THERE IS NO DEATH

There is no death! The stars go down
To rise upon some fairer shore;
And bright in Heaven's jeweled crown
They shine forever more.

There is no death. The dust we tread
Shall change beneath the summer showers
To golden grain or mellow fruit,
Or rainbow tinted flowers.

The granite rocks disorganize
To feed the hanging moss they bear;
The leaves bring daily life,
From out the viewless air.

There is no death. The leaves may fall,
The flowers may fall and pass away;
They only wait through wintry hours
The coming of the May.

There is no death! An angel form
Walks o'er the earth with silent tread,
He bears our best-loved things away;
And then we call them dead.

He leaves our hearts all desolate;
He plucks our fairest, sweetest flowers;
Transported into bliss, they now
Adorn immortal bowers.

The bird-like voice, whose joyous tones
Make glad these scenes of sin and strife,
Sings now an everlasting song
Amid the trees of life.

And when he sees a smile too bright
Or hearts too pure for taint and vice,
He hears it to that world of light,
To dwell in paradise.

Born unto that undying life,
They leave us but to come again;
With joy we welcome them—the same
Except in sin and pain.

And ever near us, though unseen,
The dear immortal spirits tread;
For all the boundless universe
Is life—there are no dead.

—Sir Edward Bulwer Lytton.

Mr. Charles L. Pressnell returned Tuesday from Grand Rapids, Mich., where he has been the past week in charge of the exhibit room of the Mt. Airy Mantel and Table Company at the National Furniture Exposition.

Mr. Pressnell found business good in the furniture city. Thousands of furniture buyers were on the market and the sales were very large. The problem confronting the furniture man is that of transportation. Shipment of furniture is delayed to a large extent owing to shortage of cars. Thousands of cars are being used for the shipment of lumber to the army cantonments thus creating a shortage for the handling of other bulky freight.

The furniture dealers of Grand Rapids entertained the visiting furniture men royally. A novel feature of the entertainment brought a donation of over $700 to the Red Cross. A balloon ascended carrying a small United States flag. At a considerable distance from the earth the flag was dropped. The flag was secured by a furniture man from New York who proposed that each man write his name on the flag and pay 25 cents for the privilege. The flag was soon covered on both sides with names. Then the flag was sold at auction to the highest bidder, bringing $250.

Institute to Boost Economy

The production and conservation of food, and household economy of every kind will get a mighty boost in North Carolina this week when the staff of farmers institute conductors begin their pilgrimage over the state on July 27th. Seventy institutes will be held ending with the State Convention of Farmers here during the last week in August.

The institutes for Randolph will be held Monday, July 30, and at Farmer, Wednesday, August 15. There will be held at the same time and places a woman's institutes under the direction of Mrs. Jane S. McKimmon, State Agent of Home Demonstration work and Assistant in charge of Woman's Institutes, to which women are invited to come and join in the discussions, pertaining to food considerations, household economy, home conveniences, health in the home, and other topics of interest to mothers and housewives.

Every one is invited to bring lunch and come prepared to spend the day, and help to make these institutes the best ever held in the county. Bring a notebook and pencil so as to write down any particular information in regard to questions in which you are particularly interested. Come prepared to ask questions which will be discussed in a round table discussion in the afternoon.

This county is fortunate in having Mr. J. R. Rives to conduct the institutes, and Mrs. McKimmon's presence assures a lively and instructive institute for the women.

Dates and places for institutes in adjoining counties are:

- Guilford—Pilot Mountain, Friday July 27.
Montgomery—Montgomery, Monday, August 1.
Rockingham—Rockingham, Tuesday, August 2.
Wetmore—Wetmore, Wednesday, August 3.

For a list of dates and places for institutes in other counties, apply to the State Agent, Mrs. J. S. McKimmon, Raleigh, N. C.
