

Democratic Nominees.

FOR CHIEF JUSTICE: James Sheppard, of Beaufort; Walter Clark, of Wake; James C. Macfarlane, of Cumberland; ...

We publish elsewhere a card from C. S. A. Ashe in which he announces himself a candidate for the Senate. Mr. Ashe has been an untiring worker in the Democratic party for years and have never asked for or received one mark of appreciation from the hands of the party...

We failed to say anything about our excellent nominees in our last issue, as we did not deem it necessary, but we will say that no county in the State can boast of a better set of men. We have been thinking of writing something all this week, but have been feeling so good over the results of the convention we have not yet made up our mind as to what to say...

In making the above remarks we did not mean to cast any reflection upon any candidate for there could not have been brought out a better set of men. Now if the pops want such men as they say they do, (good men) they will take their ticket out of the field.

Some of the people on the west side of the river seem to be very much wrought up over the fact that we failed to publish the resolution passed at the Democratic convention of the 20th inst. We wish to inform them that we did not withhold the article upon any selfish ground, but we did not deem it necessary to publish it as it was no part of the regular proceedings, and if the parties who are so interested over it wish to drag it into politics, they must do it, and not us.

We have tried to be a friend to the whole county and wish to act by all alike, and expect to continue the same. We have been asked for our parties on both sides of the river what we thought of the range of questions we introduced there. The Harnett county stood the same we could never consent for it being taken from its present position. It is a party of good men who will bear us out in it.

The New on Enter also is troubled with some what the Democrats, who own it, the same as we do. We have been asked for our parties on both sides of the river what we thought of the range of questions we introduced there. The Harnett county stood the same we could never consent for it being taken from its present position. It is a party of good men who will bear us out in it.

WASHINGTON LETTER.

Adjournment, N. C. and Southern Development. Dr. Sanderlin speaks Senator Ransom and Patronize Josephus Daniels Internal Revenue Personal.

Washington, D. C., Aug 25, 1894.

A joint resolution passed both houses of Congress yesterday to adjourn Tuesday, The President, I hear endorses this programme.

The Southern Development Association promises to be a success. It meets here next week. A preliminary meeting was held last night during which Hon. G. W. Sanderlin talked about N. C. His view was so full of natural resources that he would not attempt to go into details. He related a number of amusing and interesting anecdotes illustrating the luxuries which N. C. had to offer.

Internal receipts continue to be heavy reaching yesterday, $2,105,000 and bringing up the total for the month to date to $21,200,000 and for the year to date $48,100,000 against $8,500,000 for the corresponding period of August 1893 and to $24,300,000 for the corresponding period of the fiscal year 1893. This rush of business is due to the fact that the Senate bill becomes a law next Monday night. The distillers are especially anxious to get as much whiskey as possible out of bond before that time.

September 5th L. A. Cotton of the 1st N. C. District will report at Annapolis for his entrance examination to fill the vacant Naval Cadetship. His alternate who gets it in case he fails is J. D. Grimes.

In the 6th N. C. District G. A. Ferguson will report at the same time and place for the same object. His alternate is A. M. Parker. In the 4th and 6th N. C. Districts there are vacancies for military cadetships at West Point. Messrs. Bunn and Alexander have the paper to fill these vacancies before their present terms expire, either by nominating direct or by competitive examinations. In the 1st N. C. District this military cadetship has already been filled by Mr. Branch. The lucky young man is Mr. Sam F. Ansell with Henry P. Harding as alternate. The examination for all these military cadetships will take place next March.

Capt. Edward J. Hale will be the next North Carolinian appointed to a big consulate. Senator Ransom has filed for him a strong application for the Massachusetts Consulate the place Maj. Hale has already filled during Mr. Branch's term of administration. The Massachusetts Consulate is now vacant. A republican who began his career under Republicanism under Rutherford B. Hayes. His name is Wm. F. McKeown and was appointed Consul at Boston on 26th Nov. 1887; transferred to New York on 26th March 1888; transferred to London on 26th June 1889.

Senator Ransom has just received a $2,000 place in the Senate. Mr. Ransom has just received a $2,000 place in the Senate. Mr. Ransom has just received a $2,000 place in the Senate.

The retirement of Simmons from the Chairmanship of the State Democratic Committee probably caused Maj. Hale to take heart again. I don't see why Maj. Hale should not get the place. He has the strongest sort of backing in our State and in New York.

Harvard College in the persons of Bissell and Olney got the Creek Mission for Prof. Eben Alexander. Tammany backed by Ransom and Jarvis ought to be as strong as Harvard backed by Bissell and Olney. I suggest that Maj. Hale shall come here, stop at Mr. Bagley's boarding house and get my friend Josephus to take a hand in the fray. A big official asked me this morning if Josephus did not have more power than any far here except the senators. I told him as Jarvis debarred from patronage (this is on the authority of a cabinet officer) I thought he might make Senator Ransom the only exception with chances strongly in favor of "D. J. D." Personally I am in favor of backing Grinnell and putting in Maj. Hale or Capt. Ashe or any body Senator Ransom and Mr. Daniel agree on.

ANNOUNCEMENT.

To The Democratic People of North Carolina

Having never been a candidate before you, I now announce myself with hesitation. I offer myself for the seat in the United States Senate made vacant by the death of Senator Vance. In doing this, I do not antagonize either of the present Senators, but aspire to an office that either of them seeks.

The two great questions involved in the Chicago platform were Tariff Reform and Financial Reform. The tariff bill just passed does not fully meet expectations, and I favor such modifications of it as will deprive every trust and combine of any advantage it allows. On the tariff, and on most subjects, I stand with our Democratic President, and give him a cordial and zealous support. I regret not to be able to agree with him in his financial policy. Financial reform is of the most pressing importance, and I favor immediate action in respect to that matter.

To many the result of the first regular session of our Democratic Congress has been something of a disappointment. Disappointments come to all parties. The republican party is at the enjoyment of an income tax; at the repeal of the law placing our elections under supervision of Federal Marshals; at the continued supremacy of the Democrats in the Southern States and their full aggression to power at Washington, and at the complete failure of Republican plans and purposes.

Our disappointments are but temporary in their nature. They should make us only the more determined to press onward until the principles of the Democratic party are fully carried into operation—to the lasting benefit and advantage of the people, and to the glory of our country. In this cause I have already spent many years of my life, and I shall esteem it a privilege to continue my work in the new field and high station to which I aspire. I therefore solicit your favor and support, trusting that you may esteem me worthy to represent you in the Senate Chamber, and I beg my friends, wherever they may be, who favor my election, to be active in my behalf. S. A. ASHE. Raleigh, N. C., Aug 24th, 1894.

THE THIRD PARTY CONVENTION.

The Third party Convention met in Lillington last Monday and nominated the following for the several county officers: I. W. Taylor, (rep) for the Senate; Neill McLeod, (rep) for Representative; J. H. Pope, (belonging to no party) for sheriff; F. M. McKay, (pop) for clerk of Superior Court; McKay Byrd (pop) for Register of Deeds; Geo. D. Spencer, (pop) for Treasury; D. Darroch, (rep) for Coroner.

As our readers will see, the radicals and pops fused in every sense of the word with the conservatives.

the county in the coming election, but there is a grave doubt as to their being successful, so they had just as well join the infernal regions below, when it comes to a part of success. Its true they have some very good men on their ticket but they have not the backbone in them to come out and say what party they belong to, therefore such men cannot expect to succeed or get there.

Hon. Oscar J. Spears was nominated at Clinton, on the 22nd inst., by the Republicans on the 5th ballot. Messrs. W. E. Clark, of Craven, L. L. Hoyt, of Duplin, and S. H. Buchanan, of Moore were candidates. Mr. Spears leading from the beginning. Mr. Spears had more than enough to nominate all the time, but some of his friends wished to complement other candidates, and delayed this his nomination till the 5th ballot was taken.

The great gratification was expressed by the body, including visitors as well as delegates and upon the announcement of Mr. Spears nomination, the wildest enthusiasm was shown. We congratulate Mr. Spears and his party. The nomination is the strongest that could have been made.

Revivals.

Mt. Gilead and Lebanon Baptist churches have just had a most gracious season of revival meetings, under the preaching of Rev. J. T. Jenkins the Baptist Evangelist of North Carolina, who has been assisting the pastor of those churches, Rev. W. R. Harrell for the last 3 weeks.

A vast concourse of people assembled at both places to hear the "word of life" as it was delivered by the earnest preacher, and many souls were turned from darkness unto light during the services.

Ten persons were baptized by the pastor at the close, and some ten or fifteen more proposed to give themselves to Christ at Lebanon; and ten were baptized at Mount Gilead, while about the same number made profession of their faith in Christ at the latter place.

A large choir of singers were on the wide platform, around the organ, at both churches, whose voices seemed to reach the skies with melodious praises to the King Eternal, Immortal and Invisible; even Jesus the Lord of all.

It was a season to be remembered, while life lasts, to all who had the pleasure of being present. To God be all the glory forever, Amen. W. B. HARRELL.
