MOST VALUABLE TREE IN THREE STATES

Loblolly or Shortleaf Pine Offers Ideal Conditions for Permanent Timber Investments, Says New Publication

Washington, August 23.—Loblolly pine, which is known as short-leaf, and is marketed under the trade name of North Carolina pine, now yields the largest cut of lumber of any tree in Virginia, North Carolina, and South Carolina, and on account of its extremely rapid growth, abundant natural regeneration, adaptability to various soils, heavy yield, and the desirability of its wood for structural purposes, is destined to continue as one of the most valuable, if not the most valuable, timber tree within this area, says a bulletin just issued jointly by the North Carolina Geological and Economic Survey and the U. S. Forest Service. Because of these traits, as well as freedom from disease and defects, early maturity, comparative cheapness of logging, and the excellent market for most grades of its lumber, says the bulletin, stands of this pine offer probably the most favorable conditions of any tree of the United States for the practice of forestry, which is to say, for the efficient management of timberlands as a permanent investment.

The bulletin, discussing the most economical methods of cutting loblolly pine in different types of forest, points out that, notwithstanding the tree's rapid rate of growth, it is possible in the case of pure stands in which many trees are small to cut so that timber of a relatively high quality can be secured from later operations. Although thinning is impracticable at present in connection with large operations, says the bulletin, they can be made advantageously by farmers who are in a position to cut on the same restricted areas at intervals of five to ten years.

The possibility of determining the future yield from young stands or from unstocked land is worked out on basis of quality sites, and suggestions are made for ascertaining the quality of different sites by analyzing the surrounding forest types and character of the soil, and depth of water table. The bulletin forecasts the stumpage values of young stands at the end of ten and twenty years based on the rate of increase in stumpage values during the last twenty years. Practically all the economic aspects of managing and marketing loblolly pine stumpage are treated exhaustively with numerous tables and photographs. Copies of the bulletin can be obtained from the State Geologist, Chapel Hill, N. C., or the U. S. Forest Service, Washington, D. C.

RESOLUTIONS OF RESPECT

Whereas, it has pleased our Heavenly Father, in loving kindness and tender mercy, to remove from our midst, Bro. Wesley W. Brady, and has transferred his membership from the church militant to the church triumphant, whose communion knows no ending; therefore be it resolved:

First. That we bow in humble submission to Him whose ways are always just.

Second. That in the death of Bro. Brady, our church has lost a faithful deacon and a loyal member, a good citizen, and his family a kind husband and father.

Third. That we, as members of the Ramsey Christian church, extend to his wife and children our most tender sympathy in their sad bereavement and bid them look up through a mist of tears and behold the rainbow of promise in the Father's face.

Fourth. That a page of our church register be dedicated to his memory and that these resolutions be suitably inscribed thereon.

Fifth. That a copy be sent to the family under the seal of the Ramsey Christian church, and a copy be furnished The Christian Sun and the county papers for publication.

GUILFORD WELLS POLLUTED

Dr. W. M. Jones, county physician of Guilford county, is authority for the statement that 90 per cent. of the open wells of that county are polluted. He bases his statement on the actual examinations he has made of the water in the wells and springs throughout the county. He found that those wells which were equipped with pumps were not polluted.

END OF WORLD COMING

According to Signs Already Portented, Foretold in Bible, Have Appeared in Sun, Moon and Stars—Now in Earth—Turmoil Among Nations is Warning Sent by Heaven, and End May be Near

Before an audience that taxed the seating capacity of the tent, Elder G. B. Thompson, of Washington, D. C., in a discourse at the annual convention of the Virginia Conference of Seventh-Day Adventists, at Charlottesville, August 10th, pointed to the signs that have already appeared in the sun, moon and stars, and the distress that is now perplexing the nations, as sure signs of the soon coming of Christ. Elder Thompson emphasized the prophecies that appear in both the Old and New Testaments, telling of the conditions that should exist "in the last days." He also dwelt on the fact that the Bible says a warning should go to the world in the form of a gospel message declaring the Lord's return.

Elder Thompson said in part: "The Bible says there will be signs of the return of Christ to the earth. Where? In the sun, in the moon, and in the stars. History recalls the fulfillment of these signs. The sun was darkened more than 100 years ago—May 19, 1780. The sign concerning the moon occurred the following night; in 1833 the stars fell with great meteoric shower that stands recorded in history as the great celestial phenomena. Now the Bible tells us that there will be signs in the earth. What does all this terrible turmoil mean? It means that there shall be no peace, as we hear men talk about it these days, but these conflicts are going to get stronger as time continues. No one knows whether this war will lead into Armageddon or not. It ought to be pretty loud warning to meet God. When the battle of Armageddon comes all the nations will be involved, and in the midst of this conflict, which will be fought just outside of Jerusalem, Christ will come."

CANCER OF THE SKIN

The keynote to the cancer problem is early diagnosis. If the disease were accompanied by severe pains in its earliest stages the large majority of patients could undoubtedly be cured by modern methods of treatment. Fifty per cent. of all cancer cases come to the physicians too late. It is dangerous to irritate any ulcer or tumor by picking or putting any kind of caustic paste on it because usually such treatment causes the disease to grow much faster and form "roots," as the public call them.

Another kind of skin cancer begins as a small mole-like pimple which gradually increases in size. It bleeds easily, especially when pinched. It appears to heal, but after a while it breaks out again and grows gradually. Another kind of cancer begins even as a small mole-like pimple which gradually increases in size. It bleeds easily, especially when pinched. It appears to heal, but after a while it breaks out again and grows gradually.

Another kind of cancer begins even more innocently, as in its very early stage it is like a persistent scaly spot. The patient thinks nothing of this because it looks so innocent. But if let alone it can do a great deal of damage.

The advice to the public is to seek the doctor or specialist in the early stage of the disease, because the expense of treatment is then very much less and there is much greater chance of being cured.

A FEARLESS ARMY MULE

(From The American Boy.)

The fact that a mule is stubborn may lessen his value to the average user—but the soldier is inclined to value this trait. The mule is being rated above the horse for actual use under fire on the battlefields of Europe and is much used by the artillery. An untrained horse, being nervous and high-strung is likely to dash about madly under fire, but the mule stubbornly holds his place regardless of the din. The British are now planning to mount a part of their cavalry on American mules.

A favorite story of the British artillery is told of the artillerymen who tried to retreat with their gun under a warm attack. The gun team of mules stubbornly refused to budge so, in desperation, the gunners returned to the gun and succeeded in beating back the attack. They were warmly commended for their valor—but admitted that the praise was properly due the mules.

ELI TURNER ARRESTED FOR BLOCKADING

Deputy U. S. Marshal J. H. McKenzie, of Salisbury, made a trip down into Montgomery county Wednesday of last week and arrested Eli Turner, who is charged with blockading in Davidson county. Turner is only a 16-year old boy and is the youngest son of Lee Turner who shot and killed Sheriff Moffitt of this county in 1899 when Sheriff Moffitt was attempting to arrest him for blockading. Turner in turn was shot and killed by one of the deputies, who were with Sheriff Moffitt. Young Turner denies that he has ever made or sold liquor, and says that the only reason he knows for his arrest is that his father made and sold liquor, people suppose that he is following in his footsteps.

REWARD FOR ARREST OF FRANK'S LYNCHERS

The first actual step by State officials looking to the arrest and conviction of the mob which lynched Leo M. Frank was taken last Thursday when Governor Harris conferred with the State Prison Commission. The object of the conference was to find out the exact details of the capture of the prisoner by the mob. The Governor will offer a reward for the arrest and conviction of members of the mob. Under the Georgia law he can offer the maximum reward of $500 for each arrest and conviction. As there is only $2,500 available in the State treasury for rewards, he will probably offer rewards for the conviction of five members of the mob.

GREAT FRUITS OF THE EARTH

Is it the season, or the fact that the people are getting on to the "know how," that accounts for the extraordinary productivity of the soil this year? It seems that all products of garden, field and farm are of the prize-winning order. Tomatoes weighing a pound are common, while some that weigh as much as two pounds are not rare. There are extraordinary yields of wheat and oats, and there are corn fields that a few years ago would have been looked upon with wonder, but which are now considered a matter of fact. We will be expecting a hundred-pound melon from the Catawba bottoms in a few days, for in a year like this when everything else seems to be excelling itself, it is reasonable to suppose that the melon will keep up with the procession. We have had the soil and the climate all the time and we believe the explanation of it is that the people are just waking up to what they can do where they try.—Charlotte Observer.

KENTUCKY FEUDS

Not many years ago Clay county, Kentucky, was one of the most notorious counties for the famous feuds that broke out continually. The newspapers made frequent mention of the Barker-Howard Feud that was waged bitterly. Today there is no newspaper notoriety for Clay county, for there is no feud there. The remarkable story of what conquered the feuds is to be told in The Sunday School Times by a well-known writer who visited the county and met the man who is the hero of this thrilling story. This man who brought about the transformation in the county was once in the thick of the feud himself. A three week's free trial of the Sunday School Times may be had, (as long as the supply lasts), for a post card request, asking for "Kentucky Feuds", addressed to The Sunday School Times, Philadelphia, Pa.

To Save The Babies

The Catawba County Medical Society last week went on record as favoring tentative plans suggested by the State Board of Health to endeavor to inaugurate some special, intensive work on child hygiene in that county, dealing especially with care and feeding of infants and summer diarrhoeal diseases. If the plan is finally adopted, it will probably mean the employment of a specialist on children's diseases for several months or even a year. So far as is known, if this plan is adopted it will be the first work of this nature ever adopted in this county.
