THE PALMETTO STATE AND THE SALOON BUSINESS.

South Carolina will go into the retail liquor business on the 1st of July. Gov. Tillman has just laid in a big supply of bug juice and proposes to make for the State increased revenues during the next year $500,000, or $1 on every gallon of whiskey sold. Nothing will be sold in packages of less than one half pint.

All liquors must be of the purest quality. The price of the cheapest is $3 a gallon, 75 cents a quart and 20 cents a half pint. This will of course prove the most popular brand.

The dispensaries are to be situated in such counties as may petition for them through a majority of its freehold voters. They will be under the servilence of the county constable or some officer appointed for the purpose and must be closed at 6 o'clock every evening.

Applicants for the goods dispensed at these establishments must sign an application stating the amount and kind desired. No one will be allowed to sign more than one application a day.

The advantages claimed for this system of liquor dealing are that it will break up drinking to excess, prevent the congregation of crowds around the bar rooms, mitigate the evils of the saloon business, prevent the public disorder and troubles incident to intoxication. But the principal thing claimed for it by Mr. Tillman is that it will increase the revenues of the State. Both the method employed and the object to be gained appear to us very questionable. The whole scheme seems more like a plan to encourage drinking for the raising of revenue rather than its suppression. Should it succeed in doing this its promoters will doubtless point at it as a great triumph of paternalism. To say the least, it is of doubtful economy and very questionable as to its moral effects.—North Carolinian.

A LONG STANDING QUESTION SETTLED.

On Monday the Commissioners and Magistrates in joint session met and among the many important questions that came before that honorable body was whether Harnett county should pay the Lily debt or not. The question has been before the people for twenty years and it has been voted down more than once by the people. But by an act of the Legislature of 1891 the county commissioners were given the right to issue bonds to the amount of the indebtedness of the county in fifty dollar sizes, and these bonds to draw 5 per cent. interest for twenty years, the time that is given for payment of the debt. They seeing this was the most honorable way and easiest for the people of the county voted to issue the bonds to the amount of $12,000, the principal of the debt, drawing the stated interest, and issue the balance of the amount which is near $12,000 accrued interest, not drawing any interest at all.

So the question is now in shape for payment, a great cloud over the county is broke, and some day Harnett's skies will be clear and bright.

The act provided that 10 cent on the dollars worth and 30 cents on the poll extra should be levied for no other purpose than paying this debt and interest, which was done. The interest will be paid every year and about $1,000 or more on the principle.

The man holding these bonds who will sell at the largest discount will get his money first, and so on, until all is paid.

No doubt our people will think this extra tax a little tough at this close time, but the county now has some opening in the future and her people we know, want to pay the debts of the county which are honest. Although there was no doubt fraud and underhand work which brought much of this big debt on the heads of the honest sons of the good old county of Harnett.

Still if it had not been disposed of, some day the Legislature might have made us pay the debt in 2 or 3 years, which would have been more taxes than many men could have possibly paid in that time, now we have gone and disposed of it in an honest way and have 20 years to pay it off.
