this year. When shipments were interrupted by the war, it was estimated that there was enough Potash on hand in the United States to provide two and three per cent Potash in mixed fertilizers for this spring's trade. Some manufacturers had more than enough for these percentages. Since then minor sources of Potash have been fully utilized, and additional shipments from the usual source are still being received.

The supply is below normal, but this need not prevent farmers curing some Potash in their fertilizers, nor should it lead farmers

There is no reason to return to the out-of-date goods without Potash, although some authorities may try to "wish" them on us. We have not used enough Potash in the past. The largest annual import of Potash was only one-seventieth of the Potash taken from the seil by our 1914 corn crop and only one-fifteenth of the Potash lost

LESSON FOR APRIL 11

DAVID ANOINTED KING.

LESSON TEXT-I Samuel 18:4-13. GOLDEN TEXT-Man looketh on the outward appearance, but Johnson boxens on the heart.-I Samuel 18:7 R. V.

After the events recorded in last Sunday's lesson Samuel retired to Ramah never again to see Saul's face. Samuel "mourned" (15:35) L. e., be wailed and lamented the deposed king. It was noble for Samuel thus to be grieved over Saul's sin; still, God had vork for him to do. There is a sor row that "worketh repentance" which is pleasing in the sight of God, but that idle sorrow which spends itself in unprofitable mourning is detrimental to man and a lindrance to the kingdom of God (ch. 8:7; 15:1) Men may fall but the kingdom goes for ward. We do not interpret verse ! as suggesting any subterfuge on God's part but rather that God refused to pay any attention to Samuel's fear God answers fear by giving us duties to perform and in their performance we are delivered from our fears.

1. David Chosen to Be King, vv. 4-10. Saul, the clamorous choice of the people, was not succeeded by David-"the ple, was not succeeded by David—the man after God's own heart"—for several years after this lesson God's will in this matter was shown to Samuel progressively: (a) in chapter 12:14 Samuel is informed that God hath sought "a man after his own heart;" (b) in 16:1 he is told to go and find the king whom God had progressively whom God had progressively whom God had progressively the state of the heart; (b) in 18;1 he is told to go and find the king whom God had pro-vided; (c) in verse 12 Samuel is at last definitely told whom God has selected. This selection is in ac-cordance with the prophecy made centuries before regarding the kingly scepter (Gen. 49:10). Of course it was high treason, this act Samuel was about to perform, and Saul yet had many friends and supporters (v. 2). God seems to have permitted Samuel to use one avowed purpose to con-cent the real one, but "such a course is cons to use but sparingly" (Maclaren).

God can and does protect those whom he sends (Ps. 34.7) and "man is immortal till his work is done." Just what or how did not concern Samuel for he had God's promise (v. 3). A step at a time was sufficient and in taking each step Samuel was to tell the exact truth.

the exact truth.

Thus God guides and tests his servants. Samuel was a judge as well as a prophet (ch. 7:16) and the people of Bethlehem were agitated at his arrival. It may be, too, that these elders were fearful of incurring the displeasure of Saul. There was no occasion for fear, as Samuel's purpose was to service and his mission one of was to sacrifice and his mission one of peace even as the angelic messengers who quieted the shepherds with their message of "peace" when "great David's greater son" was ushered into the world. Jesse was a grandson of Ruth the Moabitess and also a de-scendant of Rahab the harlot. On his father's side he belonged to the strong tribe of Judah. He was evi-dently a man of some wealth, certain-ly in his children. After the sacri-fice and before the feast Samuel is made acquainted with the sons Jesse. The first, Eliab, was tall and good to look upon and at once Samuel fixed upon him as the certain choice for Jehovah.

 David Anointed King, vs. 11 Seven some are set aside and yet Samuel did not hear the voice of God's approval In seeming dismay he asks, "Are here all thy children?" Jesse seems to have made a carcless and reluciant reply that the youngest was away from home tending sucep. Thereupon Samuel asserts that "we will not sit down (to the sacrificial feast) till he be brought hither." It is of responsibility and prominence.
Witness Carey, Livingston, Moody and a hundred others past and present. David at this time was about fifteen years old (Beecher). His name means "darling," significant of the affection of his mother, whose name is an known, but to whom David twice makes reference (Ps. 85:16; 116:16). David was short, compared with his brothers, but had bright eyes (v. 12 marg.) and a fair. marg.) and a fair face—a "comely person" (v. 18). David was agile and strong and though seemingly scoffed at by his brothers and neglected by his father it did not pervert his good nature nor turn him from the perform-ance of his duties. Samuel did not greet David as he had greeted Saul, he may have been dispappointed. This gives emphasis to the words in verse 12. "Arise anoint him: for this

David is anointed, set apart, for the kingship, but is not equipped nor does he enter upon his offices till later. In this he is a type of Jesus who shall yet reign on David's throne.

Verses 13 and 14 tell of the developing contrast in the lives of Sani and David. David the young king, potential only at this time, is a great in-spiration to the young of all ages in that, (1) He did his lowly work thoroughly; (2) While doing it he sought to cultivate and improve him-self (v.18); and (3) He gave himself wholly to God; hence the record "and the Lord is with him" (v. 18).

STOMACH TROUBLES

Mr. Ragland Writes Interesting Letter on This Subject.

Madison Heights, Va.-Mr. Chas. A Ragiand, of this place, writes; "I have been taking Thedford's Black-Draught for indigestion, and other stomach troubles, also colds, and find it to be the very best medicine I have ever used.

After taking Black-Draught for a few days, I always feel like a new man." Nervousness, nausea, heartburn, pain in pit of stomach, and a feeling of fullness after eating, are sure symptoms of stomace trouble, and should be given the proper treatment, as your strength and health depend very largely upon your food and its digestion.

To get quick and permanent relief rom these ailments, you should take a medicine of known curative merit.

Its 75 years of splendid success, in the treatment of just such troubles, proves the real merit of Thedford's Black-Draught. Safe, pleasant, gentle in action, and without bad after-effects, it is sure to benefit both young and old. For sale everywhere, Price 25c. N.C. 122.
