Plant only what you can cultivate by your own force, and hire but little if any. The large acreage in cotson does not every time mean a big profit to the farmer. What he wants to do is to plant as much as he can possibly tend with his own help without employing more labor.

No farmer can make cotton at the present low price and hire his labor, and should any attempt it they will be sadly and financially embarrassed next fall.

Had better plant but little cotton and put the ballance of their land in corn, peas, potatoes &c, something that will not require so much labor to cultivate and will give them meat and bread at home.

The probabilities now are that cotton will not even be worth as much next fall as it is now. Plant but little and make it with your own labor and then you will get the profit.

You may make an over production of cotton andb flood the market but you will be far better off to make all your home supplies. Think before you act.

ENVELOP'S.

The United States Government will print no more envelopes for business people. This practice has taken hundreds of thousands of dollars out if the pockets of the printers of the country. Vigorous profests have been made against the abuse, and thousands of names have been put to petitions asking that it be stopped. We are pleased to announce that all work of this character has been abandoned by the Government, and that hereafter private individuals will be compelled to go to private printing offices when they want their envelopes printed The printing bili which was approved by the President on the 12th day of January last contains a provision which is embodied in section 96, as follows:

"The Postmaster-General shall contract for all envelopes, stamped or otherwise, designed for sale to the public or for use by his own department, and may contract for them to be plain or with such printed matter as may be prescribed by the departs ment making requisition therefor; provided, that no envelope furnished by the bovernment shall contain any business address or advertisement."

It means that hereafter the earnings from printing of this sort will go to the printers of the country, hif and not to the Government, And this is as it should be .- Ex.
