Beating a Retreat.

There are accumulating evidences of a desire on the part of many Republicans to modify materially the position of their party on the tariff question.

One of the foremost Republican leaders in Congress, Representative Babcock, who was chairman of the last Congressional campaign committee, introduced a bill at the last session of Congress which provides that trust-made steel and iron shall be placed upon the free list, and he will urge such legislation at the next session.

In several leading Republicans organs we have found of late vigorous attacks upon the protection policy, which it was until recently considered rank treason to true Republicanism to even criticize.

But the most notable declaration that we have seen from such a source appears in the Philadelphia Press, whose editor and chief owner is Postmaster General Smith.

The Press says, in speaking of the steel industry: "Higher prices are maintained here now, but much lower ones are possible." The article practically charges that the effect of the protective tariff is to "hold up" the people for the benefit of the trusts. The writer says:

"During 1895 and through 1897 the United States produced cheaper iron and steel than any country in the world, and under similar pressure it can do it again. The writer goes on to say that America has nothing to fear in competition with the supply again overruns the demand, and question of cost becomes a paramount importance. After mentioning the low figures at which United States dealers have made pig iron, billets, plates and bars at a profit, he adds: "We may have to get down to these figures again, and can do it as we did before with a small margin of profit if necessary, but for the present we are getting 60 to 100 per cent. better."

This is a remarkable and very significant admission for a newspaper which may well be supposed to represent the views and desires—we may also say the expressions—of the administration more fully and more accurately than any other publication. It seems that the Republican party is beginning to feel that the policy of protection is getting to be too heavy a load to carry.—Goldsboro Argus.

He Kept His Leg.

Twelve years ago J. W. Sullivan, of Hartford, Conn., scratched his leg with a rusty wire. Inflammation and blood poisoning set in. For two years he suffered intensely. Then the best doctors urged amputation, "but," he writes, "I used one bottle of Electric Bitters and 1 1/2 boxes of Bucklen's Arnica Salve and my leg was sound and well as ever." For eruptions, eczema, tetter, salt rheum, sores and all blood disorders Electric Bitters has no rival on earth.
Try them C. L. Wilson will guarantee satisfaction or refund money. Only 50 cents.

What is Democracy?

The New York Journal prints a cartoon of the fight between Tillman and McLaurin.

Tillman is using his populist pitchfork and McLaurin a big club labeled republican.

The old democratic party is sitting on a bench fanning herself and saying: "Keep on gentleman, don't mind me."

In its editorial comment it says:

"Will the democrats of South Carolina hold with Senator Tillman that democracy is populism? Will they hold with Senator McLaurin that democracy is republicanism? Is there any remote chance that the campaign between these two will develop an opportunity for the democrats of South Carolina to hold with some new and truly democratic and trustworthily leader that democracy is democracy?"

"Certainly if anything can be judged from the outset of the campaign the people will have an excellent opportunity to learn the full and interesting and very damaging truth about both of these mis-representatives. And if they ever should fully grasp the truth they would surely retire both to private life."
