NORTH CAROLINA AGAINST REPEAL 2-1

Transylvania County Goes For Prohibition Nine Hundred Votes

SIMS WINS IN ONLY 3 OF 17 PRECINCTS

Vote Is Very Light Compared With Last Election—No Disturbances

With better than a two to one majority, Transylvania county voters refused to sanction repeal of the 18th Amendment on Tuesday, the extremely light vote cast totaling 822 for Eck L. Sims, candidate for repeal, and 1722 for Mrs. Jean Adams Haynes, candidate against repeal.

While complete unofficial returns could not be had Wednesday afternoon on "convention" and "no convention," those precincts reporting gave the "for convention" count approximately the same count that Mr. Sims received as repeal candidate.

Only three precincts, Eastatoe, East Fork and Old Toxaway, gave the repeal candidate a lead over Mrs. Haynes, Eastatoe going 96 to 50, East Fork, 23 to 20, and Old Toxaway overwhelmingly for Sims with a count of 30 to 3.

Complete unofficial count reported to The Times office and to Ralph W. Lyday chairman of the board of elections follows:

TOTAL	822	1722

All precincts report a very quiet election, with no boisterous crowds in evidence. Voting was slow throughout the day, the total vote being around 1000 less than that cast at the last general election.

Very few people were in Brevard Tuesday night, no more than 25 or 30 being seen on the streets at one time. One fight was recorded, resulting from an election argument.

Red Cross Roll Call To Be Staged In Transylvania County All Next Week

Goal for Transylvania county in the annual Red Cross roll call which will be staged in all parts of the county next week, Nov. 13 to 20, is set at $200, according to Jerry Jerome, roll call chairman.

A meeting of workers for Brevard district will be held in Mr. Jerome's office Friday afternoon, at which time workers will receive their instructions and supplies.

All teachers of the county are being asked to help in the drive, badges and stickers being sent out this week by Chairman Jerome to each principal in the county. Colored school principals, at Brevard and Glade Creek, are also assisting in the work, goal of fifteen having been set for these two schools.

Transylvania county has not reached the hundred mark in several years in the annual roll call, but it is general opinion of officials of the local chapter that the two hundred memberships can be secured at this time, especially if canvassers take it upon themselves to point out the great amount of work that has been done in this community by the Red Cross during the past year.

DIPHTHERIA CLINICS ARE SET FOR FRIDAY

Lake Toxaway and Brevard Children To Be Given Treatment Nov. 10

Second diphtheria clinic will be held at Lake Toxaway school for indigent children of the upper end of the county on Friday afternoon of this week at two o'clock. Over fifty children were given first treatment there last Friday afternoon, the second treatment to be given this Friday afternoon immunizing these children.

Second treatments at Little River and Rosman schools will be given next week, with Thursday afternoon, Nov. 16 at two o'clock being set for the clinic at Little River and Friday afternoon, Nov. 17, at two o'clock being set for the Rosman school clinic. Thirty-four children were given their first treatment at Little River last Thursday afternoon, and 189 at Rosman the following day by Dr. C. L. Newland.

Dr. E. C. Cunningham will hold the initial clinic at Brevard Elementary school on Friday afternoon of this week at two o'clock, at which time children of the Brevard and surrounding community are expected to be vaccinated. Parents have been requested to fill out slips authorizing their children to be treated at the Brevard elementary school Friday afternoon. Second treatment at Brevard will be given two weeks later.

The work is being done under supervision of the underprivileged child committee of the Brevard Kiwanis club, together with the State Board of Health.

GASH GOING TO RALEIGH FOR COUNTY PENSIONERS

Matters of routine business were transacted at the board of county commissioner's meeting Monday afternoon, Nov. 16, at Little River; Friday afternoon, Nov. 17, Rosman.

R. L. Gash was instructed to go to Raleigh in interest of pensions for Transylvania county veterans and widows, Mr. Gash having accomplished much on a similar trip the past year.

Hundreds of children have been clothed and fed during the past year through efforts of the American Red Cross and food to the value of several thousand dollars have been distributed here through the American Red Cross channels.

Transylvania Chapter, Jos S. Silvestren states that on every occasion when appeal has been made to the national headquarters for clothing supplies and flour, prompt attention has been given, and in most instances requests have been granted.

Workers will canvass Rosman and Pisgah Forest plants, as well as the several plants at Brevard, believing that many people who are now gainfully employed, but who have been directly and indirectly assisted in the past year will gladly take membership in the Red Cross as evidence of their appreciation for the great work already done here and still going on.

BREVARD KIWANIS PRESIDENT

W. Pat Kimzey

KIMZEY AND JEROME ELECTED TO HIGH OFFICES IN LOCAL CIVIC ORGANIZATION

W. Pat Kimzey was elected president of the Brevard Kiwanis Club at the regular meeting held by the civic organization at the England Home on Wednesday, with Jerry Jerome selected as vice president.

Osborne Bradley, Dr. E. C. Cunningham, Lewis P. Hamlin, Rev. Paul Hartsell and P. L. Threlkeld were elected as board of directors, with other appointive offices to be filled upon the new officials taking charge.

Mr. Kimzey, has served the past year as vice president of the club, and has been acting president for the past two months, taking charge after the resignation of F. Brown Carr, Mr. Jerome being selected as vice president. The new president is regarded as an outstanding attorney in this section of the state, has been very active in civic and community affairs for years, and at present is working for the State Banking Commission.

Mr. Jerome, one of the charter members of the club, has served as member of the board of directors, secretary and committee chairman for several years. He, too, has taken an active part in community affairs, having served as director and president of the Brevard Chamber of Commerce. At present he is secretary of the Brevard Building & Loan association and for the Citizen Telephone company.

Osborne Bradley, a newcomer to Brevard, is owner and manager of Bradley's store, and has made a wide circle of friends since coming here last winter. Dr. Cunningham came here last summer from Georgia and formed a partnership with Dr. C. L. Newland in establishing Lyndon Memorial hospital, which has since been taken over by the Duke Foundation and is being operated as a community project. Dr. Cunningham enjoys a wide practice in the entire county. Lewis Hamlin, native Transylvanian, is an outstanding member of the Brevard bar, has taught school in the county, served as register of deeds, member of the state legislature, at which time he was minority leader of the house, and the past year served as state councillor of the Junior Order.

The Rev. Paul Hartsell, since coming here five years ago as pastor of the Brevard Baptist church, has taken an active interest in things pertaining to the upbuilding of the county, and has been especially active in welfare and Red Cross work. He is moderator of the Transylvania Baptist association and enjoys a wide circle of friends in all churches of the county. Mr. Threlkeld has been in Brevard approximately one year, but during that time has ably proven to the community that he is deeply interested in the public welfare, and has taken a very active part in securing a construction program on the roads of the county. He is district engineer for the State Highway department with headquarters here, having charge of highways in Transylvania, Henderson, Polk, and part of Macon and Jackson counties.

Other matters taken up at the club meeting Wednesday was the Red Cross Roll Call, giving full endorsement of the movement, and making plans for attending the TVA meeting in Hendersonville Thursday night. The club will meet again next Wednesday, at which time Frank C. Keene of Kiwanis International will be guest of the club. A turkey dinner is promised by Mrs. Harris, adding further interest to the meeting.

PEOPLE WANT REV. ALEXANDER TO STAY

Fine Minister and Citizen Is Called To Lumberton—Is Needed Here

The entire community joins with members of the Brevard and Davidson River Presbyterian churches in endeavoring to keep the Rev. R. L. Alexander, for the past several years pastor, from accepting a call to a church in Lumberton, N. C.

The Rev. Mr. Alexander announced to his congregation last Sunday that he would offer his resignation to a congregational meeting called for Sunday morning, Nov. 12, immediately following the morning service.

Past president of the Brevard Kiwanis club, chairman of the Emergency Relief Council for Transylvania county, worker in all phases of the Red Cross and Welfare agencies, Mr. Alexander has made a record of service here during his stay that would be hard to duplicate, and the community in general feels keenly the loss this community will suffer when and if Mr. Alexander does go.

PICKENS HIGHWAY IS NOW READY FOR USE

Gives Fine Connections For Upper End of County With Points South

Pickens Highway, Rosman to the South Carolina line, was opened to the public Saturday, and gives people of this county, and especially residents of the upper end of the county, excellent routing to Greenville, Atlanta and points south.

The road is similar to the Caesar's Head highway, one more coating being necessary to bring it to that standard. It was not known Wednesday whether the last binding coat would be placed on at this time or early next spring.

The South Carolina side has been completed several months and joins the Rosman section with a paved surface that leads to Pickens. People from Brevard who were over the road during the week-end are enthusiastic as to beautiful scenery on this route, and the good grades and curves banked. Construction work was done by the

BUY A FLOWER FOR BENEFIT VETERANS

Mayor Wike Proclaims Saturday as Forget-Me-Not Day in Brevard

Armistice Day, Saturday, Nov. 11, will be featured in Brevard by the sale of forget-me-nots for benefit of disabled veterans, this phase of the day being under supervision of the Parent-Teacher association.

Girls from Brevard schools will be on the streets throughout the day selling the little blue flowers.

The following proclamation has been issued by Mayor J. C. Wike in regard to observance of the day:

"On Saturday, November 11, the little blue flowers of remembrance, forget-me-nots, will be offered for sale in this city, as well as in all other cities of this nation, on behalf of the Disabled American Veterans of the World War. Forget-Me-Not will, on that day, decorate those who have not yet forgotten their wartime promises; and the funds derived therefrom will be used to alleviate the condition of those unfortunate disabled ex-service men who are either under-compensated or who have not yet been enabled to prove themselves entitled to any Federal benefits.

"The expert service to disabled ex-service men, which has been made possible by the funds collected on Forget-Me-Not Drives, has in the past proven almost incalculable value to thousands of the less fortunate comrades of the members of this organization, with consequently greater and indirect benefit and increased income to the communities in which such men reside.

"The Forget-Me-Not Day Drive of the Disabled American Veterans of the World War helps to serve a most worthy cause, and it is to be hoped that the people of this community will generously respond by the purchase of forget-me-nots to help to serve those who so faithfully served us fifteen years ago."

SOUTH CAROLINA TO BE IN DRY COLUMN

Pennsylvania, Ohio and Utah Go Wet—Repeal First in Next Congress

Raleigh, Nov. 8.—North Carolina voters decisively rejected the proposal for repeal of the 18th amendment Tuesday, and thereby recorded the state as the first in the union definitely to break the anti-prohibition wave. A majority of better than two to one was given the dry Wednesday afternoon, the election having been concluded early Tuesday night by repealers.

Washington, Nov. 8.—Necessary 36 states entered the repeal column on Tuesday, when Ohio, Pennsylvania and Utah, joined the galaxy of 33 states already passed upon the question at previous elections and declared in favor of repeal of the 18th amendment, national bone dry law in vogue since war days.

It now remains for the federal government to take action as to when the national prohibition law will become ineffective. It is presumed that this will be one of the first measures, and a mandatory one, to be taken up by congress which convenes in January, unless a special session is called earlier.

South Carolina joined her sister state of North Carolina in remaining in the dry column reports late Wednesday afternoon giving the Palmetto state dry a lead of about two thousand votes, with a dry victory conceded.

Ballots in Kentucky were being counted late Wednesday, and figures were not available before Thursday, repealers confident of a victory.

The North Carolina lead for anti-repealers had reached the proportions of two and one-half to one, with practically all counties head from unofficially Wednesday afternoon.

The prohibition sentiment manifested itself in every section of North Carolina. Repeal speakers had predicted the eastern counties would vote heavily against federal prohibition, but the returns proved them poor prophets. In the western counties the majorities against repeal were overwhelming, Bob Reynolds' (Continued on back page)

Tennessee Valley Meeting To Be Held At Henderson Court House Thursday

Interested people in Transylvania county are planning to attend a mass meeting of citizens of Transylvania, Henderson and Buncombe counties to be held in the Hendersonville court house tonight (Thursday) at 7:30 o'clock, at which time proposed plans for development of the French Broad Valley under the Tennessee Valley Authority will be taken up. The following article from The Hendersonville Times-News of Monday afternoon explains the matter:

Noah Hollowell, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, said this morning that the tri-county meeting arranged for discussion of the proposed plans for development of the French Broad valley under the Tennessee Valley Authority, will be held at 7:30 o'clock Thursday night of this week at the courthouse.

Invitations are going forward to the Asheville Chamber of Commerce officials and to the Brevard organizations to be represented in this conference. It was also understood that Mayor A. V. Edwards is inviting the mayors and commissioners of Asheville and Brevard, and that kindred civic organizations in Asheville and Brevard will be invited to have representatives of their bodies there.

by members of the local civic groups including the Rotary and Kiwanis clubs. The county commissioners, Buncombe and Transylvania counties were also expected to be among the conferees.

Congressman Zebulon Weaver is quoted as saying that he would be delighted to be at the meeting, that his attitude would be to carry out the will of the people, and that as his servant he would be pleased to have those interested present in order that he might interpret their desires and divert the powers of his office to bring this development to an actual realization if such is desired.

E. D. Burchard, chief engineer of the Geological Survey for the district of the Tennessee Valley drainage area above Knoxville and for the rivers of the State of North Carolina, has arranged to be at the meeting with part of his staff, it was said.

Walter B. Smith, who is employed by the government in engineering work was in Hendersonville Saturday to assist in making the arrangements for this meeting. Mr. Smith has been working on this proposition (Continued on Back Page)
