Shoes for Abnormal Feet,

A veteran shoemaker contradicts the theory and practice of many of his craft who insist that the way to cure a distorted foot is to follow its abnormal joints add swellings in the last for the shoe. On the contrary, the shoe should be made as nearly the normal shape of the foot as possible, with the concession of a slight enlargement where the distortions are found. In this way the foot, unless the trouble is of very long existence, gradually will be restored to its proper and natural shape, -New York Times.

NEWSY GLEANINGS FROM MANY COUNTIES.

Praise for Mr. Bruner and the State Museum.

The April number of the Southern States Magazine, published in Baltimore, has this to say about one of our State officials and the museum: "The commissioner's office (Department of Agriculture) is now in charge of Mr. T. K. Bruner, secretary of the department. Mr. Bruner has always been devoted to his work and enthusiastic in his efforts to develop the efficiency of the department. He is probably better informed as to the resources of North Carolina than any other man in the State, and having a happy faculty of imparting information, he is a veritable hand-book of practical information about the opportunities and possibilities for development. It was owuntiring zeal that North Carolina made such a handsome and interesting exhibit at the World's Fair, which now comprises the State museum and is the pride of her citizens and the admiration of all visitors."

North Carolina Held Up as an Exam-

While the steam railroad companies of Connecticut are trying to prevent the electric railroads from securing charters, the people of the State can ter printed in the New York Sun the fluence exercised by the adoption of electrical traction in some parts of North Carolina, which has but recently come to be regarded as one of the very enterprising States of the Union. In the hilly regions near Asheville, electric cars run in every direction, even up the sides of spurs of the Blue Mountains, to the great convenience of the inhabitants, who are now able to travel quickly for three, five, six or more miles, making a journey in a few minutes, which would formerly have taken an hour's time. Where the best of teams moved laboriously through the clinging sand, the trolley car runs along at ten, twelve or fifteen miles an hour, up hill or down. The development of the region | dishes which stood on the table. The New School Committees. Mr. Scarborough, State Superintendent of Public Instruction, says that the county boards of education and county superintendents all go out of office the first Monday of June. Their powers cease that day, and on it they turn over their offices to the county commissioners. The latter will the same day appoint the new school committees under the new law.

An Important Arrest.

Revenue officers made quite an important arrest in Durham in the person of a saloon-keeper, T. J. Mangum. They expect to be able to show that Mangum is the owner of an illicit distillery recently captured out in the northern part of the county and that from that source he has been keeping his establishment well supplied with the blockade stuff. Mangum waived examination before the United States commissioner and gave bond for his appearance at the May term of the Federal Court.

Late Frosts.

There was a heavy frost at Greensboro on Friday morning and some ice, but no serious damages has been done to fruit yet. At Raleigh there was also considerable frost. It has done some damage, it is certain, and it is feared will blight a good deal of the fruit. It is late for frost, but this is an unusually cold and late spring. A Dinner in Korea.

"Kores, the country which has caused all the trouble between China and Japan, has many queer social customs," said J. A. Morrill, the traveler, "and I remember going to a banquet given by a member of the foreign office there, which, in many respects, was quite unique. The guests arrived find instruction in the Washington let- long before the dinner hour, for in Korea an affair of this kind lasts all other day, giving an account of the in- day, and were ushered into a pavilion adjacent to the one in which the dinner was to be served. After several half hours had been whiled away in smoking and in conversation, the dinner was at last announced, and we were summoned into the other hall, As soon as we had entered, the officials began to divest themselves of some of their clothing, for part of a native's wearing apparel seriously incommode him in taking food. We took our places at a large rectangular table, which was heaped with food of all kinds in brazen dishes of hemispherical shape. For the first course we had soap and sul, which is a kind of wine, and for the second the waiters handed around some of the other slices. At this juncture there entered several Korean singing girls, clad in the gaudiest costumes, and whose business it was to make themselves generally agreeable when at a banquet, Carolina, where agricultural products for they constitute all the female society that there is in that country. Their singing was not what an American would call good, nor was their dancing, but their conversation and

"Long as it is, a Korean banquet eventually comes to an end, and this one closed with a decoction of pear juice colored crimson and spiced with pine nuts. This we sipped at our leisure, while the attendants lighted pipes for us.
