THE MARCH IS ON
With the coming of summer, comes the tourist who makes Brevard a happy, business-fied place, brings friends who enjoy the fine climate and the friendship of Transylvania county people.

High pressure salesmanship is used, and never-say-die methods are pursued until the prospect either is overwhelmed by the hoey that is spread on good and tick, or busy in order to get rid of the persistent salesman.

LEAVING WITH A GOOD TASTE
Courtesies shown to the American Red Cross Life Saving and First Aid Institute which was in operation for ten days at Camp Carolina was not only appreciated by those in charge, but the entire community is being given a good name by the more than one hundred people who attended, giving added proof to the assertion that a little kindness goes a long way.

AMEN, AMEN, BROTHER GRAVES
Setting forth the facts as they actually happened last week in Chapel Hill, Editor Louis Graves, without commenting himself in his Chapel Hill Weekly, forcibly brings home something that this newspaper has been hammering at for a long time—that the professional "sow producers" who go up and down the land, inveighing organizations and individuals into allowing them to "do all the work, share the expense, and make a lot of money for the local organization" is all the bunk, and most generally accompanied with boredom.

GIVE THE HORSE A CHANCE IN TOWN
Since the time has come again that Old Dobbin is a vital factor in the life of the county, suggestion is made to The Times that there ought to be water provided for refreshment of the teams that are driven into town every day.

Years ago, sensing the dire need of such a place, ladies of the Betterment Society took it upon themselves to build a watering trough in front of the court house on Main street, which for years was used extensively by teamsters. Then we all became "rich" and the auto and truck gradually displaced the horse drawn vehicles, until there were very, very few horses seen in town, and the watering trough was unneeded.

Things are now different, ladies who were active in having the trough built say, and there should be water provided for the horses that now come many weary miles. Seems like a pretty sensible suggestion, and we believe the county or town, whichever should have the matter in hand will see about giving the horses a drink.

IN MEMORIAM
Mrs. Mary L. Bracken Kilpatrick
On Tuesday evening May 30 at 7:30 o'clock the death angel visited the home of Robert Kilpatrick and called from their dear family circle the loving wife and mother.

Mrs. Kilpatrick was born January 29, 1869, being at the time of her death 64 years 4 months and 7 days old. She professed faith in Christ and was baptized at the age of 15 and has lived a life worth while. She was a devoted church member, friend and mother.

We have lost our darling friend, she has bid us all adieu. She has gone to live with Jesus, and her body's lost from view. Oh, that dear one how we loved her, Oh, how hard to give her up, But an angel came down for her, And removed her from our flock.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Crawford and children spent the week-end in Jackson county. Mrs. L. J. Kitchen and children and Pearl Price spent Saturday night with Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Golden.

PENROSE NEWS

In spite of lack of a field and some other seeming handicaps, Penrose baseball boys are in for the games and making a good start for the season. Toxaway couldn't make it last Saturday over Lankey Williams' twirling, and the result was a win for Penrose in the score of 9-5. This was an interesting game. Penrose and Toxaway are tied for the bottom and Pisgah and Brevard for the top. The game was at Pisgah Forest. The boys of these teams saw Brevard and Pisgah play also Saturday in a good fast game, resulting in Brevard's favor.

The members of the cast in the Deacon Dubbs play are rehearsing for the exhibit at Brevard Thursday night. Come to this play and pep up with laughter. Enon B. Y. P. U. elected officers Sunday night as follows: President, Billy Middleton; vice president, Jack Lyday; secretary, Valrey Carter; treasurer, Miss Belle Townsend; corresponding secretary, Miss Bees Ponder; group captains, Leon Lyday and Billy McGuire; choirster, Wilson Middleton; pianist, Miss Leslie McGuire; Bible reader leader, Ernest Brown.

BIRTHSTONES
For laundresses, the soapstone. For architects, the cornerstone. For taxi drivers, the milestone. For soldiers, the bloodstone. For Irishmen, the blarneystone. For borrowers, the touchstone. For stockbrokers, the curbstone. For pedestrians, the pavingstone. For burglars, the keystone. For tourists, the Yellowstone. For beauties, the peachstone. For editors, the grindstone. For realtors, the heartstone!

CARD OF THANKS
We take this method of expressing our sincere thanks and appreciation to our many friends for their kindness shown us at the death of our husband and father, Dr. W. E. Ramer. Mrs. W. E. Ramer and family.

GLANCING BACK AT BREVARD

Jim Aiken's new barber chair is certainly a thing of beauty, and may also prove to be a joy forever. Jim says he has a new outfit of razors, and is ready now to guarantee an easy shave.

The weather has been hot for this climate for more than a week—ranging from 88 degrees at night to 90 during the day—on Tuesday, June 29, reaching 93. This only lacked one degree of being as hot as we have ever seen it in Western North Carolina in more than 20 years.

May boarders who have heretofore passed their summers in the mountains write that $16 is harder to get this year than $20 was last, and they are negotiating for board at the former price. This shows the promised prosperity of the McKinley administration in its true light.

The smiling features of W. E. Breese, of Asheville, is to be seen on our streets this week.

Hon. J. S. Adams of Asheville honored the News with a pleasant call on Monday.

There is one of the corporation convicts in jail here who refuses to either pay the fine imposed by the mayor or to work it out on the streets. He has had a bread and water diet for three days, and will continue the same bill of fare for twelve days longer unless he manifests a disposition to work for something better.

The postoffice in Brevard changed hands on Tuesday and Dr. G. W. Young is the full fledged postmaster general of Brevard. His bond of $5,000 was made without difficulty, and has on it the names of men who always refuse to go on the bond of county and other officials, and Mr. Young is justly proud of his backers. So far as we are able to learn Mr. Young has the confidence of Brevard people, and takes charge of the postoffice with as little personal opposition as any man who ever held the place. Should he prove a faithful and efficient public servant, as we believe he will, the notoriety thus obtained will be a lasting recommendation for other positions of honor and profit.

A very enjoyable musical was given by Mrs. W. P. Whitmire on Friday evening last, in honor of Miss Emma Norwood, daughter of Judge Norwood, and the Misses Napier of Fayetteville, Ga. Delightful music charmingly rendered by Misses Daisy Milner, Eddie Napier, Myrtle Hunt and Hattie Orr on piano, and Messrs. Smith and Orr on violin, was enjoyed by all. A recitation by Miss Norwood was a feature of the event, and delicious ice cream and cake furnished a fitting final of the entertainment. Judge Norwood was an honored guest, and flattered the company with the remark that "He never saw as many pretty girls as we have in Brevard."

Meredith Alexander Cooper, the retiring Brevard postmaster, surrendered the office and keys to his successor Monday night, and sought the quiet and ease of private life. Henceforth the alarm clock will remain unbound and Mr. Cooper will quietly stay in bed until the shrill voice of his boarding house keeper warns him that breakfast awaits his order. He has made our people an efficient postmaster and in whatever station he may cast his lot he will have the best wishes of a host of warm friends.

The sale of the H & B railroad in Hendersonville on Monday establishes beyond cavil that it has gone out from the control of the contracting company which built it, and if confirmed, means a road run in the interest of Transylvania people. Every requirement of the order of sale was strictly adhered to, and there is no doubt that the sale will be confirmed at once. The road was bought in for the creditors by their trustees—W. A. Cash, Geo. A. Shuford and T. J. Rickman—the only opposing bid being by W. A. Smith. W. A. Shuford will remain receiver of the road until the sale is confirmed and may be reelected by the trustees at their first meeting. The present schedule of two trains daily will be continued until the confirmation of the sale.

If taxation is destined to bring prosperity Transylvania people ought to be both prosperous and happy. With two years' railroad tax to pay this fall; with $3.75 on each poll; with the new tariff to raise the price of everything the farmer buys; with a splendid opportunity to vote a school tax on ourselves, and imprisonment as a reward for failure to pay, we see no reason why this people should not be prosperous—with a big P.

By giving his hives attention at the proper time, C. A. Edmonson of Morganton, Burke County, has prevented his bees from swarming for the past five years. He harvests excellent crops of honey each season.

Three banks in Catawba County and an automobile firm have offered valuable cash prizes in forestry club projects started in the county by the farm agent.

OAKLAND NEWS

Some of our neighbors had quite a thrill they said one day last week in witnessing a race of the officers and a liquor car and rather a shock when they thought the cars wrecked by running together, but the cars did not run together, as they thought. The officers were so close the liquor car men reversed their car suddenly, backed off the road, jumped out and took to the woods, it is said. But the officers poured out the liquor, and we said amen! There were more than 40 gallon tins, and an eye witness to the good work said that the odor when the cans were emptied was so strong it almost made one dizzy. We hope the officers good works will continue.

W. H. GROGAN, Jr. District Manager

Camp No. 80 Hickory with Consul Commander Westmoreland, Banker T. S. Keever and Secretary B. A. Miller, Richey, Aiken and other members working have taken the lead with 20 applications. They initiated two candidates Friday night and secured six applications during the past week.

Sovereign B. A. Miller is now learning to walk the second time. You will recall his accident last fall when he suffered a broken leg.

Camp No. 82 Morganton held a special meeting last week. All attending members thought now the proper time to start a membership campaign. Another meeting will be held July 5th. Two new members secured for this camp.

Another special meeting has been called for Camp No. 226 over at Waynesville for Friday night the 30th. At this meeting we hope to get organized for some real work.

Business is now improving and the camps that get started now will be the greatest service to their sections of district.

The officers of every camp should call meetings at once and take steps to extend invitations to every prospective member to join up with the Woodmen of the World.

Our state manager, E. B. Lewis of Kingston, tells us that business conditions have greatly improved all over the state and that he is expecting all of us to take advantage of the opportunity to build up our membership.

Bulletin issued by state manager says, "Our new head consul, Charlie Hines, made a good start with his appearance at the Cape Fear log rolling and I am sure is going to make a record for attendance at Woodmen gatherings."

GLADE CREEK NEWS

The farmers have about gotten their harvesting done, and O. D. Reece has a fine crop of rye, so it has been said. The rye measures over six feet.

The folks are very busy now thinning and hoeing their corn.

Mr. and Mrs. Bob Allison and children Dorothy and Betty Jean of Turkey Creek were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. O. D. Reece.

Frank Morgan of Cherryfield was through this community on business Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. George Sharp of Cruso and Miss Tulan Spivey and Floyd Sharp called on Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Reece Thursday of last week.

This community was shocked to learn of the death of W. E. Ramer, county veterinarian, who has been in the State hospital at Morganton for the past few years. He had friends and relatives all over the county.

Misses Mamie and Flora Lyday of near Penrose called on Miss Maggie Deaver.

Mrs. Jake Parris visited Mrs. O. D. Reece Wednesday.
