

THE COUNTY UNION.

DUNN, Harnett County, N. C.

Entered according to postal regulations at the postoffice at Dunn, N. C., as second class matter.

B. K. GRANTHAM, Editor.
J. P. PITTMAN, Editor.

EDITOR'S ANNOUNCEMENT.
All communications must reach us on Tuesday evening.

Notices of church entertainments and other notices of like character from which revenue is to be derived, will be charged 25 cents per line.

Business locals will be made to regular advertisements at 5 cents per line. Locals without regular advertisements will be charged 75 cents per line.

Advertisements will be cut off at the expiration of their subscription unless they are notified that no paper will be discontinued until the subscription is paid up.

Communications must always have the author's name signed, and must be written plainly on one side of the paper.

Advertising rates furnished on application.

No legal notices inserted without cash in advance.

No communication will be accepted unless accompanied by the writer's name.

All advertisements inserted four successive weeks will be counted one month, and will be inserted and charged until ordered discontinued when the time is not specified.

TERMS OF SUBSCRIPTION.
Three Months.....25 Cents.
Six Months.....50 Cents.
One Year.....$1.00.
Sent by Mail. Payable in advance.

Published by B. K. GRANTHAM, Proprietor.

A TALK WITH OUR READERS.

You would like to have a good talk with the readers of the Union and through them with the general public, upon a subject which interests the whole, and that is the subject of Steady Paper Reading.

In the olden time when education was limited to the favored few, it was the habit of the people to depend upon public speakers for all they knew about the happenings of the country, and especially was this true with regard to events of a political cast. But this state of things no longer exists. Our modern educational facilities have enabled every man and woman, every boy and girl in the land to read, if they have a mind to learn and as they read they have begun to think for themselves; so it has come to pass that he or she who does not read and keep abreast with current events as they transpire find themselves under many disadvantages in their every day intercourse with the world.

Now let us see how we can avoid this trouble, and that at a very inconsiderable cost. In the first place if you can afford it, subscribe for some good magazine that contains articles upon almost all subjects of interest to the cultured reader, written by the best literary talent of the country. We can recommend the Atlantic, the Century, Harper's Monthly, Frank Leslie's Weekly, and many others well worth the subscription price, but the best medium for the acquisition of information upon every day matters, social, religious and political is a good news paper. Now which paper should you take is the first question. We think by all means take your County Paper, and not only take it and pay for it but read it. Why? because let it be a home enterprise, published by men you know, who are as much interested in the welfare of your section and state as you are yourselves.

2nd. Because it comes to you with the news of your immediate neighborhood, telling of events in which you are personally interested in and about people you know. Then what should your County Paper be to be worthy of your patronage and interest?

1st. It should contain the news of the day fresh from the State and National papers, condensed so as to be presented to its readers in short and pointed paragraphs.

2nd. It should be moral in every respect permitting nothing in its columns except what could be properly read by the most refined lady in the land.

3rd. It should be honest, teaching its readers nothing but truth as to the current history of events.

4th. It should have correspondents in every section of its territory who would each week send short and pithy items of news which would be of general not special interest. In these communications which should be short personalities and neighborhood gossip should be left out. Only such occurrences should be mentioned as would interest the general public.

With such a paper as this, the people would have a reliable messenger each week to entertain and instruct them. Its coming would be looked forward to almost like the visit of a friend. Let us imagine a family of father, mother and children sitting round the fire side during these long winter nights, with one of the boys reading the items of news in the County Paper, and the other members of the group discussing the news as it is read. A prettier picture of home life can hardly be imagined than this. Now gentle reader suppose you try this plan, get all the subscribers for The Union you can and we will give you a good paper. To our merchants and indeed every body who has anything to sell, or has something he wants the public to know put it in the Union, and you won't regret it.

THE FURNITURE FACTORY.

The South Dunn Manufacturing Company, owned and controlled by the following gentlemen of our town: Mr. Elbridge Lee, President, Mr. J. E. Stewart Vice Pres., Mr. E. F. Young Treas. and Mr. Jas. Pearson Sec., is now turning out furniture ready for the market, and the work has a neat appearance, being well made and well finished. Mr. W. S. Gentry, of many years experience in the furniture factory of High Point, is the foreman, and understands this business thoroughly.

The enterprising firm, the Lee Hardware Company bought the first lot that was sold one day last week, and now have it ready for their customers. The gentlemen in charge of this factory—the stock holders—are all well-to-do, and business men of our town. This is a home factory, run and controlled by home men, and it should receive the hearty cooperation and support of every man who has within him any love and pride for home enterprise.

The turn-out is well put together and the best material that can be had is used, while the workmanship is as good as that of any factory with long standing in the Northern cities. We are glad that the factory is in meeting with success and hope its success will cause other men to see the advantages offered in our town for factories, and cause them to invest their money here.

We fear no contradiction when we say that Harnett county now has the greatest water power of any county in the State with a little enterprise, money and labor among her people, could be made to take the lead in the State. The water power of Smiles Falls is wonderful and would furnish power enough, if properly arranged, to move all the machinery in North Carolina.

Let our people sound the grand possibilities of our county aloud and far, and invite those who may be seeking a home and a place of safe investment to come and behold the water power that flows through our county.

Wake up fellow citizen and work while the tide of immigration is turned to the South land—the land of wonders.

THE STATE FAIR.

We attended the State Fair on Friday, the last day, and took in the wonders and beheld the beautiful exhibits of various kinds. The exhibit this year was equally as good as it has usually been, and the fair was a success, though the crowd was not so large as usual.

We are surprised in many ways at the authorities of our State Fair, and it seems as the years go by it grows more numerous and worse. We must say there was more gamblers and fakirs, and indecent side-shows allowed at this fair than any we have attended. While ladies are not admitted to some of the side-shows, there are pictures and advertisements that appear on the outside that are not decent, and many ladies are disgusted with the language that is allowed on the grounds by the cutthroats and fakirs.

Our ideas may not be as large as a mastard seed in such matters but we are going to express them at any rate. We say that nothing should be admitted to go in the fair grounds that is not fit for a lady to look at, and if such is admitted it is not fit for the ladies to be admitted inside the grounds.

We believe if the authorities do not put a stop to so much of it, that it will be only a matter of a few years when the fair will go down. Then the name of the old North State will go down to the generations that are to follow us with a stain upon its flag of purity, marking the low esteem and love we had for the pure and noble women of our State. Let it not be thus.

N. A. SINCLAIR,
ATTORNEY-AT-LAW,
FAVETTVILLE, N. C.
Practicing in State and Federal Courts,
Aug-1-1895.

The cry of the Populist papers last year was five cent cotton and Cleveland in office, no better may be expected as long as Grover is at the head of the government. Now he is President and stands where he did then, cotton is 8 1/2 cents with prospects of going to 10 cents. Why don't those papers and clammy howlers sing a song like this: "Cleveland and nine cent cotton, times getting better, we were wrong and acted the hypocrit and made false impressions."

The News and Observer gave quite an elaborate description of the State Fair last week and the illustrations each day were fine. Raleigh should feel more than proud of such a daily and the work it always does for the city.

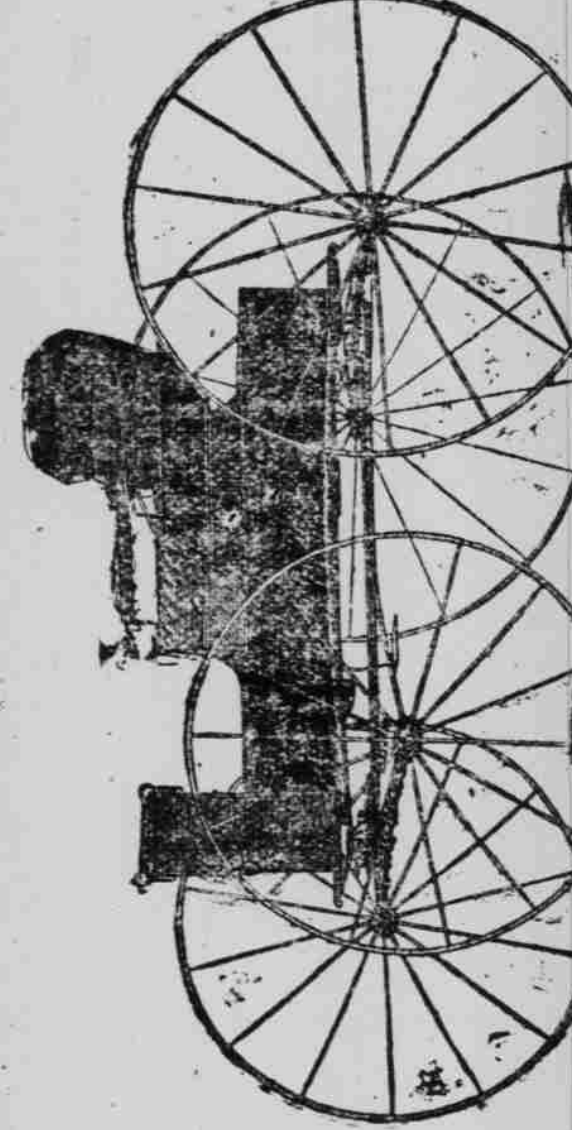

J. H. Inman the great New York cotton dealer made $300,000 so it has been stated by the recent decline, and we can safely add that the South lost millions during the last two weeks by the sudden slump.

You can earn $5 a day "giving" our absolutely indispensable houses, hold article away. New plan of work, making experience practices a try and success certain for either in any section. Sample dozen free Credit given. Freight paid. Address: Mazoness M'F'g Co., 15 Melrose Park, Ill.

Having qualified as Administrator upon the estate of Len Barnes deceased, Notice is hereby given to all persons holding claims against said estate to present the same for payment, duly qualified on or before the 20th day of October, 1895, or this notice will be placed in bar of their recovery. All persons indebted to said estate are hereby notified to make immediate payment of the same.

G. M. Lee,
Adm'r.
This 7th day of Oct. 1895.
F. P. Jones, Atty.
Gw.

THE CELEBRATED WINNER BUGGY, A. B. GODWIN JR., SOLE AGT DUNN, North Carolina.

Will sell you this popular and stylish full leather and silver trimmed only slope body and color of paint with the complete guarantee for one year for $37.50, heavy (rubber) imitation leather trimmed, same guarantee for $35.00.
A kind of Wagons, road and plantation Carriage, I can save you money see me before you buy.

WATCH
This space next week. I will not advertise a big Circus but will tell you what I've got in store for each and everyone who comes to Dunn.
THE FINEST AND CHEAPEST LINE OF CLOTHING
J. J. DUPRE & CO.

When you come to Benson don't fail to call and see me I have a full line of Drugs, Patent Medicines and everything generally carried in a first class drug store, Prescriptions carefully filled.
J. W. Benson,
Benson, N. C.

ACTION FOR DIVORCE.
It appearing to the satisfaction of the Court that Charles Moore the defendant is a non Resident of this State. It is ordered that publication for six weeks be made in the COUNTY UNION a newspaper published in the town of Dunn, N. C. notifying him to appear at the next term of said Court, at Lillington on the fourth Monday in November next and plead answer or demurrer or Judge will be rendered as demanded in the complaint. Witness, P. M. McKay Clerk of the Superior Court of Harnett County, at office in Lillington. First Monday in Sept. 1895.
F. M. McKay,
Clerk of Court.

NOTICE.
As a precedent for the corporation and a check with respect to the same, I can give one well by, in a pen with 100 got ones, and with this remedy, keep yourself.
Let no other stock but hogs have access to this remedy, as it is to them a deadly poison.
Dr. Dodge adds that for many years he sold his recipe for $5 and treated hogs at the rate of $1 per head paying the owner 10 cents a pound for all that died after treatment began.
[The above Prescription will be filed at D. Henry Bond's Drug Store for 50 cents. We would like to have our farmer's try it.]

REMEDY FOR HOG CHOLERA.
Dr. T. J. Dodge of Hamilton, Ill., writes as follows to the Iowa Farmer: "I deem it my duty to give to the public my recipe for the cure of what is termed hog cholera. I have used this remedy for 35 years, and raised hogs on my ranch in Nebraska and never lost a hog. I have experimented by placing one well hog with a lot of sick ones and keeping it well by the use of this remedy."
"You will confer a great favor upon the farmers of our country by publishing this recipe in full. I am now engaged in other business and have been for 16 years, and am willing to let others prosper by the long years of experience of mine with a remedy I discovered myself for the cure of this dreaded disease. The prescription and directions are as follow: Arsenic, one-half pound; Cape Aloes one-half pound, black antimony, one ounce; blue vitriol, one-fourth of pound. Grind and mix well the remedy before using. The following are the directions for using:
Sick hogs, in all cases, to be separated from the well ones, and placed in dry pens with only five large hogs or six small ones in a pen.
Feed nothing but dry food, but no water until the stop containing the remedy until cured.
When hogs refuse to eat, turn them on their backs and then, with a long handled spoon put the dry medicine down their throats.
Dose for large hogs, one teaspoonful three times a day for three days; for small ones one day and repeat amount until cured; for pigs one teaspoonful the amount.
As a preventive for the corporation and a check with respect to the same, I can give one well by, in a pen with 100 got ones, and with this remedy, keep yourself.
Let no other stock but hogs have access to this remedy, as it is to them a deadly poison.
Dr. Dodge adds that for many years he sold his recipe for $5 and treated hogs at the rate of $1 per head paying the owner 10 cents a pound for all that died after treatment began.
[The above Prescription will be filed at D. Henry Bond's Drug Store for 50 cents. We would like to have our farmer's try it.]

REMEDY FOR HOG CHOLERA.
Dr. T. J. Dodge of Hamilton, Ill., writes as follows to the Iowa Farmer: "I deem it my duty to give to the public my recipe for the cure of what is termed hog cholera. I have used this remedy for 35 years, and raised hogs on my ranch in Nebraska and never lost a hog. I have experimented by placing one well hog with a lot of sick ones and keeping it well by the use of this remedy."
"You will confer a great favor upon the farmers of our country by publishing this recipe in full. I am now engaged in other business and have been for 16 years, and am willing to let others prosper by the long years of experience of mine with a remedy I discovered myself for the cure of this dreaded disease. The prescription and directions are as follow: Arsenic, one-half pound; Cape Aloes one-half pound, black antimony, one ounce; blue vitriol, one-fourth of pound. Grind and mix well the remedy before using. The following are the directions for using:
Sick hogs, in all cases, to be separated from the well ones, and placed in dry pens with only five large hogs or six small ones in a pen.
Feed nothing but dry food, but no water until the stop containing the remedy until cured.
When hogs refuse to eat, turn them on their backs and then, with a long handled spoon put the dry medicine down their throats.
Dose for large hogs, one teaspoonful three times a day for three days; for small ones one day and repeat amount until cured; for pigs one teaspoonful the amount.
As a preventive for the corporation and a check with respect to the same, I can give one well by, in a pen with 100 got ones, and with this remedy, keep yourself.
Let no other stock but hogs have access to this remedy, as it is to them a deadly poison.
Dr. Dodge adds that for many years he sold his recipe for $5 and treated hogs at the rate of $1 per head paying the owner 10 cents a pound for all that died after treatment began.
[The above Prescription will be filed at D. Henry Bond's Drug Store for 50 cents. We would like to have our farmer's try it.]

REMEDY FOR HOG CHOLERA.
Dr. T. J. Dodge of Hamilton, Ill., writes as follows to the Iowa Farmer: "I deem it my duty to give to the public my recipe for the cure of what is termed hog cholera. I have used this remedy for 35 years, and raised hogs on my ranch in Nebraska and never lost a hog. I have experimented by placing one well hog with a lot of sick ones and keeping it well by the use of this remedy."
"You will confer a great favor upon the farmers of our country by publishing this recipe in full. I am now engaged in other business and have been for 16 years, and am willing to let others prosper by the long years of experience of mine with a remedy I discovered myself for the cure of this dreaded disease. The prescription and directions are as follow: Arsenic, one-half pound; Cape Aloes one-half pound, black antimony, one ounce; blue vitriol, one-fourth of pound. Grind and mix well the remedy before using. The following are the directions for using:
Sick hogs, in all cases, to be separated from the well ones, and placed in dry pens with only five large hogs or six small ones in a pen.
Feed nothing but dry food, but no water until the stop containing the remedy until cured.
When hogs refuse to eat, turn them on their backs and then, with a long handled spoon put the dry medicine down their throats.
Dose for large hogs, one teaspoonful three times a day for three days; for small ones one day and repeat amount until cured; for pigs one teaspoonful the amount.
As a preventive for the corporation and a check with respect to the same, I can give one well by, in a pen with 100 got ones, and with this remedy, keep yourself.
Let no other stock but hogs have access to this remedy, as it is to them a deadly poison.
Dr. Dodge adds that for many years he sold his recipe for $5 and treated hogs at the rate of $1 per head paying the owner 10 cents a pound for all that died after treatment began.
[The above Prescription will be filed at D. Henry Bond's Drug Store for 50 cents. We would like to have our farmer's try it.]

REMEDY FOR HOG CHOLERA.
Dr. T. J. Dodge of Hamilton, Ill., writes as follows to the Iowa Farmer: "I deem it my duty to give to the public my recipe for the cure of what is termed hog cholera. I have used this remedy for 35 years, and raised hogs on my ranch in Nebraska and never lost a hog. I have experimented by placing one well hog with a lot of sick ones and keeping it well by the use of this remedy."
"You will confer a great favor upon the farmers of our country by publishing this recipe in full. I am now engaged in other business and have been for 16 years, and am willing to let others prosper by the long years of experience of mine with a remedy I discovered myself for the cure of this dreaded disease. The prescription and directions are as follow: Arsenic, one-half pound; Cape Aloes one-half pound, black antimony, one ounce; blue vitriol, one-fourth of pound. Grind and mix well the remedy before using. The following are the directions for using:
Sick hogs, in all cases, to be separated from the well ones, and placed in dry pens with only five large hogs or six small ones in a pen.
Feed nothing but dry food, but no water until the stop containing the remedy until cured.
When hogs refuse to eat, turn them on their backs and then, with a long handled spoon put the dry medicine down their throats.
Dose for large hogs, one teaspoonful three times a day for three days; for small ones one day and repeat amount until cured; for pigs one teaspoonful the amount.
As a preventive for the corporation and a check with respect to the same, I can give one well by, in a pen with 100 got ones, and with this remedy, keep yourself.
Let no other stock but hogs have access to this remedy, as it is to them a deadly poison.
Dr. Dodge adds that for many years he sold his recipe for $5 and treated hogs at the rate of $1 per head paying the owner 10 cents a pound for all that died after treatment began.
[The above Prescription will be filed at D. Henry Bond's Drug Store for 50 cents. We would like to have our farmer's try it.]

REMEDY FOR HOG CHOLERA.
Dr. T. J. Dodge of Hamilton, Ill., writes as follows to the Iowa Farmer: "I deem it my duty to give to the public my recipe for the cure of what is termed hog cholera. I have used this remedy for 35 years, and raised hogs on my ranch in Nebraska and never lost a hog. I have experimented by placing one well hog with a lot of sick ones and keeping it well by the use of this remedy."
"You will confer a great favor upon the farmers of our country by publishing this recipe in full. I am now engaged in other business and have been for 16 years, and am willing to let others prosper by the long years of experience of mine with a remedy I discovered myself for the cure of this dreaded disease. The prescription and directions are as follow: Arsenic, one-half pound; Cape Aloes one-half pound, black antimony, one ounce; blue vitriol, one-fourth of pound. Grind and mix well the remedy before using. The following are the directions for using:
Sick hogs, in all cases, to be separated from the well ones, and placed in dry pens with only five large hogs or six small ones in a pen.
Feed nothing but dry food, but no water until the stop containing the remedy until cured.
When hogs refuse to eat, turn them on their backs and then, with a long handled spoon put the dry medicine down their throats.
Dose for large hogs, one teaspoonful three times a day for three days; for small ones one day and repeat amount until cured; for pigs one teaspoonful the amount.
As a preventive for the corporation and a check with respect to the same, I can give one well by, in a pen with 100 got ones, and with this remedy, keep yourself.
Let no other stock but hogs have access to this remedy, as it is to them a deadly poison.
Dr. Dodge adds that for many years he sold his recipe for $5 and treated hogs at the rate of $1 per head paying the owner 10 cents a pound for all that died after treatment began.
[The above Prescription will be filed at D. Henry Bond's Drug Store for 50 cents. We would like to have our farmer's try it.]

REMEDY FOR HOG CHOLERA.
Dr. T. J. Dodge of Hamilton, Ill., writes as follows to the Iowa Farmer: "I deem it my duty to give to the public my recipe for the cure of what is termed hog cholera. I have used this remedy for 35 years, and raised hogs on my ranch in Nebraska and never lost a hog. I have experimented by placing one well hog with a lot of sick ones and keeping it well by the use of this remedy."
"You will confer a great favor upon the farmers of our country by publishing this recipe in full. I am now engaged in other business and have been for 16 years, and am willing to let others prosper by the long years of experience of mine with a remedy I discovered myself for the cure of this dreaded disease. The prescription and directions are as follow: Arsenic, one-half pound; Cape Aloes one-half pound, black antimony, one ounce; blue vitriol, one-fourth of pound. Grind and mix well the remedy before using. The following are the directions for using:
Sick hogs, in all cases, to be separated from the well ones, and placed in dry pens with only five large hogs or six small ones in a pen.
Feed nothing but dry food, but no water until the stop containing the remedy until cured.
When hogs refuse to eat, turn them on their backs and then, with a long handled spoon put the dry medicine down their throats.
Dose for large hogs, one teaspoonful three times a day for three days; for small ones one day and repeat amount until cured; for pigs one teaspoonful the amount.
As a preventive for the corporation and a check with respect to the same, I can give one well by, in a pen with 100 got ones, and with this remedy, keep yourself.
Let no other stock but hogs have access to this remedy, as it is to them a deadly poison.
Dr. Dodge adds that for many years he sold his recipe for $5 and treated hogs at the rate of $1 per head paying the owner 10 cents a pound for all that died after treatment began.
[The above Prescription will be filed at D. Henry Bond's Drug Store for 50 cents. We would like to have our farmer's try it.]

REMEDY FOR HOG CHOLERA.
Dr. T. J. Dodge of Hamilton, Ill., writes as follows to the Iowa Farmer: "I deem it my duty to give to the public my recipe for the cure of what is termed hog cholera. I have used this remedy for 35 years, and raised hogs on my ranch in Nebraska and never lost a hog. I have experimented by placing one well hog with a lot of sick ones and keeping it well by the use of this remedy."
"You will confer a great favor upon the farmers of our country by publishing this recipe in full. I am now engaged in other business and have been for 16 years, and am willing to let others prosper by the long years of experience of mine with a remedy I discovered myself for the cure of this dreaded disease. The prescription and directions are as follow: Arsenic, one-half pound; Cape Aloes one-half pound, black antimony, one ounce; blue vitriol, one-fourth of pound. Grind and mix well the remedy before using. The following are the directions for using:
Sick hogs, in all cases, to be separated from the well ones, and placed in dry pens with only five large hogs or six small ones in a pen.
Feed nothing but dry food, but no water until the stop containing the remedy until cured.
When hogs refuse to eat, turn them on their backs and then, with a long handled spoon put the dry medicine down their throats.
Dose for large hogs, one teaspoonful three times a day for three days; for small ones one day and repeat amount until cured; for pigs one teaspoonful the amount.
As a preventive for the corporation and a check with respect to the same, I can give one well by, in a pen with 100 got ones, and with this remedy, keep yourself.
Let no other stock but hogs have access to this remedy, as it is to them a deadly poison.
Dr. Dodge adds that for many years he sold his recipe for $5 and treated hogs at the rate of $1 per head paying the owner 10 cents a pound for all that died after treatment began.
[The above Prescription will be filed at D. Henry Bond's Drug Store for 50 cents. We would like to have our farmer's try it.]

REMEDY FOR HOG CHOLERA.
Dr. T. J. Dodge of Hamilton, Ill., writes as follows to the Iowa Farmer: "I deem it my duty to give to the public my recipe for the cure of what is termed hog cholera. I have used this remedy for 35 years, and raised hogs on my ranch in Nebraska and never lost a hog. I have experimented by placing one well hog with a lot of sick ones and keeping it well by the use of this remedy."
"You will confer a great favor upon the farmers of our country by publishing this recipe in full. I am now engaged in other business and have been for 16 years, and am willing to let others prosper by the long years of experience of mine with a remedy I discovered myself for the cure of this dreaded disease. The prescription and directions are as follow: Arsenic, one-half pound; Cape Aloes one-half pound, black antimony, one ounce; blue vitriol, one-fourth of pound. Grind and mix well the remedy before using. The following are the directions for using:
Sick hogs, in all cases, to be separated from the well ones, and placed in dry pens with only five large hogs or six small ones in a pen.
Feed nothing but dry food, but no water until the stop containing the remedy until cured.
When hogs refuse to eat, turn them on their backs and then, with a long handled spoon put the dry medicine down their throats.
Dose for large hogs, one teaspoonful three times a day for three days; for small ones one day and repeat amount until cured; for pigs one teaspoonful the amount.
As a preventive for the corporation and a check with respect to the same, I can give one well by, in a pen with 100 got ones, and with this remedy, keep yourself.
Let no other stock but hogs have access to this remedy, as it is to them a deadly poison.
Dr. Dodge adds that for many years he sold his recipe for $5 and treated hogs at the rate of $1 per head paying the owner 10 cents a pound for all that died after treatment began.
[The above Prescription will be filed at D. Henry Bond's Drug Store for 50 cents. We would like to have our farmer's try it.]

REMEDY FOR HOG CHOLERA.
Dr. T. J. Dodge of Hamilton, Ill., writes as follows to the Iowa Farmer: "I deem it my duty to give to the public my recipe for the cure of what is termed hog cholera. I have used this remedy for 35 years, and raised hogs on my ranch in Nebraska and never lost a hog. I have experimented by placing one well hog with a lot of sick ones and keeping it well by the use of this remedy."
"You will confer a great favor upon the farmers of our country by publishing this recipe in full. I am now engaged in other business and have been for 16 years, and am willing to let others prosper by the long years of experience of mine with a remedy I discovered myself for the cure of this dreaded disease. The prescription and directions are as follow: Arsenic, one-half pound; Cape Aloes one-half pound, black antimony, one ounce; blue vitriol, one-fourth of pound. Grind and mix well the remedy before using. The following are the directions for using:
Sick hogs, in all cases, to be separated from the well ones, and placed in dry pens with only five large hogs or six small ones in a pen.
Feed nothing but dry food, but no water until the stop containing the remedy until cured.
When hogs refuse to eat, turn them on their backs and then, with a long handled spoon put the dry medicine down their throats.
Dose for large hogs, one teaspoonful three times a day for three days; for small ones one day and repeat amount until cured; for pigs one teaspoonful the amount.
As a preventive for the corporation and a check with respect to the same, I can give one well by, in a pen with 100 got ones, and with this remedy, keep yourself.
Let no other stock but hogs have access to this remedy, as it is to them a deadly poison.
Dr. Dodge adds that for many years he sold his recipe for $5 and treated hogs at the rate of $1 per head paying the owner 10 cents a pound for all that died after treatment began.
[The above Prescription will be filed at D. Henry Bond's Drug Store for 50 cents. We would like to have our farmer's try it.]

REMEDY FOR HOG CHOLERA.
Dr. T. J. Dodge of Hamilton, Ill., writes as follows to the Iowa Farmer: "I deem it my duty to give to the public my recipe for the cure of what is termed hog cholera. I have used this remedy for 35 years, and raised hogs on my ranch in Nebraska and never lost a hog. I have experimented by placing one well hog with a lot of sick ones and keeping it well by the use of this remedy."
"You will confer a great favor upon the farmers of our country by publishing this recipe in full. I am now engaged in other business and have been for 16 years, and am willing to let others prosper by the long years of experience of mine with a remedy I discovered myself for the cure of this dreaded disease. The prescription and directions are as follow: Arsenic, one-half pound; Cape Aloes one-half pound, black antimony, one ounce; blue vitriol, one-fourth of pound. Grind and mix well the remedy before using. The following are the directions for using:
Sick hogs, in all cases, to be separated from the well ones, and placed in dry pens with only five large hogs or six small ones in a pen.
Feed nothing but dry food, but no water until the stop containing the remedy until cured.
When hogs refuse to eat, turn them on their backs and then, with a long handled spoon put the dry medicine down their throats.
Dose for large hogs, one teaspoonful three times a day for three days; for small ones one day and repeat amount until cured; for pigs one teaspoonful the amount.
As a preventive for the corporation and a check with respect to the same, I can give one well by, in a pen with 100 got ones, and with this remedy, keep yourself.
Let no other stock but hogs have access to this remedy, as it is to them a deadly poison.
Dr. Dodge adds that for many years he sold his recipe for $5 and treated hogs at the rate of $1 per head paying the owner 10 cents a pound for all that died after treatment began.
[The above Prescription will be filed at D. Henry Bond's Drug Store for 50 cents. We would like to have our farmer's try it.]

REMEDY FOR HOG CHOLERA.
Dr. T. J. Dodge of Hamilton, Ill., writes as follows to the Iowa Farmer: "I deem it my duty to give to the public my recipe for the cure of what is termed hog cholera. I have used this remedy for 35 years, and raised hogs on my ranch in Nebraska and never lost a hog. I have experimented by placing one well hog with a lot of sick ones and keeping it well by the use of this remedy."
"You will confer a great favor upon the farmers of our country by publishing this recipe in full. I am now engaged in other business and have been for 16 years, and am willing to let others prosper by the long years of experience of mine with a remedy I discovered myself for the cure of this dreaded disease. The prescription and directions are as follow: Arsenic, one-half pound; Cape Aloes one-half pound, black antimony, one ounce; blue vitriol, one-fourth of pound. Grind and mix well the remedy before using. The following are the directions for using:
Sick hogs, in all cases, to be separated from the well ones, and placed in dry pens with only five large hogs or six small ones in a pen.
Feed nothing but dry food, but no water until the stop containing the remedy until cured.
When hogs refuse to eat, turn them on their backs and then, with a long handled spoon put the dry medicine down their throats.
Dose for large hogs, one teaspoonful three times a day for three days; for small ones one day and repeat amount until cured; for pigs one teaspoonful the amount.
As a preventive for the corporation and a check with respect to the same, I can give one well by, in a pen with 100 got ones, and with this remedy, keep yourself.
Let no other stock but hogs have access to this remedy, as it is to them a deadly poison.
Dr. Dodge adds that for many years he sold his recipe for $5 and treated hogs at the rate of $1 per head paying the owner 10 cents a pound for all that died after treatment began.
[The above Prescription will be filed at D. Henry Bond's Drug Store for 50 cents. We would like to have our farmer's try it.]

REMEDY FOR HOG CHOLERA.
Dr. T. J. Dodge of Hamilton, Ill., writes as follows to the Iowa Farmer: "I deem it my duty to give to the public my recipe for the cure of what is termed hog cholera. I have used this remedy for 35 years, and raised hogs on my ranch in Nebraska and never lost a hog. I have experimented by placing one well hog with a lot of sick ones and keeping it well by the use of this remedy."
"You will confer a great favor upon the farmers of our country by publishing this recipe in full. I am now engaged in other business and have been for 16 years, and am willing to let others prosper by the long years of experience of mine with a remedy I discovered myself for the cure of this dreaded disease. The prescription and directions are as follow: Arsenic, one-half pound; Cape Aloes one-half pound, black antimony, one ounce; blue vitriol, one-fourth of pound. Grind and mix well the remedy before using. The following are the directions for using:
Sick hogs, in all cases, to be separated from the well ones, and placed in dry pens with only five large hogs or six small ones in a pen.
Feed nothing but dry food, but no water until the stop containing the remedy until cured.
When hogs refuse to eat, turn them on their backs and then, with a long handled spoon put the dry medicine down their throats.
Dose for large hogs, one teaspoonful three times a day for three days; for small ones one day and repeat amount until cured; for pigs one teaspoonful the amount.
As a preventive for the corporation and a check with respect to the same, I can give one well by, in a pen with 100 got ones, and with this remedy, keep yourself.
Let no other stock but hogs have access to this remedy, as it is to them a deadly poison.
Dr. Dodge adds that for many years he sold his recipe for $5 and treated hogs at the rate of $1 per head paying the owner 10 cents a pound for all that died after treatment began.
[The above Prescription will be filed at D. Henry Bond's Drug Store for 50 cents. We would like to have our farmer's try it.]

REMEDY FOR HOG CHOLERA.
Dr. T. J. Dodge of Hamilton, Ill., writes as follows to the Iowa Farmer: "I deem it my duty to give to the public my recipe for the cure of what is termed hog cholera. I have used this remedy for 35 years, and raised hogs on my ranch in Nebraska and never lost a hog. I have experimented by placing one well hog with a lot of sick ones and keeping it well by the use of this remedy."
"You will confer a great favor upon the farmers of our country by publishing this recipe in full. I am now engaged in other business and have been for 16 years, and am willing to let others prosper by the long years of experience of mine with a remedy I discovered myself for the cure of this dreaded disease. The prescription and directions are as follow: Arsenic, one-half pound; Cape Aloes one-half pound, black antimony, one ounce; blue vitriol, one-fourth of pound. Grind and mix well the remedy before using. The following are the directions for using:
Sick hogs, in all cases, to be separated from the well ones, and placed in dry pens with only five large hogs or six small ones in a pen.
Feed nothing but dry food, but no water until the stop containing the remedy until cured.
When hogs refuse to eat, turn them on their backs and then, with a long handled spoon put the dry medicine down their throats.
Dose for large hogs, one teaspoonful three times a day for three days; for small ones one day and repeat amount until cured; for pigs one teaspoonful the amount.
As a preventive for the corporation and a check with respect to the same, I can give one well by, in a pen with 100 got ones, and with this remedy, keep yourself.
Let no other stock but hogs have access to this remedy, as it is to them a deadly poison.
Dr. Dodge adds that for many years he sold his recipe for $5 and treated hogs at the rate of $1 per head paying the owner 10 cents a pound for all that died after treatment began.
[The above Prescription will be filed at D. Henry Bond's Drug Store for 50 cents. We would like to have our farmer's try it.]

REMEDY FOR HOG CHOLERA.
Dr. T. J. Dodge of Hamilton, Ill., writes as follows to the Iowa Farmer: "I deem it my duty to give to the public my recipe for the cure of what is termed hog cholera. I have used this remedy for 35 years, and raised hogs on my ranch in Nebraska and never lost a hog. I have experimented by placing one well hog with a lot of sick ones and keeping it well by the use of this remedy."
"You will confer a great favor upon the farmers of our country by publishing this recipe in full. I am now engaged in other business and have been for 16 years, and am willing to let others prosper by the long years of experience of mine with a remedy I discovered myself for the cure of this dreaded disease. The prescription and directions are as follow: Arsenic, one-half pound; Cape Aloes one-half pound, black antimony, one ounce; blue vitriol, one-fourth of pound. Grind and mix well the remedy before using. The following are the directions for using:
Sick hogs, in all cases, to be separated from the well ones, and placed in dry pens with only five large hogs or six small ones in a pen.
Feed nothing but dry food, but no water until the stop containing the remedy until cured.
When hogs refuse to eat, turn them on their backs and then, with a long handled spoon put the dry medicine down their throats.
Dose for large hogs, one teaspoonful three times a day for three days; for small ones one day and repeat amount until cured; for pigs one teaspoonful the amount.
As a preventive for the corporation and a check with respect to the same, I can give one well by, in a pen with 100 got ones, and with this remedy, keep yourself.
Let no other stock but hogs have access to this remedy, as it is to them a deadly poison.
Dr. Dodge adds that for many years he sold his recipe for $5 and treated hogs at the rate of $1 per head paying the owner 10 cents a pound for all that died after treatment began.
[The above Prescription will be filed at D. Henry Bond's Drug Store for 50 cents. We would like to have our farmer's try it.]