LOCAL.

Ain't it hot? Those FLAG takes the eye;

Mr. J. L. Thompson, made a flying trip to Goldsboro this week.

Go out to the speaking to-day in the grove below the depot.

Dr. J. Hill Daniel, returned last week from a trip to Lumberton N. C.

To day is a big day in our city. Cleveland and Stevenson on every tongue.

Miss Ross Smith of Little River Academy, returned home Saturday from Raleigh and Johnson county.

We are again glad to see Mr. Erasmus Lee on our streets after several weeks illness.

Quite a number of cases of sickness is reported in town this week.

Go out to the speaking to-day in the grove below the depot.

The watermelons that are coming in town this season are very small.

Mr. J. A. Culbreth one of our most popular young men spent Sunday and Monday in Fayetteville.

Mr. W. H. Kyle one of Fayetteville's handsome young men spent last Friday in Dunn visiting friends.

We found among our exchanges of papers this week a nice little sixteen page paper published at Latta, S. C.

That estimable lady Mrs. P. J. Jeffreys who has been visiting friends in Fremont N. C. returned home Monday eve.

Mr. Willis Bell brought in town Monday a hog weighing after it was cured and dried 312-14 lbs. purchased by Messrs. Young Bros.

Go out to the speaking to-day in the grove below the depot.

For itching of the scalp, falling of the hair, resulting in baldness, are often caused by dandruff, which may be cured by using Hall's Hair Renewer.

The amiable and charming Miss Lizza Williams of Fayetteville, N. C., passed through our town last week, enroute to Mr. John Hodges near Little River Academy.

That perfect mould of sweetest witchery, and gloriously enchanting Miss Mamie Johns, of Auburn N. C., is spending some time in our city the guest of Mrs. J. C. Cox.

Mrs. Hattie Horne and son, one of Clayton's popular young men left Monday for their home, after spending several days with the family of Dr. W. B. Harrell.

Miss Mamie Griffin of Nashville, N. C., who has been lending her beautiful charms to our city left for her home Saturday, accompanied by the bewitching and lovely Miss Callie Ayers.

Go out to the speaking to-day in the grove below the depot.

On Saturday evening at 3 O'clock, Rev. E. B. Johnson passed away quietly after several weeks illness at the residence of his brother Mr. J. G. Johnson out near town.

That wonderful Medicine "Microbe Killer" for sale at D. H. Hood's Drug Store.

AN AGE OF SHAM.

This is an age of sham, of infinitesimal thinness, where every body appreciates the imaginable; and true worth is thinner than moonshine.

The politician stands to pray with the Presbyterian, kneels to pray with the Methodist, goes under the water with the Baptist, and drinks mean corn whiskey with the rabble.

See that fair young lady, with a smile playing on her lips; she looks as though she knew nothing else but smiles, but you let that lady lose a pin or have her temper ruffled and she can make you cut a doz on eye-teeth in a minute or cease your hair to pull itself out by the roots, such towns as would make Juno and all the gods hide themselves with terror.

Things are not always what they seem, That young man with his kangaroo and patent leather boots, made out of cow hide; with a silk beaver on his head that never heard of a silk worm nor never will.

That young lady with her kids made of dog-skin and those feathers that have moved over the barn yard more than the desert.

We dress in dazzling jewelry on which the gold is thinner than a church mouse's shadow. In this age of sham, it becomes necessary to seem what we are not to act for the work in hand and deal for the best results.

BE CALM.

Let the winds and waves of adversity blow and dash over and around you, if they will; but keep on the path of rectitude, and you will be firm as a rock.

CLAUDE EARLE.

UNTRUE.

You are not true! Though once you came To me in days long passed.

You told me seas could not divide, Our friendship, strong and true!

You are not true! The vows of love, You breathed into my ear—

The glance of sweet affection given To me, was ah, so sweet!

You are not true! I thrust aside, The dream so dear of yore!

You are not true! I thrust aside, The dream so dear of yore!

You are not true! I thrust aside, The dream so dear of yore!

You are not true! I thrust aside, The dream so dear of yore!

You are not true! I thrust aside, The dream so dear of yore!

You are not true! I thrust aside, The dream so dear of yore!

You are not true! I thrust aside, The dream so dear of yore!

You are not true! I thrust aside, The dream so dear of yore!

You are not true! I thrust aside, The dream so dear of yore!

You are not true! I thrust aside, The dream so dear of yore!

You are not true! I thrust aside, The dream so dear of yore!

You are not true! I thrust aside, The dream so dear of yore!

You are not true! I thrust aside, The dream so dear of yore!

A CARD.

GROVE TOWNSHIP, N. C. July, 27th, 1892.

MR. EDITOR:—I am a straight forward Democrat, and as such I tender myself before the next Democratic Convention, as a candid date for the nomination for the office of Register of Deeds, and if nominated and elected I pledge myself to discharge the duties of the office to the best of my ability.

Respectfully yours, R. T. KENNEDY.

The Editors Last Words.

Of all that man has here below, Some things are very dear, And when there's danger of losing all,

He only has one fear. It makes no difference what he has, Nor what he has to fear, He never thinks of costly things, But always of that that's dear.

So, it was with the Editor, When he went away, And left a man to watch his goods, During his short stay.

He did not mention costly things, Nor express but one desire, His last words were; "save my girl."

In case you have a fire, ANON.

Our Sick Boy.

He was so gay when he was well That now we miss him much The reason why, I can but tell By saying that, as he, there are but few such,

Though he knows that he is misseled By those who are his friends But these few lines may comfort him, When THE "TIMES," the editor sends.

Oh! I feel so sad, when we heard That Charlie was so sick, And it was all so sudden too, We hope him well as quick.

Oh! everything seems so sad Without him on our street, For he always seems so glad To give a smile to those he meets.

We cannot write as others can We know, not half so well, So when we do the best we can, The half of sorrow, we cannot tell.

These few lines were written, Charlie, To comfort you while sick And when you read the feeble words Think of me, and get well quick.

So now I wish you well, dear boy, And hope you safely through And when you're well and I am sick Won't you try to comfort me too? U. N. O.

On last Saturday a few people composed mostly of Radicals and disgruntled Democrats assembled in front of the old Alliance store, for the purpose of holding a primary meeting for this township of the Third-party.

Mr. S. W. Parker called the meeting to order and Mr. Albert Surles was suggested as Secretary, but before the Secretary could secure paper and pencil the business was over.

They sent delegates to Lillington and nominated Ike Bill Taylor for township constable and we are sorry for him—a man who has devoted his entire time to whooping the Third-party to get no more than a nomination for constable after the election we are afraid he will be devoting his time trying to prove he is still a Democrat.

Specimen Cases.

S. H. Clifford, New Cassel, Wis., was troubled with Neuralgia and Rheumatism, his Stomach was disordered, his Liver was affected to an alarming degree, appetite fell away, and he was terribly reduced in flesh and strength. Three bottles of Electric Bitters cured him.

Edward Shepherd, Harrisburg, Ill., had a running sore on his leg of eight years standing. Using three bottles of Electric Bitters and seven boxes Bucklen's Arnica Salve, and his leg is sound and well. John Speaker, Catawba, O., had five large Fever sores on his leg, doctors said he was incurable. One bottle Electric Bitters and one box Bucklen's Arnica Salve cured him entirely. Sold by Harper & Hood Druggist.

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria. When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria. When she became Miss, she clung to Castoria. When she had Children, she gave them Castoria.

That Your Hair may retain its youthful color, fullness, and beauty, dress it daily with Ayer's Hair Vigor

It cleanses the scalp, cures humors, and stimulates a new growth of hair. Dr. J. C. Ayer & Co. Lowell, Mass.

Pronounced Hopeless, Yet Saved.

From a letter written by Mrs. Ada E. Hurd, of Groton, S. D., we quote: "Was taken with a bad cold, which settled on my Lungs, cough set in and finally terminated in Consumption. Four doctors gave me up, saying I could live but a short time. I gave myself up to my Saviour, determined if I could not stay with my friends on earth, I would meet my absent ones above. My husband was advised to get Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds. I gave it a trial, took in all eight bottles; it has cured me, and thank God I am now a well and hearty woman." Trial bottles free Harper & Hood's Drugstore, regular size, 50c. and $1.00.
