MRS. McCRAVY HOSTESS Entertains Randolph Book Club—Progressive Book.

Last Friday afternoon the members of the Randolph Book Club met at the home of Mrs. D. B. McCrary on Worth Street. The home was beautiful in its decorations of Easter flowers and ferns from the florists. Mrs. E. L. Moffitt read a most interesting Bay View article on Belgian Industries; following Mrs. J. O. Redding told of characteristics and customs in Belgium. Many of the current events were concerning the European war. Following the program, Progressive Book was played. Three ladies scored the same, Mrs. J. F. Miller, Miss Kate Phillips and Mrs. W. C. Hammer, the latter drawing the prize. The two out-of-town guests, Mrs. Oscar Coffin, of Charlotte; and Mrs. Oscar Keems, of High Point, received visitors' prizes. The consolation, a feathery little chicken, was given to Mrs. E. G. Morris. The hostess served block cream in yellow and white, with cakes and mints; each guest was presented with a small yellow basket with mints as a souvenir of the Easter time. The hostess was assisted in serving by her sister, Mrs. Thomas Redding, and Miss Allie Vestal.

LOWE-DELK Mr. Deak Lowe, of Asheboro, and Miss Dora Delk, of Cox, were married at Farmer, March 18, Rev. Joel B. Trogon performing the ceremony. After the solemnizing of the happy event, the young couple drove to Asheboro, where they were the guests of relatives for several days. At present they are making their home at Cox, in the western part of the county.

Mr. Lowe is a son of Mrs. N. M. Lowe, of this town, and is an industrious and highly respected young man, while his bride is the attractive daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Delk, of Western Randolph. Many friends join in wishing Mr. and Mrs. Lowe joy along the journey of life.

GUILFORD COUNTY REAL ESTATE Sells High One of the largest pieces ever paid for land not subdivided near Greensboro was that paid by Mack Albright this week for 11 acres purchased by him from James A. Dick and wife, at $1,000 an acre. The property is located two miles from the city and is at present untouched by any street car line or property on which houses have been erected or from which lots have been sold.

RANDOLPH SUPERIOR COURT

The criminal term of Randolph Superior Court convened last Monday morning for a term of one week, with Judge Thomas J. Shaw presiding. Judge Shaw's charge to the grand jury was brief and pointed, outlining, and emphasizing in a clear and lucid manner the principal violations of the criminal law, and particularly strong in presentation.

The following citizens compose the grand jury: Messrs. H. T. Caviness, foreman; L. V. Spinks, W. L. Lams, L. D. Vuncannon, W. A. Williams, M. H. Free, D. M. Welborn, W. L. Foust, F. M. Trogon, Alpheus Auman, Caswell Hancock, I. O. Hamilton, T. P. Prevo, C. M. Jones, T. C. Lamb, G. M. York, A. G. Pae, Jesse Rogers, and J. H. Vestal. Mr. C. T. Luck is officer to the grand jury.

The petit jurors are as follows: Messrs. B. Z. Routh, A. O. Adams, F. E. Steed, A. J. Chamness, W. L. Scott, A. R. Groce, G. H. Maner, C. C. Horney, W. A. Craven, T. F. Pool, C. C. Stroud, P. F. Spoon, R. L. Vickory, Willie Miller, W. T. Ferguson, and J. V. Cranford.

Ernest Kime, who is charged with the murder of Frank Garner on March 7, was arraigned Monday afternoon and entered a plea of not guilty. The case was set for trial today, Thursday, and a venire of 100 men drawn.

The following cases have been disposed of: Nathan Rich, a. w. d. w., six months on county roads.

Annie Coltrane and Mamie Coltrane a. w. d. w. Mamie plead guilty and was given a fine of $15.00 and costs. Not prose as to Annie.

Enos Womble a. w. d. w., not guilty. Charles Robbins and Irvin Robbins plead guilty.

Glenn McFarland, abandonment. Plead guilty, judgment suspended upon payment of costs, on condition defendant shows good behaviour for two years.

Shelly Coble, Dennis Fields, Walter York, and Peb York, riot and disturbance, discharged.

W. D. Godfrey and C. M. Hilliard, a. w. d. w., guilty as to both.

Wade Henderson, assaulting his brother-in-law, Arthur Loflin, plead guilty, and was given $20 and costs. Judge Shaw announced that he did not blame the defendant so much for assaulting Loflin because he had been talking about Mrs. Henderson as for waiting so long before doing this that it might appear there was some other cause for the assault.

A large part of yesterday was taken up with the case of Alexander Jolley for burning the house of Marshall Cheek, the jury returning a verdict of guilty.

A CARD OF THANKS We wish to thank all the good people of Asheboro for their kindness and sympathy shown us since the burning of our home. We do earnestly pray God's richest blessings may reward each and every one for every gift we received, large or small, and for all the kind words spoken to us God will reward them all, in our prayer.

MR. AND MRS. THAD. AUMAN and family.

DEATH OF A. F. KIVETT Mr. A. F. Kivett died at his home near Ramseur, on the night of March 24, aged 62 years, 6 months and 20 days. Mr. Kivett retired in his usual health, just before three o'clock in the morning, his wife was awakened by his making some complaint. She aroused the family and he was soon gone to the rest that remaineth for the people of God.

Mr. Kivett was a successful farmer, hard-working man, and an upright citizen. By his noble Christian character and affable manner, he endeared himself to a large circle of friends and acquaintances. He always met his friends with a smile and a hearty handshake. He had a tender and affectionate heart, was devoted to his family, and loved them most dearly. His love and devotion to them were very remarkable. A father's love has such a wonderful influence upon his children.

We have known Mr. Kivett for a long time, and he was always the same—a true and noble Christian gentleman. He was a consistent member of the Baptist church.

The remains were tenderly laid to rest in the Shady Grove cemetery amidst a large concourse of weeping relatives and friends. The funeral was most touchingly and tenderly preached by his pastor, Rev. Mr. Dowd.

A widow and four children survive to mourn their great and irreparable loss. May God's richest grace comfort and sustain the grief stricken family. A Friend.

MONUMENT TO CHAS. B. AYCOCK Mr. Archibald Johnson, of Charity and Children, thinks that there should be a monument on the Capitol grounds at Raleigh to Chas. B. Aycock. He suggests that though the grounds are already over-crowded, that there will be unanimous accord all over the state for making room for one to North Carolina's Educational Governor. He says also that the monument should be in keeping with the Ash-ley Horne monument.
