

HOW A COUNTY CAN HAVE GOOD ROADS

Why should a county have a system of highways? Because it is a business proposition, an investment yielding quick and sure profits. Values follow population and population follows good roads. Texas could take care of the entire population of the United States and not have more per square mile than Massachusetts (419). Austria Hungary, about the size of Texas, has a population of 51,000,000. Three hundred and fifty thousand homeseekers and tourists visit Texas every year. They want to buy property on a good road because they are used to good roads back home.

Good roads move the farm into the zone of profitable market crops. Food and food stuffs formerly moved to a few large centers of population. Now there are many cities and a large number right here in Texas which must depend upon Texas soil to produce what they eat. This means a change from staple crops to diversified farming, which is largely dependent on road conditions. The Texas slogan, "Raise it, make it and buy it in Texas," means very little to farmers living on bad roads.

Carload shipments in place of the express package is the result of a quick, sure market provided the farmer by good roads. Cheap transportation to the railroad will at once reduce price to a consumer and increase profit to farmer.

Good roads are the foundation for community and social center development. The era of trunk line railroad building is passed. With feeders to the railroad improved, delivery of farm products to market and supplies to country store and home can be made by auto truck. Articles in Farm and Ranch recently prove that co-operative hauling of produce, supplies and passengers by motor vehicle is already established in sections of Texas and other states having good roads. Provisions are being made for other such lines in the state and the movement promises much.

Modern farmers are not satisfied to merely exist, they want to live and enjoy life. Good roads will bring the social advantages of the city, consolidated rural schools and churches to the farmer's door. Boys and girls stay on the farm where living conditions are made attractive by good roads.

Who is responsible for the present condition of our roads?

County officials and citizens must share this responsibility. If the proceeds of the regular road and bridge levy are expended mainly on repairs, without lasting results, the people are very often to blame. Show me a group of five business men who will undertake to spread $10,000 to $12,000 over several miles of road, with people in all parts of the county clamoring for relief, who will guarantee larger results. When precinct lines are obliterated and the people combine their interests it becomes possible for them to determine where the work of improvement shall begin.

Any public improvement is supposed to seek the greatest good of the greatest number, which is particularly true of better roads, as every man, woman and child is directly benefited. Therefore it is important that the voters select the roads in the order of their importance from the standpoint of traffic and population served. This relieves the commissioners of their greatest burden by placing all the people on record for a definite system of roads.

When can a county have a system of modern highways?

When a county road association is organized to include every voter if possible, this association to appoint an advisory committee to co-operate with the commissioners' court as follows: (a) select system of roads; (b) secure a highway engineer from the A. and M. College, the federal office of public roads or private firm to make a preliminary estimate of cost; (c) engage a construction engineer of known ability after funds are provided; (d) assist the commissioners in giving the county a perfected system of roads at lowest cost.

How can a county build a system of modern highways?

With harmony prevailing between officials and people, the system of roads selected, preliminary estimate of cost compiled, and a business administration for construction determined, there is but one problem to solve, viz: how to get the money. Five hundred and fifty millions of dollars in municipal and county bonds issued in the United States last year prove that the people accept this method of raising money. Don't be afraid of a county bond issue for roads; be afraid of spending the proceeds without expert advice and supervision.

Where shall we get money to invest in modern roads? Pledge the county credit and borrow it from bankers in the North and East at five per cent.

Who will spend the money? The commissioners' court and advisory committee acting as a board of directors with an experienced highway engineer as superintendent.

For what will the money be spent? A system of modern roads serving a large majority of the people in the county.

Who will pay off the bond issue? Public improvement requires cooperation. The tax paid by one man would not build 10 feet of good road, but the tax payers in town and rural districts co-operating with railroads, telephone and telegraph companies can build a road all the way from farm to market. Payment is distributed over a period of years and is shared alike by present and future population who enjoy the benefits.

An efficient expenditure of a bond issue for modern highways will mean more business, more days in every year with more people who have more money. There is but one question before any community when considering an investment in good roads. Shall we go through mud to misery, through sand to solitude, or over good roads to prosperity?—Farm and Ranch.

BILLY SUNDAY STORMS OMAHA

Billy Sunday is facing what will probably be the greatest year of his spectacular career. Omaha, Syracuse, Trenton, Baltimore, Louisville, Grand Rapids are on the list of cities he expects to take for God. The campaign in Omaha began with every church in the city lined up with the fiery evangelist. He came fresh and strong from his ranch in Oregon after the longest vacation he has taken in eighteen years. Omaha, the leaders there say, has been too busy making money to take much interest in religion. But Billy is "waking them up!" The only paper of national circulation that is telling the story of Billy Sunday's work wherever he goes is The Sunday School Times. Every week during the campaign in all these cities, an article is published, written by one in the city in close touch with the work. The articles on the beginning of the great Omaha campaign are now being published. Send a post card request to The Sunday School Times Company, 1031 Walnut St., Philadelphia, Pa., and a sample copy containing one of these stirring articles will gladly be sent free.

A DANGEROUS MISTAKE

Asheboro Mothers Should Not Neglect Kidney Weakness in Children. Many children have weak kidneys. An early warning is bed-wetting. Often followed by backache, headache, languor.

This a mistake to neglect these troubles.

To blame the child for its own distress.

Seek to check the cause. Save the child from dangerous kidney ills.

Doan's Kidney Pills are especially for weak kidneys.

Asheboro parents know their worth. Mrs. J. F. Lewis, Sunset St., Asheboro, says: "One of my children had weak kidneys and at night was unable to control the kidney secretions. This weakness made her health very poor. After taking Doan's Kidney Pills, she began to improve and it required only three boxes to cure her. She is now strong and healthy."

Price 50c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. Lewis recommends. Foster-Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.

A WORD TO THE COMMITTEEMEN

The time will soon have come for the rural schools to open throughout the county, and in order to be prepared for the opening, a few timely suggestions to the committeemen and patrons as to their duties, will not be out of place.

1. The school house should be swept and put in order, seats properly arranged, blackboards securely fastened to the wall, stoves polished and window lights put in where they have fallen out. It matters not how careful the patrons are with their school house, a great deal of filth will collect in it during vacation months. Defective stove flues should be repaired for in many instances they have been built a long time, and are extremely dangerous.

An ample supply of winter wood should be prepared before the school opens in order that the pupils will not be in danger for the lack of heat.

The grounds should be cleaned of all rubbish in order to make it more attractive.

The most important duty of all is to see to it that sanitary conditions are such as to secure every child good health. The water supply is very important. In most instances the water supply comes from old springs, and no doubt they are often filled with germs. No one can be too careful about drinking water. Sanitary water buckets and individual cups will often help to eliminate diseases.

EDUCATION LOOKING UP

Mr. Bion H. Butler, writing to the News and Observer Sunday has this to say in regard to educational progress in North Carolina:

"North Carolina may have been mighty close to the bottom in education, in health, in some other things, but I am of the opinion that the rate of progress that the State is making now is one that will put her close to the head of the class before any of us are much older. I have an idea that Joyner, Rankin, McBrayer, Graham, Branson, Poe, and a lot of others are waking North Carolina to a forward movement in education, health, and progress in all directions that is equalled by very few other States and possibly by none. If the whole United States is making the percentage of progress in school health, and other public and social conditions that North Carolina is making then this big country is going to be what the boys call a peach in the next few years."

SEVERE PUNISHMENT

Of Mrs. Chappell, of Five Years' Standing, Relieved by Cardui.

Mr. Alry, N. C.—Mrs. Sarah M. Chappell of this town, says: "I suffered for five years with womanly troubles, also stomach troubles, and my punishment was more than any one could tell."

I tried most every kind of medicine, but none did me any good. I read one day about Cardui, the woman's tonic, and I decided to try it. I had not taken but about six bottles until I was almost cured. It did me more good than all the other medicines I had tried, put together.

My friends began asking me why I looked so well, and I told them about Cardui. Several are now taking it.

Do you, lady reader, suffer from any of the ailments due to womanly trouble, such as headache, backache, sideache, sleeplessness, and that everlasting tired feeling?

If so, let us urge you to give Cardui a trial. We feel confident it will help you, just as it has a million other women in the past half century.

Begin taking Cardui to-day. You won't regret it. All druggists.

WHAT CATARRH IS

It has been said that every third person has catarrh in some form. Science has shown that nasal catarrh often indicates a general weakness of the body; and local treatments in the form of snuffs and vapors do little, if any good.

To correct catarrh you should treat its cause by enriching your blood with the oil-food in Scott's Emulsion which is a medicinal food and a building- tonic, free from alcohol or any harmful drugs. Try it.
