

FROM OUR CORRESPONDENTS

FRANKLINVILLE NEWS

W. G. Patterson has moved his family to Greensboro. R. W. Jordan made a business trip to Greensboro Friday. Several of our people are attending court at Asheboro this week. Miss Alice Parks, of Greensboro, spent Sunday with Miss Leanna Hobson. Mr. Harold Turner, of Greensboro, spent Sunday with the family of J. W. Steel. Rev. J. T. Rogers, of his church, Mr. W. A. Cox, of Methodist, has been in the city a few days with his mother, Mrs. Belle Cox. Geo. Simmons left Monday for Guilford College and Miss Julia left Tuesday for Pleasant Garden. C. H. Ellison has opened a restaurant in the new American building where every luxury is to be had. Prof. and Mrs. J. M. Waddley have been called to the bedside of Mr. Waddley, a member of Guilford county, who is seriously ill. Mr. and Mrs. Clara Saunders, of Illinois, spent a few days here last week with the family of E. S. Saunders and left Saturday accompanied by Mr. Saunders, who will for a few days visit with relatives in Montgomery county, pointments at the M. E. church Sunday. The subject of 11 o'clock being the importance of caring for the young men. His text was 2nd Sam. 18:29. "Is the young man safe?" The sermon was highly interesting and helpful as he showed how all classes of people, as a rule, will exert every effort at their disposal to improve and bring their business up to the highest state of perfection. The farmer is very much interested in taking care of the soil, raising crops, and cattle and properly caring for them. The business man and people in all walks of life tax every energy to improve their temporal interests which is all right, but we should be vastly more interested in the young men and young ladies on whose shoulders the destiny of the nation must soon rest. The young man who is neglected and forms the evil habits of intemperance, swearing, card playing, extravagance and the like cannot control of govern himself and is not safe. Therefore it is important and our duty to through the arm of protection around them by giving them proper training, good books to read, work to do in the Sunday school and church that their lives will not only be a blessing and honor to themselves, but to their parents, community and State.

RAMSEUR ITEMS

A number of our people attended court last Monday. Mr. David Ellison returned to his home at Madison Tuesday after spending some time with friends in town. Mrs. Della Phillips and children, of Jonesboro, after spending a month with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Baldwin, returned to her home last Saturday. Miss Edie Hadden left Monday for Terrell, N. C., where she will have charge of a millinery business. Mr. C. B. Smith returned from Baltimore Sunday where he had been purchasing goods for the coming season for Carter Mercantile Company. Mr. M. E. Johnson spent Saturday night with his sister, Mrs. J. C. Marsh, in Greensboro who has just undergone an operation. We are glad to learn she is improving. The many friends of Miss Ora Scott are glad to know she will soon be home from St. Leo's where she was operated on for appendicitis. Rev. W. O. Johnson and family returned from Asheville last Friday after spending several days with Mrs. Johnson's father. Quite a goodly number of our folks took advantage of the free typhoid inoculation this week. Please don't take it by the left arm now for a few days. Ramseur appreciated the complimentary remarks of the Asheboro correspondent in last week's issue. Just say as many good things about Ramseur as you feel like. Our correspondent it won't make us "puffed up." Our graded school opened last Wednesday with the number above the two hundred mark. In addition to this work Prof. White is still conducting his night school three nights a week. This is a very worthy work and is being very much appreciated by our people, especially those who are reaping the benefit by attending. We are not sure which of the two hired men will get the new hat this fall for the best crop of corn, Mr. E. C. Watkins or Mr. A. H. Thomas' man. They both deserve one or at least they have both done well. Both crops are very fine. But the best example of "land making" and one of the best fields of corn we have seen is here in town. Mr. I. P. Craven has a field in corn that is a credit to any farmer. The former owner of this field had trouble with his neighbor's chickens eating his corn just before "pulling time," but Mr. Craven has experimented on vegetable fertilizing (rotation of peas and crimson clover) for three years until now he has no fear of the chickens, even the Indian Games. He will certainly get a good yield from this land this year.

DENTON NEWS

Life's house is ours to keep in order as we should. That quiet consciences may sleep And souls enjoy their food, Disorder soon betrays Some moral breaking down, Till of it soon or late The gossips start to prate— Instead of pause to praise— And it in their opinion rate The worst kept house in town! —Benttown Bard.

Children Cry FOR FLETCHER'S CASTORIA

NOT ENOUGH FOOD RAISED IN THE STATE In an address before the Franklin county farmers at Louisburg last Thursday, Dr. H. Q. Alexander, president of the States Farmers' Union, urged the production of foodstuffs and stock raising, declaring that not a single county in the State is making its own living. Alleghany county comes nearer doing it than any other, and yet she pays annually $19,000,000 for food stuffs. Mecklenburg county pays $4,400,000 for supplies every year that she ought to raise at home. It is a well established fact of history, the speaker declared, that no agricultural people have ever succeeded who did not diversify their crops and raise their own supplies at home. In this State there is only one milk cow for every 7 1/2 population, and she is not a good one; one mule or horse for every six persons; one sheep for every 11 population, and 1/2 of a hog apiece. This ratio is decreasing rapidly. The speaker prophesied that at the present rate of decrease in live stock within ten years only the very rich could afford to eat meat at all. ATTRACTIVE HATS For the Younger Girls who are going away. We are now displaying several shipments of Fall and Winter Millinery. The hats this year are very stylish; but not in years has fashion decreed sparsity of trimming. Simplicity is the vogue—but the designs are stunning. We are displaying a very attractive hat for the girls who are completing their college and school outfits. The designs range from the simplest to the most elaborate creations of the new season. We will announce our formal opening later, but for the present we are exceptionally well prepared to meet the needs of our patrons, and particularly have kept in mind the girls.
