Alamance county has adopted a novel plan of health work proposed by the State Board of Health. They propose to have a health inspection of all their schools and school children and a health day for the entire school district. This contract has been made with the State Board of Health and is to begin November first. Briefly, the plan is to have a competent inspector make a thorough physical examination, especially of the eyes, ears, teeth and throats of all the children, where there is a possibility of a physical defect and endeavor to have it remedied. There will also be an inspection of the school grounds and house, the lighting, the ventilation, the water, the sewage disposal, etc., followed by a health program of speakings in the afternoon and an illustrated health lecture with lantern slides for the public in the evening.

HEALTH HELPS FOR TEACHERS

How The State Board of Health can Co-operate With the Teachers of The State.

Teachers from all over the State are continuously writing the State Board of Health asking how, and to what extent, can the Board help them in their work. To answer this question briefly is the object of this article.

1. Every teacher in the State should receive the Monthly Health Bulletin. If those who do not already receive it will send in their names and addresses they will be placed on the mailing list, free of charge. Some county superintendents of schools send a complete list of the names of their teachers to the State Board of Health every year for this purpose.

2. This Board will furnish to teachers or superintendents free, upon request, copies of all special bulletins or leaflets on various health subjects either singly for their personal use or in quantities for distribution in their schools. The Board has now a number of four-page leaflets, written in a popular style, on the following subjects: Tuberculosis, Typhoid Fever, Flies, Privies, Care and Feeding of Babies and Cancer. Other similar leaflets will appear from time to time. Such material is suitable for supplementary reading.

3. A 16-page illustrated bulletin on mosquitoes and malaria, especially prepared for school use will be found of considerable value in the eastern and piedmont sections of our State.

4. The Board will furnish also large illustrated placards in two colors, 14 inches by 22 inches, on Tuberculosis, Typhoid, and Flies. These are suitable for posting in public places.

5. For schools, churches, clubs, moving picture theaters, health officers, physicians, and others desiring illustrated health lectures, sets of stereoptical lantern slides and lecturers may be borrowed from this Board. These slides have been carefully chosen and arranged in sets of from 50 to 70 slides each, together with a written lecture which may be used as a guide, or outline, in part or in its entirety. Such sets of slides and corresponding lectures have been prepared on the following subjects: Tuberculosis, Typhoid Fever, Flies, Effect of Alcohol on the Body, Patent Medicines, Health and Sanitation, Prevention of Blindness, and Eyes, Ears, Nose and Throat. Others will probably be added from time to time.

6. For those who desire to use some of the above sets of slides and lectures, but who do not have a stereoptical lantern available, this Board will loan a small acetylene gas lantern, which may be used in connection with a gas tank from an automobile. These lanterns, packed for shipment by parcel post, weigh about 20 pounds. An initial charge of 50 cents, plus 25 cents a week for the second and subsequent weeks is made to pay in part for the postage, packing and wear and tear on these lanterns. Directions for setting up and operating these lanterns accompany them. The operation of the lantern is very simple, and no one should have any difficulty in setting it up or operating it, even though he has never operated such a lantern before or even though no directions were furnished.

7. The Board has also a number of parcel post exhibits on Typhoid Fever which will be loaned to teachers free of charge. These exhibits consist of 24 charts hinged together, in sets of three. Whenever available these exhibits will be loaned to individual teachers for a period of not over three days but, preference will always be given county and city superintendents of schools who will arrange to have these exhibits sent from one school to another in regular order, so that the greatest possible number of scholars may be served with a minimum loss of time and money. In this manner the only expense to each school will be from 16 to 26 cents for postage.

8. A limited number of sets of printed and illustrated cloth charts on the subject of the house fly will be loaned to any teacher, superintendent, physician, health officers or other persons who will agree to show them or give at least one lecture from them. These charts are 63 inches wide by 70 inches high, and come in sets of 14, mounted on an iron tripod. Accompanying the chart is a pointer and a printed lecture. The whole comes securely packed in a canvas case and weighs about 34 pounds. These charts have met with considerable favor wherever they have been used as they require no lantern and can be used well or better in day time than at night. In some places they are used at open-air meetings.

9. In co-operation with the State Superintendent of Public Instruction this Board is preparing a bulletin for the use of the State, either as a basis for three-minute morning health talks as a supplement to the study of physiology, sanitation and hygiene, or otherwise as the teacher may elect. When completed, which will probably

"BILIOUSNESS"—A SOUTHERN DISEASE

State Board of Health Bulletin.

Dr. W. A. Evans tells the people of the South what causes that lazy, heavy feeling which they call "biliousness," "torpid liver" or "touch of malaria," and for it offers one or more safe remedies. He says:

"The Southern people eat too much of starches and sugars. For instance, at breakfast they will have biscuits, waffles, and spoon bread. They eat two or three starchy foods at each meal. If they will eat less food, especially less starches and sweets, if they will eat more fruit and more of the coarser articles of diet, and if they will exercise more, they will get bilious less often.

"When they get bilious and a purgative is needed, a dose of salts or a glass of purgative water is about all that is needed. Calomel is not a direct liver stimulant. Indirectly, it stimulates the liver by stimulating the intestines.

"In nine cases out of ten, biliousness is relieved better, all things considered, by a medicine which acts solely or practically so in the large intestine. If that part of the intestine is rid of its poison, the liver can take care of what has already been absorbed.

"As to taking quinine for those constipated effects called biliousness, for those vague ill feelings commonly referred to as a touch of malaria, quinine is of no service.

Such symptoms disappear after a course of quinine and calomel, you say. Surely. They would disappear after a course of calomel alone, or after a dose of castor oil, or after a cold morning bath, some exercise and a light diet, or they would disappear spontaneously without any medicine, maybe."
