WHERE DID CATHERINE WINTERS GO?

The Courier is indebted to Mrs. Minnie Luther Maness, of New Castle, Indiana, for the song of Catherine Winters, who disappeared from the streets of New Castle March 20, 1913. She was the 9 year old daughter of Dr. W. A. Winters.

Where Did Catherine Winters Go?

There's a mystery in New Castle,
Tell me truly, if you know,
Why did Catherine Winters leave us
And the friends that loved her so?

Merry birds sing round her homestead,
Flowers bloom, friends come and go;
But the mystery in New Castle,
Where did Catherine Winters go?

Chorus:—
Is she far away in bondage—
Controlled by cruel hands?
Or is she among the angels,
In the Holy Land?

Soft winds sigh and breezes whisper,
As for her our hearts do yearn—
Roses bloom in all their beauty,
But will Catherine return?

Telephones were busy ringing,
Quickly news flashed through the town
That the Winters girl was missing,
And nowhere could she be found.

Willing hearts, some teardrops falling,
Spread the news for miles around,
Have you seen the little darling—
Who is missing from our town?

Chorus:—
Would you know her if you'd see her,
As through foreign lands you roam?
If you do please send her home.

Holy angels, tell me truly,
Has she now a home with God—
Is her spirit with the angels,
And her form beneath the sod?

No Indigestion, Gas, Or Stomach Misery In Five Minutes

"Pape's Diasepsin" for sour, acid, stomach, heartburn, dyspepsia.

Time it! In five minutes all stomach distress will go. No indigestion, heart-burn, sourness or belching of gas, acid, or eructations of undigested food, no dizziness, bloating, foul breath or headache.

Pape's Diasepsin is noted for its speed in regulating upset stomachs. It is the surest, quickest and most certain indigestion remedy in the whole world, and besides it is harmless.

Millions of men and women now eat their favorite foods without fear—they know Pape's Diasepsin will save them from any stomach misery.

Please, for your sake, get a large fifty-cent case of Pape's Diasepsin from any drug store and put your stomach right. Don't keep on being miserable—life is too short—you are not here long, so make your stay agreeable. Eat what you like and digest it; enjoy it, without dread of rebellion in the stomach.

Pape's Diasepsin belongs in your home anyway. Should one of the family eat something which don't agree with them, or in case of an attack of indigestion, dyspepsia, gastritis or stomach derangement at daytime or during the night, it is handy to give the quickest, surest relief known.

LETTER OF THANKS

I wish to thank our kind friends and relatives in Randolph for their care of my father during his last days of affliction. I realize he has been a care for several years. May God's blessings be upon the people there. It had always been the desire of his children to have their father with them but he could not be contented there. We feel that he is in the Better Land. May we all meet him there where suffering and separation come no more.

Sincerely,
CORA L. ANTHONY.

HALLOWE'EN PARTY AT MILLBORO

The Bachelor Belles delightfully entertained at a hallowe'en party October 31st at the home of Miss Ba Brown. The guests began to arrive about six p. m. and from that time forth the evening was one of continuous merriment. Games of different kinds were played. There came the fortune teller who furnished much amusement telling fortunes.

Delicious refreshments were served consisting of pumpkin pie, molasses cake, chocolate cookies, pickles and persimmon pudding.

Those present to enjoy the hospitality of the Bachelor Belles were: Messrs. Bruton Ellis, Dwight Tregdon, Rufus Routh, Charles and McKinley Julian.

GIRLS! HAVE WAVY, THICK, GLOSSY HAIR FREE FROM DANDRUFF

Save your hair! Double its beauty in a few moments—try this!

If you care for heavy hair, that glistens with beauty and is radiant with life; has an incomparable softness and is fluffy, and lustrous, try Danderine.

Just one application doubles the beauty of your hair, besides it immediately dissolves every particle of dandruff; you cannot have nice, heavy, healthy hair if you have dandruff. This destructive scurf is the hate of its lustre, its strength and its very life, and if not overcome it produces a feverishness and itching of the scalp; the hair roots firmish, loosen and die; then the hair falls out fast.

If your hair has been neglected and is thin, faded, dry, scraggy or too oily, get a 25-cent bottle of Knowlton's Danderine at any drug store or toilet counter; apply a little as directed and ten minutes after you will say this was the best investment you ever made.

We sincerely believe, regardless of everything else advertised, that if you desire soft, lustrous, beautiful hair and lots of it—no dandruff—no itching scalp and no more falling hair—you must use Knowlton's Danderine. If eventually—why not now?

"SLEEPING OUT" FASHIONABLE

Modern Homes Must Have Sleeping Porches to be Efficient.

A bulletin from the State Board of Health says:

"Sleeping out used to be a fad, and was practiced more for the novelty of the idea than for the good it was supposed to bring about, but today the fad stage has passed and the sleeping out habit, and the sleeping porch have come to stay and take their places in the home equipment. The custom of sleeping regularly in the open air and the idea that every healthful, efficient home must have a sleeping porch are winning new devotees every day. As a matter of fact, all the modern homes are now being built with these necessary fresh air apartments and many of the old homes are rapidly providing similar arrangements.

The bulletin mentions several advantages to be derived from this fresh air crusade, among which are, a greater immunity to colds and other communicable diseases, an increased bodily vigor, need of less artificial heat for comfort, and as a preventative of tuberculosis and bronchial troubles. "It stands to reason", says the bulletin, "that if fresh air is the most vital factor in the cure of consumption, it is of the greatest value in warding off consumption."

The bulletin further advises that this is the ideal season of the year to form the habit of "sleeping out". To begin it later on in the winter might be hazardous, but to begin now, in the fall, and gradually tune up to the very cold weather will be easy and will be the means of getting the benefits of our door sleeping all winter. Of course proper sleeping garments are necessary. Large, soft, porous pajamas with plenty of double blankets under as well as over for cover should be provided.

SELECTING SEED BEANS

Great care should be exercised in selecting seed beans. Each farmer should see to it that all his beans suitable for seed are separated and not sold for market use. The following are a few facts from the United States Board of Agriculture:

Get seed from your own crop if possible. If there are no clean pods in your own crop try to secure clean pods from a more fortunate neighbor.

Select in the pod—not after thrashing.

Pick pods free from all spots. Spots on the pods mean that anthracnose or bacterial blight may be hidden in the seemingly clean bean.

Thrash selected pods separately.

Examine your thrashed seed carefully and throw out all doubtful-looking beans, especially those that are spotted or shriveled.

Rotate—Don't replant old bean ground next year. Clean seed and crop rotation are the best crop insurance.

If you have to buy your seed make sure that it has been selected by the grower from disease-free pods. Examine purchased seed. Do not plant if the thrashed seed looks suspicious.

Look ahead—insure a supply of clean seed for 1917 by selecting seed from clean pods and planting it on clean land in 1916.

FOR TRADE—I bought a bargain in a Ford Automobile Runabout today, its for sale cheap or will trade for horse and buggy.

A SORRY EXCUSE

The Highlander, published at Shelby, with Mr. R. H. DePriest as editor, announces that it has changed from "Independent" paper and is now for 'Republican Protection and Prosperity.'

Giving its reason for a change of politics it declares: "low tariff proves disastrous to prosperity," taking forth as its proof for the assertion that it had gone into debt since Woodrow Wilson became President.

We have heard many amusing reasons for a change in political position, but it strikes us that this is about as amusing a one as we have come across. Let's look into the matter and see.

Immediately following the inauguration of President Wilson business was in good shape, and the papers of the country were having a large advertising patronage. That continued in the South till conditions brought on by the war in Europe cut to the bone prices of the cotton crop, and money ran short in the South. Because of this there was a large reduction in advertising, and papers throughout the South especially had to economize. Especially hard was the burden upon daily papers, but they pulled along, as did the weeklies, and this year with the increase in the price of cotton newspaper advertising has rebounded and has gone to a higher place than before the war.

The tariff has had nothing to do with the newspaper business, or with any business since the war began, for imports have been shut out from many countries and the business interests of this country have not felt any effects of foreign competition in a degree to hurt. If Editor DePriest's Highlander lost money it did it because it did not receive patronage enough to run it, and his low tariff excuse for a change of politics amounts to nothing.

That the Highlander is in financial difficulties is stated by the Cleveland Star, also published at Shelby. But the Highlander is not the only paper which has owed money, and its friends regret that such difficulties beset it. But to lay its troubles upon a Democratic revenue tariff, which admittedly, has never had a chance because of the war, is an attempt to shift the cause of the indebtedness of the Highlander, which no Democratic paper can let go unchallenged, for the tariff is as far removed from the difficulties of that paper as the assertion that the moon is made of green cheese is removed from the truth.—News and Observer.

FORD'S NEW IRON PROCESS.

Makes Iron From Ore by One Heat, It is Said—Will Give Secret Free to the World. (Detroit Dispatch to New York Times.)

The Ford Motor Company today announced a new discovery in metallurgy of great importance to the iron and steel industries of the United States. Hereafter the iron ore consumed at the Ford plant, from 700 to 1,000 tons a day, will go into the blast furnaces in its crude state and be refined by one "heat" into both pure gray iron and malleable iron. On Mr. Ford's return from California his associates said today he would give his secret to the world free of all royalties.

From the time the crude ore enters the furnace until it is turned out in the form of completely milled parts for motor cars it will not be allowed to cool. One process, instead of two or more, accomplishes this result. For experiments, which have been going on under the personal direction of Mr. Ford, a big steel plant in Detroit was commandeered, with its working force, so that the daily production schedule of the Ford plant might not be disturbed. The new discovery, it is asserted, will save the Ford Motor Company $5,500,000 a year.

Charles A. Brownell, one of the officials of the Ford Company, tonight issued the following statement regarding the discovery:

"Today the Ford Motor Company announces that the making of gray iron and malleable iron direct from the initial heat of the blast furnace has been accomplished. The elements while still in a molten state are changed and refined and finally finished and poured direct into molds for gray iron or malleable castings as the case may be. This has worked out an actual fact and work produced. What seemed to be an impossibility, has been accomplished.

"This new process not only effects a great economy in the cost of manufacturing, but also produces grey and malleable iron of much greater strength and durability.

"With the Ford Motor Company's use of at least 700 tons of this metal a day one can readily realize the vast saving that will be secured. This discovery will prove of tremendous importance not only in the motor car industry, but in all lines of manufacture where these metals are used."

Fruitland Institute Endorses the York Piano.

We have three York Pianos at Fruitland Institute, near Hendersonville, N. C., and they have given such satisfaction that I have instructed two other schools of our system to purchase the York.

I wish to add further that my business relations with the Weaver Organ and Piano Co. have been pleasant and satisfactory.

Notice that Dr. Brown did not base his opinion on the appearance of the York Piano. He knows what the York Piano is because of what it has done under severe conditions at Fruitland. It is a piano that gives perfect satisfaction.

Remember Mr. Hammer selected the York Piano for the Courier contest over all competition. You can have a York Piano in your home, church or school under very reasonable conditions if you write or call at once.

The Misses Ingle Entertain.
On last Friday night Misses Nina and Lucile Ingle delightfully entertained a number of their friends at their home. The occasion was Miss Nina Ingle's 16th birthday, and Hallowe'en was also observed.

The guests were received in the parlor which was beautifully decorated with bright colored leaves. Rook was played by part of the guests, the others were engaged in conversation.

After the games were over and each one had their fortune told, delicious cakes, pickles and fruit were served. At a late hour the guests departed for their homes, each declaring that they had a very enjoyable time.
