This paper positively will not accept for publication from any one any notice of land sale, or administrator's notice without cash with copy. This applies to all. Rates - medium size $2.50; larger $3.00; administrator's notice six weeks $3.00.

Cotton 7 1/2 to-day.

Make your fruit cakes now. Supplies at Hood & Grantham.

In the pension list last week the name of W. J. Naylor appeared. It should have been W. J. Taylor.

The members of Lucknow Lodge I. O. O. F. are requested to be at their Hall next Friday night, Nov. 29th, as there will be three candidates to confer the initiatory degree upon.

The brick work on Mr. E. Lee's handsome two-story brick store, fronting on Broad and Wilson streets, is nearly completed. It will be a handsome building.

The managers of the Opera House are respectfully requested to prohibit smoking in the building during the performance. This conduct should be nipped in the bud.

We are authorized to say that the curtain in the Quo Vadis play will not rise at the Opera House Saturday night until 8:30 in order to give the business men a chance to see the show.

The B. C. A. Minstrel gave an entertainment at the Opera House Monday night. They have a very good show which does credit to the school. They are playing for the benefit of rebuilding the Academy. The boys realized quite a nice little sum here.

Mr. P. J. Jeffreys has 60 or 75 desirable resident lots for sale in South Dunn just below the furniture factories. He is advertising an auction sale of the lots to take place on Monday, December 16th, at 12 o'clock. You will have a chance to purchase some valuable lots at low prices.

Sheriff Salmon will be in Dunn at the Town Hall next Friday the 29th from 9 a. m. to 9 p. m. This is his last call for your tax and unless you settle at this time you will be charged cost. Don't forget the date of his visit and get ready to settle your taxes.

We are requested by the managers of the Opera House that in the future the ladies will be requested to remove their hats while in the Opera House or pay 15 cents extra to the usher for the privilege of obscuring the view of their friends in the rear of the hall.

Santa Claus has come to Dunn and made Hood & Grantham's drug store headquarters. He has made a beautiful display of charming toys and costly articles. He extends an invitation to all to call and see the magnificent display and leave orders for gifts to be delivered later.

The exercises at the Methodist church last Friday night of the Missionary Society, under the efficient management of Mrs. Lenora McKay, were highly enjoyed by a large crowd. The young people acted their parts well, reflecting much credit upon themselves and their beloved manager. After the exercises a collection was taken for the cause of foreign missions.

On last Wednesday morning while at school, little Isabel, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Young, accidentally caught on fire while playing in the yard. She was badly burned, having nearly all her clothing burned from her body. It was through much effort that her teacher, Miss Emma Young, extinguished the flames and saved the little girl. It was thought at first she would not recover from her injuries, but we are glad to note that her condition has improved considerably and that she is doing well. We greatly sympathize with Mr. and Mrs. Young.

QUO VADIS.

Carpenter's "Quo Vadis," which opened this season at the American Theatre in Chicago, was pronounced by the critics to be the best dramatization of the famous novel which has been used. In view of the approval which "Quo Vadis" gained last year it is not too much to predict an unequalled success for it this season. The company has been augmented by several new artists, and a complete equipment of new scenery has been added.

"The Burning of Rome" is the most stupendous scenic effect ever produced, while the scene in which Lydia is rescued from the hill is made thrillingly realistic by the introduction of the entire arena scene, showing the girl bound upon the animal's horns. This is the only company on the road which presents this feature. "Quo Vadis" will be seen here next Saturday night at the Opera House.

Seats on sale at C. L. Wilson's drug store.

The King land suit has been compromised for $500. Now let this section of the city go forward.

LOST - On last Wednesday, somewhere in the vicinity of Lillington I lost $150. The finder will be liberally rewarded by returning same to THE BANNER office.

FRANK KNOCKLEY.

Yesterday at noon brick laying commenced on the Bank building and the handsome store building for Messingill, Marks & Co.

We return thanks to Mr. W. T. Dupree for a bushel of the finest potatoes we have ever seen, sent us Monday. Some of the potatoes weighed five pounds each.

Mr. C. L. Wilson is opening up one of the nicest lines of holiday goods ever seen in Dunn. If you are thinking of purchasing a present for your friend he has them. Read his "ad" in this issue.

Last Friday Mr. J. W. Gregory closed his doors and made an assignment. We have learned nothing of his liabilities. Mr. H. L. Godwin, assignee, and W. A. Stewart, attorney.

The many friends throughout this section will regret to learn of the critical condition of Mr. R. L. Godwin who is in school at Chapel Hill. For several weeks he has been seriously ill with typhoid fever. His brother, Mr. H. L. Godwin, spent several days by his bedside last week.

We take the following item from the Fremont Rural Visitor, which says: "W. H. Blanchard, of Dunn, while drunk, got off the 3 o'clock passenger train here Tuesday. Slipped and fell. Two wheels passed over one foot and ankle, rendering amputation necessary. Dr. Turlington took him to the Emergency Hospital in Goldsboro that evening where the foot was amputated and then removed him to the A. C. L. Hospital at Rocky Mount. It is said to be the second time he was ever known to be drunk." We are informed that Mr. Blanchard is doing very well and will recover.

For Mens Gloves call on Messingill, Marks & Co.

PERSONAL MENTION.

Messrs. Will and Joseph Hitcher, of Selma, spent Sunday in the city.

Mr. Robert Fulghum, of Wilson, spent a few hours in the city Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Currin and Miss Eugenia Canady, of Oxford, are visiting Mr. and Mrs. G. L. Cannady.

Miss Urma Webster, representing the Burbank Mfg. Co., spent several days in the city last week.

Miss Minnie Ashford, of Clinton, spent a few days in the city last week with Miss Mayme Oates.

Mr. J. G. Hollingsworth, manager of the Opera House in Fayetteville, was in the city Thursday.

Mrs. G. H. Parker and little daughter, Helen, left last week for Charlotte where they go to visit relatives.

Rev. J. J. Harper, of Smithfield, is visiting his brother, Dr. M. W. Harper, and sister, Mrs. N. B. Hood.

Mrs. J. T. Wiggins, Misses Elizabeth and Ella McCraw, of Wilson, who have been visiting relatives in the city left Monday for their home.

NOTICE.

This is to notify all persons that we the undersigned have posted all our lands in Harnett county according to law and that any trespasser on the same with gun or dog will be prosecuted.

Geo. Elliott, Jno. Williams, W. T. Dupree, for a bushel of the finest potatoes we have ever seen, sent us Monday. Some of the potatoes weighed five pounds each.

We can, we will, we do supply just what everybody wants for Christmas.

Hood & Grantham.

High Tribute to one of Harnett's Most Accomplished Daughters.

We notice in our Raleigh exchanges that Mrs. J. C. Clifford of Dunn has been appointed one of the lady commissioners from North Carolina to the Charleston Exposition that opens in that renowned city about December 1st.

Gov. Aycock could not have made a better selection than this and we congratulate Mrs. Clifford upon this high compliment.

The Charleston Exposition bids fair to be the equal of any of the great fairs that have been held in different cities of the United States within the last decade. Such exhibitions are intended to show the world what wondrous development has been made in all branches of art, manufacturing and science in our country within the last century.

Hurray for the Holidays. The best of everything for Christmas at Hood & Grantham.
