

THE COURIER

Asheboro, N. C., August 19, 1915.

WEEKLY WEATHER FORECAST

Issued by the United States Weather Bureau, Washington, D. C., for the week beginning Wednesday, August 18, 1915:

For South Atlantic and East Gulf States: Local thundershowers for a day or two will be followed by generally fair weather during the remainder of the week, with reasonable temperatures.

ON A SUMMER MORNING

On a summer morning, hearts are sweet to sow
The music of the summer in blossoms where they go.

Soul and senses singing,
Thus through life and love
From dust and tears to dreaming
Of skies of blue above.

On a summer morning, up and let us swing
Down the paths of clover, fame of love to sing

Whispering winds before us,
Lane and byre a sweet
Of golden life whose chorus
Comes rippling o'er the wheat.

On a summer morning, ah, what calm, what peace!
All the mortal wrappings of the old world cease,

Humming birds low-darting,
Robins at the gate
Sad to sing love's parting
Though the night's be late.

Or a summer morning; come, and toil shall last
When the dreams and darning of the ways are past.

Out in life together,
Out to swing and play
In dreams that crown the weather
And love that wreathes the May.

—The Benttown Bard.

A man who gave his name as Jack Edwards was arrested Saturday and arraigned before Squire Ridge who gave him thirty days on the roads for vagrancy. Since he has been in jail he tells that his name is Fred Harris and that he was released from the chaingang in Halifax county last July. Sheriff Birkhead has written to the Halifax authorities to ascertain the real facts about the matter.

The Baraca class of the M. E. Sunday school at Franklinville is planning to build a class room for their Sunday school. This room will be used as a reading room during the week and will be to Franklinville what the Y. M. C. A. is to the larger towns and cities. The Sunday school at Franklinville is one of the very best in the State. Every member of the school is deeply interested in the work. There is that spirit of earnest and hearty co-operation in this Sunday school which could be imitated by less progressive schools with appreciable results.

Every contestant should wake up and improve every day and hour from this time on. Some contestant is going to get a mighty fine present in the Ford machine, but aside from this splendid automobile, there are other valuable prizes being offered by The Courier. Everyone of the contestants has friends and relatives who are anxious to see their favorite the winner of the car, and they are working hard in the interest of their favorite. Truly, there is going to be a battle royal between the contestants and their friends from now on until this contest closes. Get in the fight is our advice. There are no dudum bullets being used—this is a friendly fight.

HOME CANNING
From the Southern Ruralist the following communication on home canning is taken:
(By Mrs. S. B. Tolson.)
I had always canned all kinds of fruit and tomatoes, but thought that the canning of vegetables was for the large canning factories only. I have found out that they may be canned at home as well as fruit.
I use my wash boiler. Make a frame to fit the pot about two inches from bottom, a lid that fits the top good and tight and you have your canner. I filled my jars to about one inch of top with green peas, then filled to the top with water, put on rings, screwed the lid down, but not tight, put in the boiler, filled the boiler about half full of water, placed the lid on and boiled for thirty minutes; took the jars out and tightened the lids good and tight so they would not leak, put them back, filled the boiler to about one inch of top of jars and placed a heavy weight on top of the boiler lid and boiled for one hour.
I can limas, corn and okra the same as peas, and have never lost but one jar. I always boil rings, lids and jars in a strong soda water before using.
I always begin canning as soon as the small berries get ripe, and continue until frost.
Our main crop of peaches get ripe in July and August, after the berries are gone, and our late tomatoes are ready for canning in September, so you see we always plan to have one thing follow another. By doing so I can keep right up with all that would otherwise go to waste. I have never tried to can cabbage, as we feed them to the hogs, and in turn we get plenty of nice pork.
I can all berries and peaches in thin syrup, as they taste much better than they do when canned in water.
Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy.
This is a remedy that every family should be provided with, and especially during the summer months. Think of the pain and suffering that must be endured when medicine must be sent for or before relief can be obtained. This remedy is thoroughly reliable. Ask any one who has used it. Obtainable everywhere.
CARD OF THANKS
We wish to thank our friends for the many kindnesses shown us during the sickness and death of our dear father and husband. Respectfully,
Mrs. W. C. York and family.
