

Facing Universal Famine

Dr. Harvey W. Wiley, food expert, speaking recently before a meeting of the New York medical association said: There is a concerted move to repeal and mutilate the Pure Food laws under the guise of cheapening our food. These lobbyists are working for food adulteration. We are facing universal famine. We in America are better prepared to stand the test, but we must also consider our allies, who must be fed. Cereals are to save the world from famine, if it is to be saved at all. The cereals are the foundation of our diet—they are the cheapest and most nutritious form of food. Dr. Wiley added that we are facing a crop of 600,000,000 bushels of wheat when we ought to have twice that quantity. He declared white flour was "poison," and said whole grain meal should be substituted.

No Favoritism

Not all the sons of prominent men have sought "easy places" or positions of prominence in the fighting line. Attention has been called to the fact that the sons of Secretary of the Navy Daniels and Hon. Claude B. Kenna, Democratic leader in Congress, enlisted as privates, one in the Marines, the other in the army. A son of Secretary of the Treasury McAdoo is a private in the New York naval reserves. One son of Secretary Wilson of the Labor Department is a private in the states, a second is in training at Fort Myer and a third enlisted in the navy. A son of ex-Governor Taft, only 19 years old, enlisted as a private in the artillery. Another son of the ex-President enlisted in the army and was rejected on account of his physical condition. The father of a young man, who enlisted in the army, is a prominent member of the "Wall Street" crowd. The young man enlisted in the army, and his father is a prominent member of the "Wall Street" crowd. The young man enlisted in the army, and his father is a prominent member of the "Wall Street" crowd.

A Duty For Every Man

Pinson, N. C., May 28, 1917. Mr. Editor: Much to our sorrow, the war clouds are hanging low over the most peace-loving country in the world. For the past three years this country did everything in its power to stay out of the struggle, and remain at peace which it loves beyond anything else, when it can be had in an honorable way. Woodrow Wilson went his limit to stay out of the fight, but when the last ray of hope was gone to retain peace with honor, he stood like a stone wall before the American Congress and said the time had come when we must accept gauntlet of battle with that natural foe to liberty. I have often wondered just where the ones stand today who in the past have abused our President for staying out of the fight as long as he did. I have heard many make the remark that he was a coward, and would let the enemy come over here and take us before he would fight. Now, you boys who have tried so long to get in the fight have the opportunity to show to the world whether you are a traitor or an American. While our President was doing everything in his power to save the boys of America, you were classing him as a coward, and now you have the issue before you and you must act or show what you are made of. No doubt, those who talked war, so loud will be the ones that will cry to quit the war. But Woodrow Wilson says you must make good, and on the first day of June you must fight to your dying place in it and carry out your part of the agreement. Remember, your duty there will not be to make peace, but to win the war. This does not only apply to you, it applies to you, who have tried so long to get in the fight. Your President, Woodrow Wilson, says you must make good, and on the first day of June you must fight to your dying place in it and carry out your part of the agreement. Remember, your duty there will not be to make peace, but to win the war. This does not only apply to you, it applies to you, who have tried so long to get in the fight.

Danger in Cleaning With Gasoline

Most housewives would be frightened into hysterics if they saw one of their children playing with a loaded shotgun. Yet some of those same women will thoughtlessly undertake dry-cleaning in the kitchen with gasoline. Using a bowl or a pan of gasoline in the kitchen is about as harmless as playing football with a can of nitroglycerine.

A firm which manufactures a compound used with gasoline for dry-cleaning is advertising its product extensively in this country under such headlines as "Housewives Save $5 by Using Gasoline." "A Good Way to Collect Your Life Insurance" would have been a more appropriate heading.—Henderson Dispatch.

A Prayer in War

O Eternal God, Thou alone rulest the kingdoms of men; Thou art the great God of battles and recompenses, and by Thy glorious wisdom, by Thy almighty power and by Thy secret providence dost determine the events of war and returns of peace and victory; let not the defenders of a righteous cause go away ashamed, nor our counsels be confounded, nor our armies defeated. Bless our armies and navies, and the armies and navies of our confederates. Direct their counsels, unite their hearts, strengthen their hands. Do Thou crown all their endeavors with a prosperous event. Place a guard of angels about the person of the President and immune him with the defense of Thy right hand, that no unhallowed arm may do him violence. Support him with aid from heaven in all his actions, trials and dangers. Do Thou return to him with mercy and deliverance. Give unto him the hearts of all his people, and put into his hand a prevailing rod of iron and power, a sword of justice and righteousness. Grant this, O Governor among the nations, Thou to whom is all power in heaven and earth. Amen.—Jeremy Taylor.

Attention to Accumulated Rubbish

Care should be taken to clean up yards and burn accumulated rubbish away from buildings and fences where a fire might be started. Fires should not be made on days of high winds. Gather the trash in piles on a bare space and burn when some grown person can watch that no child plays with the burning brands, and that the fire is completely quenched before leaving it. Often coals will revive after being apparently dead. It is impossible to be too careful in these particulars, and many times disastrous fires will be averted by timely actions. It may be the means of lives as well as valuable property. This connection more particularly an ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure. A little precaution in the cleaning up of rubbish is timely. The result of carelessness is the result of carelessness. It is the common-sense policy-holder's loss.—Ex.

How the Women Can Help

Every woman can serve her country effectively helping to solve the food supply problem, which is already becoming serious. Below are found a few suggestions as to how both the town and country can aid in the food campaign: Plant butter beans to run on your front porch instead of Virginia creeper and morning glories. Plant tomatoes where you had nasturtiums last year. Follow all early vegetable crops with sweet potatoes and peas. If you have potato slips to bed, you can get a few vines from your neighbor. These vines can be set out as late as July 10th. Potatoes grown from vines make a smooth potato and keep well. Don't forget that turnips and pork make an appetizing dish for winter. Turnips are sown during the months of July and August. Dry all fruits and vegetables that can be saved this way and keep your jars and cans for the perishable crops which cannot be dried. Remember it is almost impossible to buy cans at any price—so don't use the glass jars and cans you have on hand for fruits and vegetables which can be dried. Don't be finicky. Be willing to try new foods. Learn to know all the good things—not a few only. Don't get into the food rut. Remove from your vocabulary "don't like" or "can't eat it." Set hens during the balance of May and all the month of June. You may not raise all that you hatch, but it will pay you even if you only raise a few. Buy day old chicks and raise them in your back yard. The cost will be small and you will find it a great saving to your meat problem.
