Colds Coughs Catarrh

A trinity of evils, closely allied, that afflict most people, and which follow one on the other, in the order named, until the last one is spread through the system, leading to many evils. But their course can be checked.

PERUNA CONQUERS

It is of great value when used promptly for a cold, usually checking it and overcoming it in a few days.

Ample evidence has proved that it is even of more value in overcoming chronic catarrh, dispelling the inflammatory conditions, enabling the diseased membranes to perform their natural functions, and toning up the entire system.

The experience of thousands is a safe guide to what it may be expected to do for you.

Liquid or tablets—both tested by the public and approved.

Altogether Too Economical.

Mr. A.—So the Tompkins children have broken off with the governess?

Mr. B.—Yes. The Tompkins are so economical in their housekeeping as economical in their housekeeping as to be ridiculous.

Mr. A.—You astonish me.

Mr. B.—Yes. You know Bess is pretty fair herself, and she actually objected to the governess having so many new dresses.

ARE YOUR KIDNEYS WEAK?

Thousands of Men and Women Have Kidney Trouble and Never Suspect It.

Nature warns you when the track of health is not clear. Kidney and bladder troubles cause many annoying symptoms and great inconvenience, both day and night.

Unhealthy kidneys may cause backache, rheumatism, catarrh of the bladder, pain or dull ache in the back, joints or muscles, at times have headache or indigestion, as time passes on may have a sallow complexion, puffy or dark circles under the eyes, sometimes feel as though you had heart trouble, may have plenty of ambition but are unable get weak and lose flesh.

If such conditions are permitted to continue serious results may be expected. Kidney Trouble in its very worst form may steal upon you.

Prevalency of Kidney Disease.

Most people do not realize the alarming increase and remarkable prevalency of kidney disease. While kidney disorders are among the most common diseases that prevail, they are almost the last recognized by patients, who usually content themselves with doctoring the effects, while the original disease may constantly undermine the system.

If you feel that your kidneys are the cause of your sickness or run down condition, try taking Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the famous kidney, liver and bladder remedy, because as soon as your kidneys improve, they will help the other organs to health.

If you are already convinced that Swamp-Root is what you need, you can purchase the regular fifty-cent and one-dollar size bottles at all drug stores. Don't make any mistake but remember the name, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y., which you will find on every bottle.

SPECIAL NOTE. You may obtain a sample size bottle of Swamp-Root by enclosing ten cents to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. This gives you the opportunity to prove the remarkable merit of this medicine. They will also send you a book of valuable information, containing many of the thousands of grateful letters received from men and women who say they found Swamp-Root to be just the remedy needed in kidney, liver and bladder troubles. The value and success of Swamp-Root are so well known that our readers are advised to send for a sample size bottle. Address Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. INTERNATIONAL SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

(By E. O. SELLERS, Acting Director of Sunday School Course, Moody Bible Institute, Chicago.)

(Copyright, 1916, Western Newspaper Union.)

LESSON FOR NOVEMBER 12

WORLD'S TEMPERANCE SUNDAY.

LESSON TEXT—Romans 14:13-15:3.

GOLDEN TEXT—It is not good to eat flesh, nor to drink wine, nor to do anything whereby thy brother stumbleth.—Rom. 14:21.

The early Christian church had two outstanding problems, the question of the Sabbath days (two of them) and the question of eating meat offered to idols. This lesson suggests the solution of the latter. Our modern problem of intoxicating liquors is very much the same as this ancient one of the early Gentile Christians.

I. "Let us not therefore judge one another" (xv. 13:15). There are certain acts which are universally conceded to be right and within the Christian law of liberty. There are also other acts which are as plainly prohibited. Between a large number of acts which lie in the region between these two, and men ought to be careful how they condemn one another for these latter things. Where good and true men differ, their acts, on the matter of the Sabbath (Sun. Col. 2:16), or on temperance, must be determined as being unto the Lord, sincerely, conscientiously. It is not for us to judge (v. 13), literally, to pronounce judgment. They have a right to their opinion and to their liberty of thought and action, but (vv. 14, 22, 23) as for Paul or the Christian, he must have a clear conscience. He must have faith, and be assured that he is right; otherwise he is condemned by God and by his own conscience, and is not a sincere Christian disciple. The word "therefore" in verse 13 points back to verse 12, which ought to be carefully pondered. As we have each to render our accounts to God, we should stop judging one another. Food is a very proper thing, and laws are also proper, yet love is the ruling principle of the Christian life.

We ought to have our liberty curtailed rather than have our souls lost. If we magnify our liberty to the sacrifice of our brother's soul we "walk no longer in love." The demands of Christian love are more to the true followers of Christ than the permissions of Christian liberty. The privilege of eating and drinking while it injures others, however harmless to yourself, is not to be tolerated.

The word "stumbleth" here used (v. 21) implies a movable trap or snare, literally any impediment placed in the way so as to cause another to fall. We must never forget that even a weak brother is "a brother for whom Christ died."

II. "Let not your good be evil spoken of" (vv. 16-23). The kingdom of God is not meat and drink, but it is a life of righteousness, peace and joy in the Holy Ghost. Our liberty is to be so used that it shall not be evil spoken of. The real proof that we are in the kingdom of God and that the kingdom of God is in us is not found in our scrupulousness or lack of it, in our eating and drinking, but in the manifestations of righteousness in our lives, and of having peace in our hearts (15:13). This peace must be manifested toward our fellow men (v. 19; Ch. 15:18) and being filled with "joy in the Holy Ghost." The object of our pursuit is to be the things which make for peace, the things whereby we may lift one another up, not the exploitation of some pet hobby, for the kingdom of God does not consist of riding hobbies.

In this matter of temperance reform we all recognize that alcohol has many uses besides that for drinking purposes, and that there are various opinions about drinking certain forms of it, and various ways of advancing the temperance cause, all of which are honestly held by many good men, but Christian patriotism demands that every true-hearted man or woman, everyone who is loyal to his country, to humanity and to his God, should take Paul's position, (1) That he will not be a stumbling block in the way of the weak and of the young. (2) That he will not do anything to destroy his brother for whom Christ died. (3) That he will deny himself anything for their sake. (4) That his attitude will be that of love and not of selfishness. This places temperance on a high moral plane, but the world is also beginning to recognize that the temperance question is also an economic one.

It is well to have faith, but it is also well to have the love that does not injure others by the exercise of that faith. The question is, "Are you perfectly sure this thing is right?" When in doubt as to whether any action will please God, doubt your doubts, and avoid that act.

III. "We then that are strong" (15:1-3). This section is in reality a continuation of Chapter 14. Paul is continuing his thought that we are not to please ourselves, but rather to live such lives as will edify or build up our neighbor. Our strength is not given to us that we may glory or lord it over our weaker brethren, but rather that we may serve them.

To please my neighbor does not mean that "when in Rome do as the Romans do," but rather to live such a life that my action will be for the good and edification of my brother, thereby pleasing God (Gal. 1:10).

MAKES RESCUER HIS HEIR

Californian Wills $500,000 to Salesman for Heroism During Forest Fire.

Omaha.—Eber Smith, a traveling salesman of this city, has received notification from San Bernardino, Cal., that he is named sole heir to the estate of Thomas Simpson, a California rancher, who died a short time ago. The estate is valued at $500,000.

Two years ago, it is said, Smith saved Simpson's life when a forest fire was sweeping upon his California ranch house, where he lay, alone, suffering from a broken leg.

Smith was the only man among the fire fighters who dared to attempt the rescue. Smith did not see Simpson again, but the rancher remembered him and willed him all his property.

Counterfeit Machine Costly.

Depue, Ill.—Anton Sorchych has brought suit against Isaac Doutsch and Meyer Katz of West Frankfort, Ill., charging that they sold him a machine for $5,000 with which he could make $20 bills. Sorchych alleges he is the victim of a confidence game.

Followed Mother's Example.

Pittsburgh.—Miss Harriet Gertrude Blum, aged sixteen years and leading soprano in the Calvary Methodist church, and Hearne Neely, organist in the same church, eloped to Cumberland, Md., and were married. The mother quickly forgave the daughter, declaring that she did the same thing when she was sixteen years of age.

Triplets by Cesarean Operation.

Omaha.—Triplets were born by a Cesarean operation to Mrs. Anna Richter, wife of a farmer of Murray. According to Omaha surgeons, this is the first case of the kind on record. The operation killed the mother, while the babies died later.

There are now in the United States 4,000,000 persons native to Germany, Austria and Turkey, and 6,855,724 native to the nations fighting in the opposing alliance.

GERMAN WINE CROP A RECORD

Despite War 737,905 Hectoliters of Must Produced in 1915, Says Official Report.

Berlin.—The preharvest predictions of an unusually big yield of wine in Germany have been more than borne out by results. The official report just issued gives a production of 737,905 hectoliters of must in 1915, the greatest production of any year since the introduction (in 1872) of the present wine law. In former years the production has been as high as 1,500,000 hectoliters, but in the years of 1911 to 1914 inclusive it averaged only 500,000 hectoliters.

The quality was also good, 47 per cent of the wine while white was of a grade ranked as "very good" and 53 per cent as good and superior. Only 0.2 per cent of the wine was ranked as poor. Of the white wines 72 per cent came from the Rhine, Saar and Moselle districts.

PREACHES AND STICKS TYPE

Pastor Installs Press and Will Divide Time Between Preaching and Printing.

St. Louis.—Rev. W. F. Kirkpatrick, the pastor of the Pentecostal church at Upper Alton, is going to divide his time between preaching and printing. He has installed a job press and fonts of type in the church building at College avenue and Washington street, and will alternate between setting type and preaching the Gospel. He thinks he will be able to do both acceptably, as he is a union printer as well as an ordained minister. The auditorium and the print shop are in adjoining rooms. The pastor will only have to step through the doorway to become the printer, and the printer will only have to step back through the same doorway to again become the pastor.

It is authoritatively estimated that more than 2,000,000 women and girls have come into the English labor market since the beginning of the war.

PROUD OF THEIR MODEL SON

Of Course He Was Young, but Just Then His Habits Were Absolutely Irreproachable.

"Ah, well, wife," said John Rambles, the honest farmer, "though our corn was stricken with quinsy this year, and our pigs all got the ear disease, and our cabbages were all hollow, and our wheat had appendicitis, we have the consolation of knowing that we have a model son. Just think, Roland has never smoked a cigarette in his whole life."

"Nor anything else, for that matter," replied Susan, his honest wife. "And he would no more think of taking strong drink that he would of flying."

"True," asserted honest John, with a sickly smile. "And the regular hours he keeps!"

"Yes," put in honest Susan, eagerly. "To bed eight hours after supper every night regular as clockwork."

And for a while John smoked in contemplative silence, while Susan knitted away in her easy chair.

"But, of course, there's this," said John at length. "We can't tell how he'll be later on. We must remember he's only six months old."

"Ah, John, we mustn't borrow trouble. We have enough already, goodness knows!" snuffled Susan.—Detroit Free Press.

Obeyed Orders Strictly.

A throat column of troops clambered down a rocky ledge and went into camp beside a delightful little pool of water. The commanding officer immediately placed his sentry at the pool. Soon more soldiers scrambled down the ledge, and a tired lieutenant quickly prepared for a plunge into that pool. But he was met with a sharp command from across the pond:

"Halt!"

"What are your orders?" said the lieutenant.

"Sir," came the answer, "my orders are to prevent all officers, soldiers and natives from bathing in that pool. The water is reserved for the coffee for supper."

"Why didn't you tell me before I stripped?"

"Sir, I have no orders to prevent any man from stripping."

Self-Sacrifice.

Marjory and Janice were having luncheon at a small table, while the guests were being served in the dining room. After Marjory and her mother returned home, Marjory announced that she hadn't liked the salad.

"Why, Marjory," said her mother, "you ate all of it."

"Yes, I know I did."

"Why did you eat it then?" questioned her mother.

"Well, because I didn't want to make you ashamed of myself," replied the child.

Incorrigible Flirt.

A newly married couple have just moved into a bungalow in what the real estate people call a "new development" near New York. The benevolent land company runs an electric car from the property to the railway station. This car, which runs the Tenneyville (Trolley) meets all trains as planned, as usual, by a crash—for a motorman, built of iron, are naturally on very friendly terms with the patrons. The other day the bride's mother came to visit her. She noticed that her daughter often waved a greeting toward the electric car as it passed the house. "Why, Blanche," said the old lady, "do you know all the conductors on this line already?"—Exchange.

Continued Suspicion.

Uncle Mose was one of those suspicious persons who always refuse to acknowledge either astonishment or ignorance. When the circus and the sideshow came to town, and the proprietor called for someone to go up on the stage, Mose was pushed forward. Presently the professor was talking various wonderful things out of Mose's garments. Last of all he extracted a pair of [illegible] from Mose's lanky wool.

"Weren't you surprised at the sight, Mose?" asked [illegible].

"Not a bit," Mose answered. "After I'd been [illegible] I knew some rabbits up there [illegible]."

After a little meditation he [illegible] and ran to his mother and [illegible]: "Mother, the reason why I want to stay up tonight is so [illegible] those people really see there are some children in this house."

Domestic Turkey.

Dr. W. T. Hornaday, director of the New York Zoological park, held this view of the turkey: "In view of the fact that the wild turkey so closely resembles the domestic turkey of the best sort, I am strongly of the opinion that the domestic turkey has come down from the wild species without any cross-breeding whatsoever. Between the wild gobbler and a first-class domestic gobbler about the only difference discernible is that the domestic bird has light-gray upper tail coverts, and the same feathers of the wild bird are colored like those of the remainder of the back."

KNOCKOUT FOR MR. BROWN

His Better Half's Story of Experience With Lottery Certainly Not Flattering to Him.

Mrs. Brown has a special aversion to lotteries, and at all times and places she subscribes every opportunity of holding forth with vehemence concerning this pet abomination. How its pernicious influence will therefore be imagined when one evening, her worthy spouse came home and proudly announced that he had bought a goose club. For something like an hour she poured the vials of wrath on her unfortunate husband's head, while he endeavored meekly to bear it all.

At last the warmth of the attack proved quite too much for the long-suffering John, and he decided that the time had come for him to live up in return.

"I suppose, my dear," said he, endeavoring to be sarcastic, "you were never in a lottery, were you?"

But, alas for the spoken! Mrs. Brown pounced upon him with withering scorn.

"Never, John, and only once," said she. "They say, as you know, that [illegible] lottery. Well, I was in London [illegible] London Tit Bits.

Unfair Competition.

"Boys, there's a [illegible] Bill Stokes to the depot. A fellow by the name of Smith that lives [illegible]."

Within a second Bill Stokes [illegible] the crowd and was gone some time.

"Well, where's the native?" [illegible] returned. "He's give up."

"Huh!" [illegible] replied. "Regret, sphere's [illegible]."—Youth's Companion.

She Countered Neatly.

Three young chaps were sitting in the dining room of one of Pittsburgh's pleasure parks, and incidentally were trying to flirt with the pretty waitress. After devouring everything in sight they decided to have some ice cream and cake.

"What kind will you have? Devil's food, plain or nut cakes?" asked the waitress.

"Give me devil's food," said two of them, and the other asked for walnut cake.

"Two devils and one nut," cried the bright young girl.

To Live Long!

A recipe given by a famous physician for long life was: "Keep the kidneys in good order! Try to eliminate through the skin and intestines the poisons that otherwise clog the kidneys. Avoid eating meat as much as possible; avoid too much salt, alcohol, tea. Drink plenty of water."

For those past middle life, for those easily recognized symptoms of inflammation, as backache, scalding "water," or if uric acid in the blood has caused rheumatism, "rusty" joints, stiffness, go to Anuric at the drug store. This is a wonderful eliminator of uric acid and was discovered by Dr. Pierce of Invalids' Hotel, Buffalo, N. Y. If your druggist does not keep it send 10 cents to Dr. Pierce for trial package and you will know that it is many times more potent than lithia and that it dissolves uric acid as hot water does sugar.

NEWS OF RICHMOND

Richmond, Va.—"I have taken Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery with the best effect. I had a very serious cough and cold with a bad fever; the cough was exceedingly harsh and so violent as to give me an irritating sore throat with hoarseness and a compressed feeling in my lungs. The cough reduced my strength and I had to stop work. At the same time I was suffering from indigestion and had to live on stale bread and milk. My liver also was in a very inactive condition, as well as my bowels. These symptoms readily yielded to the 'Discovery' to my great pleasure and comfort."—MRS. JOHN H. EANES, 423 S. Laurel St.—Adv.
