Peculiar Phrases. SOME QUITE ODD EXPRES-SIONS. What They Mean.

"To feel in apple pie order" a phrase which dates back to Puritan times to a certain Hephzibah Merton. It seems hat every Saturday she was ecustomed to bake two or hree dozen apple pies, which were to last her family through the coming week. These she placed carefully on her pantry helves labeled for each day of the week, so that Tuesday's pies might not be confused with Thursday's, nor those presumably large or intended for washing and sweeping days eaten when household labors were lighter. Aunt Hephzi-duce. Watch this space it means known throughout the entire settlement, and originated the well-known saying. It was customary in France when a guest had stayed his welcome, for the host to serve a of a hot roast. This was the origin of the phrase "To give the cold shoulder." "None shall wear a feather but he who has killed a 'Turk' his cap indicated how many Turks he had killed. Hence the origin of the saying with reference to a feather in one's cap. In one of the battles between the Russians and Tartars a private soldier of the former cried out, "Captain, I've caught a Tartar !" "Bring him along then," answered the officer. "I can't, for he won't let me," was the response. Upon investigation it was apparent that the captured had the captor by day. tract with all the publishers for the arm, and would not release the sale of all text books adopt- him. So "catching a tartar" is applicable to one who has
