It is to the best interests of the farmers of the county to make every possible use of the county demonstration work. Mr. Foust is anxious to help every farmer in the county and would like especially to hear from any farmer who wants assistance in any special line of agriculture. The demonstration work is for the farmers and every possible use should be made of it. Consult the demonstrator any time and do not hesitate to write him about any matter with which you think he can help.

Deputy Sheriff C. T. Luck went to Pittsboro Monday afternoon to get two prisoners to work on the Randolph county road force, returning Tuesday afternoon.

Mrs. Mollie Robbins, wife of Cicero Robbins, died at her home in Back Creek township Tuesday from tuberculosis, aged 49 years. A husband and two children, Carson and Erma, survive. Funeral services were conducted Wednesday at Charlotte church.

Deputy Sheriff T. H. Ellison arrested Tom Hatwood, colored, near Ramseur Saturday morning and brought him to Asheboro where he was given a hearing before Squire J. S. Ridge, who remanded him to jail in default of $100 bond. Hatwood is charged with assault with deadly weapon on Tom Keek, colored, about a week ago.

At a business meeting of the Phila-thea class of the M. P. church, Mrs. Ferree Ross was elected president, Miss Ethel Lovett vice-president, Miss Cora Redding secretary, Miss Clarie Presnell treasurer, and Miss Lena Cole assistant secretary and treasurer. After the business meeting, the hostess, Mrs. J. S. Lewis, delightfully entertained the members with a social.

The number of new residences and barns in process of building all over the county are evidences of the prosperity of the farmers of the county. Four new residences and a barn are going up along the road to Franklinville and reports from other sections of the county show that no part is very far ahead of the other this winter in new buildings.

Among those from Randolph in attendance at the Live Stock Show at Salisbury this week we note from Ramseur Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Foust, Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Forrester, and Mr. W. W. Lowe of Asheboro Route 2. The people of our county are becoming more interested every day in better stock and better methods of farming.

A new hardware store, another comparatively new store and a roller mill give promise of a larger and better town at Seagrave. This little town 12 miles south of Asheboro has had a very rapid growth in the last few years. There are many residences and stores that have been erected there during this time.

There will be a community service at the Baptist church, Randleman, next Sunday, January 30, at 11 a. m. Rev. A. R. Bell will deliver the sermon. The people of all the churches of the town are invited to attend, and a good service is expected. The plan is to call the churches of the town together on all its fifth Sundays of this year for a community service at some one of the churches.

Jailer Steed has nine boarders at his house this week, six of whom are awaiting trial at the March term of Superior court. Two of the nine, Kove Hall and John Turner, charged with blockading, will be tried at the April term of Federal court at Salisbury. One prisoner, Jack Wall, alias Robertson, is serving a thirty day sentence for vagrancy.

The report that Z. W. Nance, better known as Zion Nance, had been electrocuted for killing a man at Holland, Texas, is untrue according to reliable information. Mr. Nance is now a candidate for commissioner in Belts county, Texas. It is true that he shot a man in self-defense. He is a son of the late H. H. Nance, of the Farmer section and is a brother of Mr. Isom Nance of Asheboro.

Mr. G. R. Bonkemeyer has moved his family from his farm near Central Falls to Asheboro and has rented the Fisher place. Mr. Bonkemeyer will sow his farm in permanent grass and devote part of his time to other matters. Two years ago he raised 225 bushels of wheat, heaping measure, on 7 acres of land on his farm. He has raised red clover on this land that measured 6 feet and 2 inches by the square, and this of the first crop ever grown on the land. The wheat sown with the clover was completely choked out. Mr. Bonkemeyer has eleven children living and three dead, all of his children, nine girls and two boys, are with him except one daughter, Mrs. T. P. Allred, who resides at Spencer, and one son, Rev. Jesse Bonkemeyer, of Gage, Oklahoma, fourteen miles from the Texas line. Asheboro welcomes Mr. Bonkemeyer and his interesting family.

Mr. Walter Presnell returned Monday afternoon from Fort Scott, Kan., where he had been on business for several days. Mr. Presnell says that while he was in Kansas the ground was covered to a depth of eight inches with snow and ice and on Wednesday a warm rain fell melting this snow and ice causing the rivers and lowlands to be flooded. The ice floes on the Mississippi jammed against the new steel bridge in process of construction across the river at Memphis and tore away the temporary wood-work under the bridge, thereby entailing a loss of $400,000. The contractors estimate that it will take 6 months to repair the damage and get the bridge in the shape it was before the damage was done. Mr. Presnell says that the ice that jammed against the
