

THE COURIER

Asheboro, N. C., June 24, 1915.

WEEKLY WEATHER FORECAST

Following is the weekly weather forecast issued by the U. S. Weather Bureau, Washington, D. C., for the week beginning Wednesday June 23: For South Atlantic and East Gulf States: Fair weather with continued high temperature is probable throughout the week.

LOCAL AND PERSONAL

The Courier is particularly anxious for correspondents to write their opinions on current questions.

Mrs. W. J. Scarborough and daughter, Miss Lucile, were in Greensboro for a few hours last Saturday.

When anything in your community occurs which is of interest The Courier would be glad if you would write or call over the phone and let The Courier know the item of news.

The list of subscribers to The Courier is growing daily, yes, everyday. From every section subscribers and friends of the paper say kind words about its news, local and editorial columns, and advertisers say it brings results.

A plan is on foot to start a first class department store in Asheboro within the next few months. The management expects to start out with an appropriation of from $500 to $1,000 for newspaper advertising the first year. Asheboro should be and can become a trading center. This can be done by live energetic men who will give proper publicity to the words offer for sale.

Dr. J. F. Miller, who came from South Carolina, in February of this year, and located at Asheboro to practice medicine, secured his license to practice medicine at the recent examination of the State Medical Board of Examiners. While Dr. Miller's license was granted by reciprocity as were also the license of several other applicants coming from other States, some applicants from other States did not secure license. The showing of Dr. Miller in the way of testimonials was most creditable both as to scholarship and equipment, he having received his medical education in schools both in this country and abroad.

Dr. Alexander C. Bulla, who recently graduated at a medical college in Richmond, Va., with first honors, was a successful applicant at the recent examination of applicants to practice medicine. Dr. Bulla is a son of Dr. A. M. Bulla and a grandson of the late Dr. Archibald Bulla, a well known physician of this county. He is named after the late Dr. Alexander Bulla, his great uncle, born and reared in Randolph, but who for many years lived and had a large practice at Jackson Hill in Davidson county.

It will be noticed on the Chautauqua programs which are being circulated over town that there is a note saying that reserved seats will be a dollar extra. These programs were printed some time ago, and it has since then been decided not to have any reserved seats at Asheboro, and the $2.00 season ticket entitles you to any seat.

Miss Kate Dorsett, of Farmer, is the guest of Miss Ulna Rush this week.

Miss Lena Brown, of Ramseur, spent a few days last week with her sister, Mrs. C. M. Hayworth.

District Attorney Wm. C. Hammer and Mr. H. M. Worth left Monday for Wilkesboro for Federal court.

Mrs. C. M. Hayworth and little son, Maxton, spent last Friday in Greensboro.

Mrs. J. D. Ross and Miss Hallie Ross went to Greensboro one day last week, returning the same day.

Mr. Will Luck, of High Point, spent several days in Asheboro last week.

The pension board of Randolph county will meet at the court house in Asheboro the first Monday in July. Rev. C. L. Whitaker is in High Point attending the Pastors' Summer Conference.

The many friends of Rev. Clifton L. Whitaker, pastor of the M. P. church here, will be interested to learn that on Wednesday of last week Western Maryland College conferred upon him the degree of Doctor of Divinity.

Mr. T. W. Wilson and family visited in the home their uncle, Mr. A. S. Pugh, on Asheboro Route 1, last Sunday.

Mr. W. J. Armfield went to Troy Friday for the funeral of Mr. S. J. Smitherman.

Miss Lanta Winslow left last Monday for Charlottesville, Va., where she is attending the University of Virginia Summer School.

Asheboro needs a canning factory to process the bushels and bushels of such fruits and vegetables going to waste in and around town.

Little Golda, the only child of Dr. and Mrs. C. A. Hayworth, is seriously ill of typhoid fever at the home of her parents in Coleridge. The large circle of friends of the family wish for little girl restoration to health.

Mr. R. O. Little, of Thomasville, spent Saturday night in the city.

Miss Catherine Burns went down to Star Tuesday night for the marriage of Miss Lydia Leach and Mr. Stronach.

Mrs. Clarence Yates, of Kannapolis, arrived in Asheboro last Saturday to spend some time with relatives.

Mrs. A. J. Craven, of Pleasant Garden, spent last Saturday with Mrs. L. B. Lambert.

Mrs. J. V. Hunter and children, who have been spending some time with relatives in Charlotte, have returned home.

Mr. E. C. Vestal, of Jordan, arrived in Asheboro Monday to help in the construction of the new jail.

Mr. John Brown spent Sunday at the home of his father, Mr. Isaac Brown, on Route 1.

Miss Fleta Brown, of Route 1, recently spent several days in Raleigh, visiting her sister, Mrs. Buffalo.

In some parts of Asheboro children are allowed to play in the streets, and owing to the number of automobiles traveling at this time, the street is a very unsafe place for children. This advice to parents is prompted by the fact that a small child in the city recently had a narrow escape from death under a car. Even if all drivers exercised the utmost care, the street would not be a safe place for children to play, and Asheboro, like all other towns, has some reckless automobilists. Keep your children off the streets for your own sake and the sake of the automobilist.

There is no scarcity of fresh vegetables in Asheboro. Last week, a local merchant, on being asked the price of beans, replied, "If you let me sell you the meat to cook with them, I'll give you the beans."

Mr. and Mrs. Carroll, who have been in Asheboro trying to establish a moving picture show, left the first of the week for Randleman, where they will locate.

Farmer and Worthville ball teams will play each other on the Asheboro diamond next Saturday afternoon at 2:30.

Asheboro ball team played two games on the local diamond last Saturday afternoon and won both. The first game was with Thomasville, the score being 13 to 6. They then played Bethel and won with a score of 15 to 1.

Mr. John Swain, formerly of Asheboro, but now of Mebane, is the guest of friends in town.

Messrs. T. E. Burgess and Alfred Allred and families, of Ramseur, were among the visitors in Asheboro Sunday.

Mrs. C. L. Whitaker and Miss Lillie Parrish chaperoned a party of the younger set of boys and girls on a camp supper to Gluyas' Tuesday night.

Mrs. Arthur Ross and daughter, Miss Hallie, spent a day or two in Denton the first of the week.

Mr. W. B. Lassiter, who is farming on the land of Mr. J. O. Redding in the eastern part of town, has some unusually fine oats this summer. Some of the stalks measure 8 feet in height, and they also bear heavy heads of grain. Mr. Lassiter has some extra fine Fulcaster wheat on the same farm.

Mrs. M. H. Lassiter, of Mechanic, and daughter, Miss Chloe Lassiter, of Marion, were in town last Saturday. Miss Lassiter was leaving for Marion after spending some time at home and attending the funeral of her father some days ago.

Dr. and Mrs. William Fresh returned to their home at Weaverville one day last week, after a visit to Dr. and Mrs. J. F. Miller.

Mr. D. M. Welborne, one of the progressive farmers of Trinity, was in town on business last Saturday.

Dr. and Mrs. J. F. Miller left the first of the week for Florence, S. C., where they are guests of relatives and friends this week.

A party of Asheboro's young people are enjoying a camping trip to Lake View, chaperoned by Mr. and Mrs. P. Nelson.

Mr. P. H. Morris is in Henderson this week, attending the meeting of the North Carolina Insurance Agent's Association.

Mr. Erman Trogon, of Farmer, was the guest of relatives in town last Saturday night and Sunday.

The vegetable season in Asheboro and Randolph county is now on. It seems that everybody planted a garden this spring, and there are so many beans and other vegetables being produced that the growers cannot possibly consume all, have plenty and to spare, and there is no need of buying.

Newspaper people are so accustomed to hearing "kicks" that it is very refreshing to hear a kind word now and then. A lady stopped at the office one day recently and said, "I just want to tell you that you are getting out the best Courier now that I have ever seen, and I always like to get hold of the paper." Words like these are encouraging to the tired "scribblers," and people can help not only by encouraging words, but also by telling the news. If you know an item of interest, don't hesitate to call the Courier office and tell us.

Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Presnell, of Farmer, spent Friday in town.

Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Robins spent one day last week in Greensboro.

The High Point Enterprise of last Tuesday has an account of a lovely little porch party given by Miss Nellie Muse in honor of Miss Harriet Holton, of Winston-Salem. Miss Muse is well known in Asheboro, having visited here often.

Mrs. Harris Stewart, of Bluefield, West Virginia, spent a few days this week with Mrs. C. B. Griffin. Mrs. Stewart was Miss Mozelle Redding before her marriage.

Mrs. Millard Allred is the guest of friends at Spencer and Danville this week.

Miss Lula Pritchard is attending the summer conference at the Orphan's home, High Point.

About twenty-five of Asheboro's young people enjoyed a fishing trip on Caraway yesterday afternoon, chaperoned by Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Hedrick. The party left town about one o'clock, spent the afternoon fishing, cooked supper over the camp fire and returned home later.

If you are ever going to buy a Ford car now is your time. Look up Gene Morris' ad in this issue, you don't even have to pay cash.

Through some inadvertence, the date for the Randolph Sunday School Convention was announced in last week's Courier as July 19th and 20th. It should have been given as August 19-20, when the Sunday school workers will meet in annual convention at Ramseur.

Mr. H. C. Jones, of the local post-office force, is spending his vacation in the Caraway section.

Miss Fleta Fox spent a few days the first of the week with relatives at Franklinville.

Dr. J. W. Page, of Burlington, was the guest of relatives in Asheboro Sunday and Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. R. R. Ross and Mr. and Mrs. L. F. Ross attended the Summer Conference at the Children's Home, High Point, the first of the week.

Mrs. A. O. Ferree and little daughter have returned from Kannapolis, where they were the guests of relatives for some time.

Mr. and Mrs. George Ross, of Jackson Springs, were visitors in Asheboro last Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Cranford have returned from White Sulphur Springs, Mt. Airy, where they have been for some time on account of Mrs. Cranford's health.

Miss Bessie Woodson, of High Point was the guest of Miss Catherine Burns Tuesday.

Miss Minnie Hoover has returned from Lillington and Troy where she has been acting as court stenographer.

Capt. A. E. Burns of the Coca-Cola Bottling Works, says he sees no signs of hard times in his business. With the plant running full time, it is almost impossible to keep up with the orders they come in so thick and fast. Capt. Burns has orders from Franklinville amounting to 200 dozen bottles, and he already had on hand other orders that would require a week to fill.

Have you bought your season ticket for Chautauqua yet? If not, you should do so at once. They are only $2.00 each.

Thursday, July 1st is opening day for Chautauqua. Then will come seven joyous days for Asheboro.

Mr. Herbert Steed, of Steeds, was a business visitor in town last Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Cox passed through Asheboro Saturday on their way to Thomasville after spending some time at Seagrove and Ralph.

Mr. A. J. Rush, of Concord township, was in Asheboro yesterday.

Mr. Lynn Davis, of Burlington, is visiting his brother, Mr. Clarence Davis.

Asheboro ball team will go to Thomasville next Tuesday to play the Thomasville team.

Miss Clyde Kearns, daughter of Mr. S. M. Kearns, of Farmer, will open a conservatory of music in High Point soon. Miss Kearns is a graduate of the Durham Conservatory of Music and is well prepared for the work, and her conservatory will doubtless be a success.

Messrs. Henry Luther and Ed Mendenhall and Misses Annie Moring and Mona Rush came home Monday from Lake View where they have been on the camping trip which a number of Asheboro's young people are enjoying. The rest of the party will not return for some days yet.

Messrs. James Walker and Ernest Wiles went to Charlotte in a car last Friday and spent the day.

Dr. A. H. Redding, of Cedar Falls, was a business visitor in town yesterday.

Mr. D. G. Mcmasters and Miss Cora Mcmasters, of Farmer, spent Wednesday in Asheboro.

Mrs. L. H. Badgett, of Brooklyn, N. Y., is the guest of Mrs. J. T. Wood this week.

Mr. W. S. Gatlin, of Cedar Grove township, was among the visitors on our streets Wednesday.

Mrs. R. E. Allred and little son are spending the week in Greensboro.

A fine cow belonging to Mr. W. J. Armfield died one day this week.

Mr. Sulton Stedman received an 8,000-gallon tank of gasoline for the Stedman garage yesterday.

Drs. John Swaim and D. K. Lockhart are attending the meeting of the North Carolina Dental Association at Wrightsville Beach this week.

Dr. and Mrs. F. E. Asbury are spending the week at Jackson Springs.

Master Gran Grimes and Miss Margaret are expected to join their parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. G. Grimes, in Asheboro tomorrow. After Mr. and Mrs. Grimes moved to Asheboro these two children remained in Washington until the close of school.

The Farmers' Column which had to be omitted from this issue of The Courier will appear again next week.

Mr. Frank Richardson, son of Rev. and Mrs. N. R. Richardson, formerly of Asheboro, was among the graduates of Trin. College this spring.

Mr. Reuben E. Moffitt, an aged Confederate veteran, of Coleridge, died last Friday, being stricken with paralysis.

Mr. John A. Curtis and Miss Lillie M. Pugh, of near Climax, were married last Sunday by Rev. Shuford Peeler, in Greensboro.
