He and Mrs. Moore and two children, Charles and Alvin, united with the local Baptist church on Sunday.

CHEAP coffee is a poor investment. There's plenty of it on the market. Don't buy it. What's the use of spoiling a good meal with wishy-washy stuff that leaves a moddy taste in the mouth and harms the system? We sell only good coffee.

It's cheapest in the end because it gives satisfaction.

Everything for you in first class groceries.

MRS. MARY O. BIRD
Proprietress

Hamlin has made a very popular officer and discharged his duties efficiently during his service of four years. He declined to run for the office in the last election.

The Brevard class of the Brevard Baptist Sunday school entertained the Philathens at the home of Mr. and Mrs. T. L. Snelson Tuesday night. The evening was pleasantly spent by about 30 young people, who indulged in music, contests and games, which were followed by refreshments.

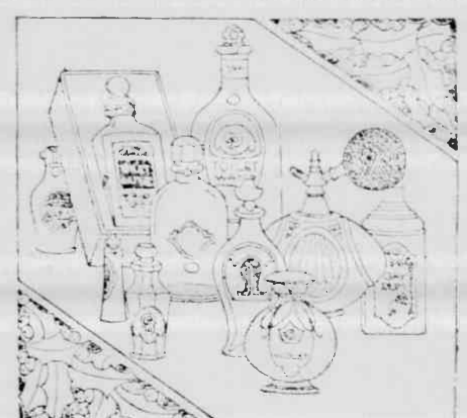

Mr. and Mrs. Henry N. Carrier of Brevard have returned from Wilmington, where they attended the marriage of Miss Etha Sloan Brand of Wilmington and Lawrence Augustus Adams, of Greenville, S. C. The ceremony, one of the most interesting social events of the season in Wilmington, occurred Tuesday, December 5. Mrs. Carrier was one of the matrons of honor.—Asheville Times.

The Brevard Wednesday club, which met with Mrs. J. A. Miller, Jr., on the 12th, after disposing of its regular business entered into the annual election of officers with the result that the following will be the officers for 1917: Mrs. T. H. Shipman, president; Mrs. J. S. Silverstein, vice president; Mrs. D. G. Ward, secretary; Mrs. J. A. Miller, Jr., treasurer; Mrs. C. M. Doele, custodian of books and Mrs. W. E. Broese, critic. Quite a large and appreciative gathering listened attentively while Mrs. Doyle gave interesting facts about the noted composer, Verdi, and then told the story of his famous opera, Aida. The select portions of the music were given on the victrola with
