LONGWORTH'S SPEECH.

The speech made in New York recently by Hon. Nicholas Longworth was severe in its arraignment of the Democratic party. According to an assertion in his speech "The American people under the administration are riding hell-bent to bankruptcy and paying for their privilege with a war tax. Their boasted prosperity has not come. Want and misery have prevailed in the land. Some industries, it is true, are prosperous, but they are industries which are not supplying the American market, but the markets of the warring countries of Europe."

Mr. Longworth's assertions are not borne out by present business conditions. The facts and figures show that the business of the country is flourishing under the present administration as it never did under the Republican rule. The Philadelphia Record says:

"If views of a Democrat on such a subject may be considered prejudiced one should consult the trade journals, which are supposed to contain the unvarnished truth. Instead of the United States riding hell-bent to bankruptcy it is flourishing as it never did under a Republican regime, if one may believe the reports of bank clearings and the news of remarkable activity in nearly every industry. This is not due to war orders, but to the splendid crops, and the steady development of our unparalleled resources."

A diagnosis of business conditions during the month of October is given by the National City Bank, one of the largest banking institutions in the country. This can be considered unprejudiced and an impartial authority. We submit this as an answer to Longworth's assertion.

"The outstanding feature of the business situation in October has been the fact that all trade has been unbrokenly better. We expressed the opinion two months ago, that as the season for fall trade came on the country would swing into a broad general state of activity, and that expectation has been realized. Every part of the country now sends good reports and the contrast they make with the conditions of a year ago is calculated to inspire the most profound sentiments of relief, satisfaction and gratitude."

"The South, which a year ago was prostrate, with cotton selling at 7 cents per pound or less, has regained its feet and its courage. Although this year's cotton crop is smaller by possibly twenty-five per cent., the total sales will be higher than last year, and it has been raised at a considerably lower cost. Furthermore, the South has grown more of other crops, particularly corn and wheat than ever before, and has reached the stage of being thankful for the season in 1915. With the rise of cotton to twelve cents per pound, a different atmosphere pervades the South and it is again an active factor in the trade of the country."

"The grain farmers are not faring quite so well as last year, for prices are lower, but the fields are so large that they have little cause for complaint. The one serious disappointment in agriculture this year has been in the failure of a considerable portion of the corn crop in the northern part of the belt to reach maturity, but the hay and forage crops are so abundant that the loss will be borne with comparative ease. This is the advantage of having the corn crop cut down by a late season instead of by a drought which curtails all plant growth. The fruit and root crops are generally good. The wet season dried up the plains states, so that the "dry" farmers have had a prosperous season, with unheard of yields of wheat, as well as abundant crops of sugar beets and the grasses. The prospects for a continuance of the date on sugar increases the cheerfulness of the West. The wool growers have sold this year's clip at record prices and the live stock interests are exceptionally prosperous. Farm seekers from other states are pouring into the states of the northwest where a limited amount of comparatively cheap lands are still to be had."

"The metal mining industry of the West, which was badly crippled a year ago, is now in full swing. There is enormous activity in the production of copper, lead and zinc; it is now up to capacity of the mines and smelters, and in the case of zinc, the smelter capacity is being materially increased. So far as agriculture, stock raising and mining go the West is exceedingly prosperous."

"The iron and steel industry has expanded steadily and rapidly in the past six months until the production of basic material is now surpassing all records, although some lines of finished goods are not in normal demand. There is a broad general improvement, the point has been reached where the fear of not being able to get deliveries is stimulating purchases and prices are advancing in many lines to the best figure realized in recent years. The earnings of the United States Steel Corporation for the third quarter of 1915 were the largest for any quarter in several years. New capital has begun to go into the steel industry, some of the important companies are undergoing reorganization, and capacity is being increased considerably. Attention is given to this elsewhere.

"Current railway earnings and bank clearings are now comparing with the abnormal figures of a year ago, and show heavy gains, for traffic and trade a year ago were about as poor as could be. Allowance must be made for extraordinary activity in certain lines, notably automobiles and war materials, but the general merchandise movement is much freer, and more confidence is manifested in commercial and industrial circles than at any time since the outbreak of the war. The figures for idle cars have taken a sudden drop, and complaints of car shortage, congestion of traffic and labor shortage are becoming frequent. Business is not booming in all lines. Large construction work is still below what it should be in normal times in this growing country, but the amount of building of the smaller class makes a good showing. The available supply of labor is so fully employed that the situation is on the verge of being critical. Food supplies promise to be abundant and moderate in price for the coming year, and the outlook for general comfort and prosperity in the United States is at present promising."

In her annual address before the North Carolina Teachers' Assembly in Raleigh recently the president of the association, Miss Mary O. Graham, made a very sensible plea for efficiency in the schools of the State. She insisted that there must be intelligent and complete co-operation among the teachers of the State. Miss Graham declared that the hardest blow that has befallen the cause of education in this State came last February when the legislature voted down the bill to put the teachers on professional basis designed to gradually raise the standard of efficiency.

In a speech before the board of agriculture at Raleigh last Wednesday Governor Clegg reiterated his purpose of returning to the farm about a year from now to devote his time to farming and the practice of law. He spoke of the great strides made by the State in agriculture in the last few years and said that this was only the beginning. "But more than all" said the Governor, "the great production means that we are a better people. The better production we bring about the better homes we make."

FRANKLINVILLE NEWS

Rev. H. C. Byrum, our new pastor at the M. E. church, made a very favorable impression on our people Sunday by preaching two able sermons as a prelude to the work he has planned for the coming year.

Quite an interesting teachers' meeting was held at the M. E. church Sunday evening. There was a full attendance and the new course for teachers' training was highly commended by every one present and it is earnestly hoped that every teacher will avail themselves of the rare opportunity to be present at every session and endeavor to become more efficient in their work as teachers in the Sunday school. It is of the highest callings that mortal man has ever been allowed to enter.

Mrs. J. C. Measer and daughter, Orlis, Misses Minnie Tippet, Eva Cox and Blanche Cox made a shopping trip to Greensboro Thursday.

Mr. Linn Brower, of Cedar Falls, has moved to the residence recently vacated by R. B. Stutte.

J. H. Massey and R. C. Curtis spent Sunday evening at Siler City.

W. H. Campbell left Saturday for Raleigh, his former home, and will move his family to this place this week.

The play rendered at the academy Saturday night by the Ladies Aid Society was quite a success. About $29.00 was realized and our people are now convinced on the woman suffrage question and if the weather is favorable they will likely convince the good town of Rameur Saturday night on the same theme.

Messrs. C. H. Ellison, H. F. Allred and C. E. Allred have returned from their hunting and fishing expedition in Montgomery county and have placed to their credit 65 muskrats, 1 mink, 2 opossums, 2 raccoons, several squirrels, 3 turkeys, a lot of fine fish, one certain 19 1/4 inches long and 4 inches between the eyes.

There will be entertainments and Xmas trees for the Sunday school Xmas at all three of the churches, where everybody will be welcome.

DEMOCRATIC CONVENTION TO MEET AT ST. LOUIS

The Democratic National Convention of 1916 will be held at St. Louis, beginning Wednesday, June 14, at noon.
