RANDLEMAN ROUTE TWO

Mr. W. T. Ingle, with his wife, Mrs. Nica, and little son, Egbert, have returned from their former home, Burlington, where they have been on a few days visit. They had a jolly good time with former neighbors, relatives and friends. They drove through the country. Mr. Ingle observed that when on his route was showing up nicely but cuts seem to be badly missing, having been frozen or drowned out. On his way home Mr. Ingle had an offer, at a bargain, of a fine lot of nursery stock and having an eye for business as well as pleasure, he is now engaged in setting out fruit and ornamental trees of a number of varieties. He is a hustler. We all agree that Mr. Ingle and his intelligent and interesting family are quite an acceptable acquisition to our community. Already they are taking a lively interest in Sunday School church and community welfare work.

Regardless of the inclemency of the weather, Mr. J. J. Farlow, with his road force have waded through it all and have now about finished the grading as far north as Randleman. Since the rain has ceased the new grade is packing nicely where it has been used and is now in good shape.

FRANKLINVILLE NEWS

Mr. Isham Jones, one of our best and oldest citizens, who had been ill for many time died Saturday night. The funeral was conducted at his home by his pastor, Rev. T. J. Redding, and the body was laid to rest by members of the Masonic Lodge in the M. E. church cemetery amid a large crowd of sorrowing friends and relatives. The deceased was born on Sandy Creek, the 2nd day of March, 1834 and died February 13, 1915, being 80 years, 11 months and 11 days old. He was a son of the late Lewis and Elizabeth Jones. He moved to this place before the Civil War. He professed faith in Christ under the preaching of the late Rev. Hiram P. Cole and joined the M. E. church and has since lived a beautiful Christian life of nearly half a century. He was a member of the Masonic Lodge for over 50 years and was one of its most loyal and upright members. While his immediate family will greatly feel their loss, yet the entire community, and especially the church, which he loved so well and the Masonic Fraternity which we believe was made better by his Christian life and general influence, are sadly grieved at the loss of this noble man, for there is a sweet reverence associated with the name "Uncle Isham" that time will never erase. The deceased leaves 5 sons, W. L., T. M., G. H. and J. L. Jones of this place and John Jones, of Greensboro; three daughters, Mrs. Pat Fields, of Red Cross; Mrs. Will Fields, of Greensboro and Mrs. J. M. Tippet, of this place.

FARMER NOTES

The Junior Order of Farmer will give an oyster supper on Saturday night, February 20th. Each member is allowed to bring one other person with him. All members of the Usharrie Council are urged to be present.

Work has been commenced on the Farmer cemetery under the direction of Mr. W. E. Kearns. All the old portion will be set in grass as soon as possible, and the new part will be laid off in family plots of suitable size, and walks smoothed off. When interments are to be made, Mr. L. M. Kearns is the man to consult about the location of the grave.

Mr. D. G. McMasters is on the sick list.
