LAW NABS CRIPPEN.

End of Exciting Chase Across the Atlantic Ocean.

Dr. Hawley Harvey Crippen and Ethel Clare Leneve, his stenographer, who fled from London after the disappearance of Belle Elmore, the doctor's wife, were arrested at Father Point, Quebec, aboard the Canadian Pacific liner Montrose, at the command of Inspector Dew, of Scotland Yard.

The identification of the long-sought fugitives on board the fog-shrouded steamer by the English detectives, who had raced across the Atlantic ahead of the Montrose, marked the culmination of one of the most sensational flights in recent criminal annals.

Dew boarded the vessel at 8:30 o'clock, and fifteen minutes later both man and girl were locked in their staterooms, Crippen broken in spirit but mentally relieved by the relaxed tension; the girl, garbed in boy's clothes, sobbing hysterically. They were no longer the 'Rev. John Robinson and son,' as booked from Antwerp, on July 20.

After brief delay, the Montrose continued her 160-mile journey up the river toward Quebec, where jail awaited the pair. Crippen is charged with the murder of an unknown woman, believed to have been his actress wife. The girl is held as an accessory.

In charge of Inspector Dew, they will be taken back to England for trial.

Owing to the discovery of the foot and mouth disease among cattle in Yorkshire, England, the importation of cattle from that country into the United States has been prohibited until the extent of the disease can be determined.

A Havana, Cuba, dispatch says: General Miniet, who started an uprising near El Caney, was surprised in camp and captured by a detachment of the rural guard under Lieutenant Carrillo. One of Miniet's insurgents was killed, Miniet and two others taken prisoners and the others fled.

RUN TO EARTH AFTER PROLONGED CHASE

Alleged Slayer of Little Anna Kellner Arrested.

BAFFLED POLICE FOR MONTHS

After a Chase of Eleven Thousand Miles Alleged Slayer of Little Louisville Girl Is Arrested in Lodging House in San Francisco, Cal.

Dragged from beneath a sink in the wash room of a Third street lodging house in San Francisco, where he had been hiding for 24 hours, Joseph a Wendling, accused of the murder of little Almer Kellner, in Louisville, Ky., the man whose twistings and turnings have baffled the police for months, was arrested by Detectives Burke and Ryan, of the local police department. Wendling admitted his identity but protested his innocence of the crime.

A few hours after the arrest, Captain of detectives J. P. Carney, of Louisville, arrived to learn that his 11,000-mile search for Wendling had been crowned with success. It was the final telegraphic tip from the Kentucky detective which led to the capture.

JOHN G. CARLISLE DEAD.

After Long Illness Statesman Succumbs to Reaper.

John G. Carlisle, former secretary of the treasury, who had been critically ill for the past two days, died at his apartments in New York Sunday night, of heart failure accompanied by oedema of the lungs.

An intestinal complaint of long standing, which wore down his vitality, lay behind the technical fact of heart failure. He was attacked last spring by the same trouble, complicated by an ailment of the kidneys, and for a time hovered near death. But his remarkable vitality triumphed then, as it seemed it might even in the illness just ended.

John Griffin Carlisle was born in Kent county, Kentucky, on September 5, 1835. He was educated in the public schools, later studied law and was admitted to the bar. Always a consistent democrat and interested in public affairs, as a young man, he rose from the Kentucky house of representatives to the state senate, served as lieutenant governor and finally graduated into national affairs.

From 1877 to 1890 he was a member of the national house, and from 1883 to 1889 was speaker of the house. He resigned to fill the unexpired term of James G. Bock in the United States senate, from which he resigned to become secretary of the treasury under President Grover Cleveland.

KINDNESS REWARDED.

Stranger Left Young Louisianan Sum of $10,000.

An act of kindness which he rendered an aged stranger six years ago has brought a reward of $10,000 to J. Y. Allen, a young man of Homer, La. Allen met an elderly man, in looking out for whose baggage the former proffered his services.

On parting company with Allen, the old man took his name and address, with the declaration, "You may some day be rewarded for your kindness to a stranger." Allen has just been notified by lawyers of his former traveling companion's death, and that the latter had bequeathed $10,000 to him as "the young man who assisted an aged man while traveling several years ago."

In a hand-to-hand battle near the Export coal mines, 10 miles from Greensburg, Pa., a striking coal miner was shot and killed, and George Davis, of Wilkesbarre, Pa., a member of troop A, Pennsylvania state constabulary, was seriously wounded. Nearly a score of others received minor injuries in a battle which was the result of efforts of the law officers to arrest strike sympathizers.

OHIO REPUBLICANS.

Warren G. Harding Nominated For Governor of State.

The Republican candidate for governor of Ohio is Warren G. Harding, of Marion, Ohio, once lieutenant governor.

WARREN G. HARDING.

Despite the efforts of Senator Burton's Cuyahoga county delegation to stampede the convention for Nicholas Longworth, and George B. Cox's every effort in behalf of Judge O. B. Brown, the Dayton man, a combination of "progressives" with the national administration men broke up the fight on the third ballot. Then Cox, yielding to the inevitable, cast the 91 Hamilton county votes for Harding, and that finished it.

For treasurer of state, Rudy A. Archer, of Belmont county, defeated Richard Gilson, of Steubenville, by a vote of 628 to 438.

U. G. Denman, of Toledo, was renominated for attorney general by acclamation.

BRIGHT PROSPECT.

Agricultural Conditions Most Encouraging in Southern States.

With 26,277,000 acres planted in corn this year, being an increase of 1,535,000 over 1909 and 2,776,000 acres over 1908, the farmers of Virginia, North Carolina, South Carolina, Georgia, Kentucky, Tennessee, Alabama and Mississippi are furnishing very substantial proof of the fact that the South is constantly devoting more attention to raising its own food supplies. These figures are from the last report of the Bureau of Statistics of the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

Each state showed an increase over 1908 in 1909 and an increase over 1909 in 1910. The condition of this year's crop as reported by the department shows the states of the South leading the country, Mississippi being first, Alabama second and Georgia third.

The great increase in the acreage devoted to corn is considered one of the most hopeful signs in the South today. In a letter to the directors of the Southern Railway Company, President Finley said:

"The increase in the acreage of corn accompanied, as it is, by a quite general adoption of improved cultural methods, is one of the most encouraging features of Southern agricultural progress. It is one of the results of a general movement throughout the South in the direction of diversified agriculture—a movement which we are endeavoring to encourage and assist as far as we can properly do so."

As the farmers of the South increase their yield of corn, they will save enormous sums which they have been spending in the West for food products and will consequently themselves realize more from cotton and other market crops.

The resignation of the Peruvian cabinet is imminent. The ministry was formed on March 14, with Dr. Xavier Prado Ungarte as premier and minister of home affairs.

Rear Admiral James Albert Hawkes, retired, of Bristol, Pa., formerly medical director of the navy, died at Washington, D. C., aged 69 years.
