DUNN, N. C., OCTOBER 23 1895

Our Roads.

We have once or twice spoken of the bad condition of the roads leading into Dunn, and now we speak of it again.

We daily hear complaints of the awful fix some of them are in, and some who would bring their objection to Dunn as actually taking it to other markets on account of it is one thing. The road leading out by Mingo, by Stony Run church is in a terrible condition and if not fixed will soon be impassable. Those who have authority should at once see that this road is properly worked and if the law provides that they should be forced to do their duty, it should be enforced.

When the last legislature met some of our citizens who realize what good roads mean called on our Senator and Representative and impressed the importance of the legislature providing a system by which the roads could be worked, that of working the convicts in each county in the State, making the county in which they worked board them and pay for the gaoling. This could have been done had our Senator and Representative made an effort, but they sat in the halls as dumb as an oyster, and never opened their mouths unless it was to take a chew of tobacco or receive a peanut. Such men as this in the legislature will cause us to continue to have bad roads and bad laws.

The prosperity of a town depends greatly upon the condition the roads are kept in.

If there is any law to make the owners of these roads put them in better shape it should be investigated at once and our citizens would be wise in looking into the matter themselves. We hope a worse will prove sufficient.

WHAT DOES IT MEAN?

We hear much said in times of political excitement about "pure Jeffersonian Democracy." Many who use the expression ought to hunt up some one who will sometimes pass by Jefferson's grave and send words of apology to his sleeping dust for using his name so flippantly. Many of them do not know anything about what Jefferson believed, and perhaps as many more do not know what Democracy means.

You can find any number of men who have gone off after the new fads and political fancies fabricated by halfstarved office-seekers who declared that they are standing on the "bed-rock principles" of Jeffersonian Democracy. Save the mark! The Israelites could just have as consistently declared that they were still worshipping the true God when Moses came down from Sinai and found them dancing around that golden calf.

Democracy means the rule of the people, pure and simple, and not the blind following of a few agitators who care for naught but their own interests. Democracy means the rule of the people established upon fixed principles, true and tried.

Let us have fewer place hunters and more devoted patriots to lead the people, and then we shall have a real Democracy.

The Negro in Washington.

The recommendation of the grand jury in Washington, D. C., for the restoration of the whipping post, shows the fact that it is not a new thing. People were first secured in support of the restoration of the whipping post in 1857.

It was a Republican who first brought the subject up in the House of Representatives. He was a Republican Congress and was ruthlessly putting negro domination on the people of Mississippi over consistency to secure it for the capital.

It is the most singular fact in the history of reconstruction that whenever the Republican leaders came personally in contact with a large ignorant negro vote they suppressed it, but at the same time devoted all their energies to securing the full effect of this vote at points remote from their habitation.

Is it true that Washington, which was first to suppress negro suffrage, and is now first to propose the restoration of the whipping post, is more reactionary than other places, or is the negro a worse citizen there than elsewhere?—News and Observer.
