The celebration of Old People's Day quite a success and will doubtless prove a blessing to every one who attended. Although the weather was warm and sultry there was a large congregation and nothing was left Mr. Hill is improving undone to show our appreciation of and reverence for our aged people. The exercises opened with a rong of jubilee by the Baraca and Philathea classes. Then came a song by the children. After this the married wom en sang "How Firm A Foundation This was followed by a talk by Mr. Hugh Parks, Jr., on the encourage ment of old people in Sunday school and church. Then came a song by the Baraca and Philathea classes, Will Take Care of You." Mr. J. H. Fentress then made a talk on the influence that old people have over the young in Sunday school and church. Next was a song by the children, "Clap Your Hands For Joy." Mr. D. M. Wentherly then gave a talk on Why and How We Should Respect older people. This was followed by a very suitable address by the pastor, Rev. J. T. Rogers. Much was added to the occasion by the music of Mr. Herman M.
