

LOCAL PARAGRAPHS.

Miss Alma McDonough, who has been engaged as trimmer in Mrs. Faulkner's millinery store since the spring opening, returned to Atlanta last Tuesday.

T. W. Whitmore and wife, accompanied by Mrs. A. M. Verdery, left on Tuesday morning's train for Charlotte. They will return this week in a couple of Maxwell touring cars.

O. R. Colford, wife and daughter, Miss Mildred, of Ellenboro, N. C., and Charles Cary of Atlanta were members of an auto party visiting recently at the home of S. C. Yates.

At Mrs. Shipman's in west end are the following new arrivals: Mr. and Mrs. Matt Kinney and two children of Winston, Fla.; Mrs. H. H. Walker and Miss Margaret Crouch of Augusta, Ga.

Dr. Ray Sumner, a recent graduate from the Jefferson Medical College of Philadelphia, and a successful candidate before the North Carolina board of examiners, is visiting his sister, Mrs. D. L. English.

The great tempter of man is said to attack us at our weak points. In her submarine warfare Germany has attacked England at her strongest point. Truly in matters of generalship, Germany beats the devil.

H. H. Penny, of Hickory, is in Brevard this week on a visit, which we hope is the forerunner of permanent location here. His friends, with pleasant recollections of his former stay in this town, will glad to welcome his return.

The regular communication of Duke's Book League No. 201, A. F. & A. M. will be held tonight, Friday, at eight o'clock. Officers for the ensuing term will be installed and other business of importance attended to. All members urged to attend. Visiting brethren welcome.

W. N. Orpin, lately of Asheville, is installing the apparatus of a photograph gallery in a part of the store room occupied by Bradley's shop and Chapman's electrical supplies. Mr. Orpin's family has moved from Asheville and is occupying the house on Whitmire street next to the Broese residence.

Miss Allie Belle Child returned home Wednesday from Atlanta, where she went last fall to enter the Grady hospital to learn the profession of trained nurse. An operation for appendicitis a few months ago interrupted her work and studies, and she has latterly been at the home of her aunt, Mrs. Rhoads of Atlanta.

Last year at 1918, those the apples were loaded with young apples. This year many of the trees which blossomed abundantly are showing nothing but leaves, and most of them brown, withered leaves, in place of luscious young fruit. Reports from the peach crop, however, are more cheering, but nothing can take the place of apples.

"A William O. A., just about to cover the trail," says angrily, "just look at that line of vehicles at the staff shops! How do you folks expect any one to be able to get to the truth?" As for William O. A., of course he hits in, but he doesn't see how the ordinary human, without a pilot, can thread his way through. William is always hitting, but sometimes he hits the nail on the head.

Mr. and Mrs. Welch Galloway returned the latter part of last week from a visit to Atlanta, Macon, and other places in Georgia. While in Atlanta, Mr. Galloway attended the hearing before Governor Stanton in the Frank case, and listened to part of the argument being conducted by ex-Congressman Howard. He learned in various conversations that the people of Georgia were nearly all of one opinion—that the convicted prisoner should pay the penalty by death.

Only One Entirely Satisfactory. I have tried various colic and diarrhea remedies, but the only one that has given me entire satisfaction and cured me when I was afflicted is Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. I recommend it to my friends at all times," writes S. N. Galloway, Stewart, N. C. For sale by all dealers.

HANCOCK-ASHWORTH

Last Tuesday afternoon, June 20, Charles Ashworth and Miss Olivia Hancock, both of Brevard, were married at Spartanburg, S. C. The ceremony was performed by Rev. W. P. Southern, of Spartanburg, the bride's uncle. The couple have been in Spartanburg ever since the marriage and are expected to return to this place in a few days.

Before the event the intended wedding of these two young people was entrusted to the knowledge of only a very few, and these were of the faithful kind who can keep a secret. The marriage taking place at a distance, we are unable to give any of the details connected with the important ceremony. The groom is a resident of Brevard and a son of W. S. Ashworth, a prominent citizen and leading business man of the county. The young man has inherited one of his father's most valuable possessions—the spirit of industry and capacity for work.

The bride is one of the most attractive and popular of Brevard's young ladies. Having grown up here from childhood, she is known to every one and by everyone highly esteemed. She is the only child of Mrs. D. B. Hancock, for a long time a resident in the western end of town.

When bride and groom return to their home they will be met by sincere congratulations and good wishes from many friends, the News lending its voice to the chorus.

RECITAL AND CONTEST

The pupils of Misses May and Grace Johnson, under the direction of the teachers, gave an entertainment at the Auditorium last Monday evening. It was well attended. The pupils generally turned out and filled the seats from stage to back wall.

It is impracticable, on account of the many numbers on the program, to mention them all in detail. The participants were violin students, piano students, and students in the art of expression. The first of these came under the direction of Miss Grace Johnson, the latter two under that of Miss May Johnson. The pupils ranged in age from six-year-old children to grown-ups, and some of them married.

The performers reflected credit on the untiring energy of their teachers. No one pupil had been taking lessons longer than a few months, yet all conducted themselves like veterans in their calmness and self-possession on the stage and several of the selections recited or played showed ability. Some of the smaller children made decided hits in their recitations.

The violin being one of the most difficult of instruments to master, requiring years often for the student to learn how to produce a good tone, it was not expected that the pupils with so short an experience could do the work of artists. It was, no doubt, a surprise to hear tones as clear and sweet as were evoked and to notice the correctness of position and movement which most of the performers had acquired.

The expression contest was decided out by Theodore Clement, Misses Alberta Perkins, Mildred Bryant and Pearl Miller. The judges, Mrs. J. S. Silverstein, Mrs. F. B. Norwood and Mr. Hilliard Booth, found a drawn battle between Miss Alberta Perkins and Miss Mildred Bryant, adjudging a medal to each.

LIST OF JURORS

The county commissioners met Tuesday, June 22, to make arrangement with the county treasurer and to draw the list of regular jurors for Superior court, beginning July 28.

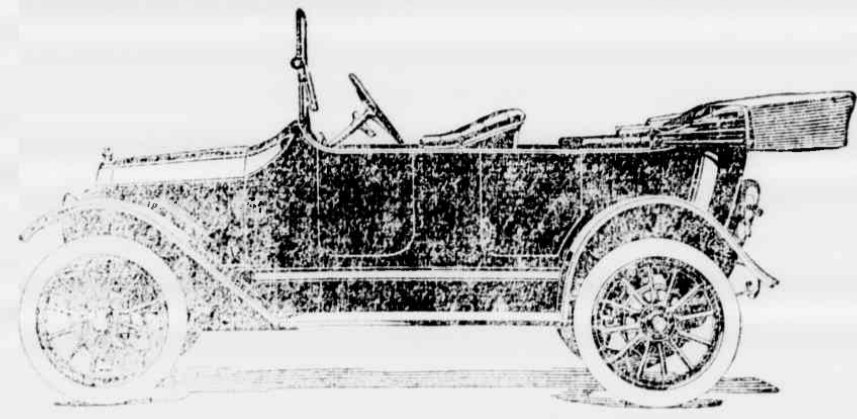

Following is the list of jurors:

First Week—J. W. Collins, V. L. Turner, J. M. Kilpatrick, P. J. Whitmire, J. Colman Owen, C. L. Garren, T. L. Picklemer, C. V. Alexander, J. J. Perry, W. A. Allison, C. C. Mull, W. D. Deaver, W. E. Galloway, J. D. Smith, Ernest Paxton, R. E. Teague, J. W. Glazener, E. F. Gillespie, E. A. Gillespie, Milton Allison, E. E. Mackey, W. A. Whitmire, J. S. Jordan, W. B. Baeken.

Second Week—G. C. McCall, P. Riley Bousell, W. Jeff Blythe, J. A. McCall, G. W. Hayes, Henry Garren, C. E. Lance, J. M. Garley, T. R. Duncan, V. B. Scruggs, Alex. Grogan, Esten Bagnell, T. C. Galloway, C. S. Hamilton, John A. McCall, T. S. Wood, Jr., E. O. Lyday, J. B. Miggins, J. Frank McCall, L. M. Glazener, J. M. Allison, C. S. Paxton, R. O. Gillespie, J. H. Dunn.

Electric Lights

Self Starter

MAXWELL

The only real Automobile ever offered at the price, $750
F. O. B. Detroit, Mich.

Whitmire-Smathers & Mull

BREVARD, NORTH CAROLINA

Electric Horn

Twenty-five H. P.

HELLO THERE!!

Do You Hear Me?

Now Look Me Square in the Face.

My Creed is This.

We believe in Working, not Waiting. In Laughing, not Weeping. Tell the truth not Falsehoods. In Boosting, not Knocking. And in the pleasure of Selling honest goods at honest values.

Now hear me, some say "Listen." I am going to do a Stunt. For the next eight days I will sell Clothing and Shoes at a big cut in prices for the Spot Cash. Some Clothing, Some Shoes, the prices are cut in two, do you hear me? yes, well then come in and see me do that Stunt.

W. P. WEILT

Opposite the Court House.

WALTER WEILT, Salesman