "I tried everything that was recommended to me for this complaint but nothing did me much good until about four months ago I saw Chamberlain's Tablets advertised and procured a bottle of them from our druggist. I soon realized that I had gotten the right thing for they helped me at once. Since taking two bottles I can eat heartily without any bad effects." Sold by all dealers.

IMPORTANT

Bear in mind that Chamberlain's Tablets not only move the bowels but improve the appetite and strengthen the digestion. For sale by all dealers.

TRY A COUNTY HONOR ROLL FOR TEACHERS

Mr. C. C. Wright, superintendent of public instruction in Wilkes, has adopted a county honor roll for the stimulation of the teachers in his county. He finds as a result it has caused some teachers to organize Boys' Corn Clubs and Girls' Domestic Science Clubs, to prepare exhibits for the next county fair, to observe special days in the school, to join the Teachers' Reading Circle, to subscribe to educational journals, to secure funds for supplementary libraries, to improve the school houses and grounds, to visit the patrons of the school, and to do many other things which have promoted the social and educational development of the county.

Suppose you have your county superintendent adopt it for the coming year. Let him place on it the names of those teachers who answer 70 per cent of the following questions affirmatively:

1. Are you a member of the Teachers' Association?
2. Are you a member of the Teachers' Reading Circle,
3. Did you attend the Township Teachers' Meeting for the current year?
4. Did you attend the Teachers' Institute held in your county?
5. Do you own desk copies of the text books which you are required by law to teach in the public schools of the state?
6. Do you read any educational journal? If so, what?
7. Have you raised any funds this year for any purpose? If so, state what and the amount raised.
8. Have you improved the house and grounds in any way? If so, state in what way and to what extent.
9. Have you visited the patrons of your school this term?
10. Have you held any Parents' Meetings, Debates, Spelling Matches, or Entertainments this year?
11. Have you enrolled any Corn Club Boys, or Tomato Girls this year?
12. Will your school have an exhibit at the next county fair?
13. Have you observed Good Road Day, State History Day, or Washington's Birthday in your school this term?

Upon the advice of a druggist I purchased a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and it benefited him at once. I find it the best cough medicine for children it is pleasant to take. They do not object to taking it," writes Mrs. Lafayette Tuck, Homer City, Pa. This remedy contains no opium or narcotics, and may be given to a child as confidently as to an adult. Sold by all dealers.

Remarkable Cure of Croup

"Last winter when my little boy had croup I got him a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. I honestly believe it saved his life," writes Mrs. J. B. Cook, Indiana, Pa. "It cut the phlegm and relieved his coughing spells. I am most grateful for what this remedy has done for him." For sale by all dealers.

FOREST NOTES

Although there were an unusual number of forest fires on the national forests of Oregon and Washington this year the loss of merchantable timber has been relatively small.

The propellers of aeroplanes such as are used in the present European war, may be made of selected ash, which is both strong and light and will not split under vibration or shock, or of built-up layers of spruce with mahogany centers. The framework of the machines, too, is generally made of wood, spruce being most used on account of its straight grain and freedom from hidden defects.

A surprisingly large number of substances, ranging all the way from the condensed fumes of smelters to the skimmed milk of creameries, have been tried or suggested as means of preserving wood from decay. Most of them, however, have been found to have little or no value for the purpose. Certain forms of coal tar creosote and zinc chloride are the most widely used wood preservatives.

It is said that the German invaders of Belgium, whatever else they may have destroyed, have been careful not to injure park trees. The cavalrymen, so the report goes, are forbidden to tie their horses to trees for fear that the animals will gnaw the bark. Germany was the first nation to apply forestry on a large scale, some of the crown forests having been under scientific management for over a hundred years.

BUY RED CROSS STAMPS

Tuberculosis is the most appalling disease of modern times. It is the most terrible scourge that the people of North Carolina have ever known. I am profoundly appreciative of the interest the people of North Carolina are themselves taking in the fight of this terrible disease. Perhaps the most important single thing the people of our state have done in this fight is the raising of $10,000.00 last year by the sale of Red Cross Stamps. This is something in which all the people can take part. I commend it to their thoughtful consideration and trust we may more than double the amount during the approaching holiday season.

GOV. LOCKE CRAIG.

MOTHER! IS CHILD'S STOMACH SOUR, SIDK?

If Cross, Feverish, Constipated, Give "California Syrup of Figs."

Don't scold your fretful, peevish child. See if tongue is coated; this is a sure sign its little stomach, liver and bowels are clogged with sour waste.

When listless, pale, feverish, full of cold, breath bad, throat sore, doesn't eat, sleep or act naturally, has stomach-ache, indigestion, diarrhoea, give a teaspoonful of "California Syrup of Figs," and in a few hours all the foul waste, acid and sour bile and fermenting food passes out of the bowels and you have a well and playful child again. Children love this harmless "fruit laxative," and mothers can rest easy after giving it, because it never fails to make their little "insides clean and sweet."

Keep it handy, Mother! A little given today saves a sick child tomorrow, but get the genuine. Ask your druggist for a 50 cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which has directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups plainly on the bottle. Remember there are counterfeits sold here, so surely look and see that yours is made by the "California Fig Syrup Company." Hand back with contempt any other fig syrup.

We have on hand a lot of one-horse Chattanooga Plows, which we offer at $4.00 each, so long as they last. Also plenty of Oliver one and two-horse plows on hand.
