

DIPHTHERIA CLINICS THURSDAY-FRIDAY

At Little River Thursday—Rosman Friday—Brevard Following Week

Nearly three hundred children were given first diphtheria treatment at Brevard elementary school last Friday afternoon, this clinic being one of the four held at various points in the county under supervision of the underprivileged child committee of Brevard Kiwanis club.

Second and final treatments were given children at the Lake Toxaway school last Friday afternoon, several who took the first treatment one week previous failing to attend the clinic.

On Thursday afternoon of this week at two o'clock, final treatment will be given children of the Little River and surrounding sections, 34 having taken the first treatment there on Nov. 2.

Final treatment will be given children of the Rosman school district on Friday afternoon of this week, Nov. 17, at two o'clock, 189 taking the first treatment there on Nov. 3.

Final treatment will be given children at the Brevard elementary school on Friday afternoon, November 17, this clinic completing the work for this year.

Nearly one thousand children of the county were given treatments under supervision of the Kiwanis club and interested groups last year, the medicine for the treatments at that time being furnished locally at a cost of approximately $150. The State Board of Health, in consideration of the work already done by the Kiwanis club is donating the medicine this year. Dr. C. L. Newland and Dr. E. C. Cunningham are giving the treatments.

Underprivileged child work has been chief objective of the local civic organization for the past three years, much work having been done during this time that has merited approval of the state departments.

THIEVES GET FINE BUNCH OF CHICKENS

Earl Frady of the lower end of the county is mad, and has plenty of right to be, even more so than Joseph of Biblical fame, who, according to a young Sunday School boy "was sold too cheap by his brothers."

Mr. Frady, being a great fancier of Rhode Island Red chickens, invested better than twenty dollars in a flock of young biddies of pure strain, giving his chicks the best of care, watching their diet, range and other prerequisites to a healthy flock of fine chickens until they were practically ready to start reimbursing him with golden brown eggs.

A couple of weeks ago Mr. Frady rose early, and as was his custom, went to give his first attention to the fine pen of fourteen Reds. Fresh water and feed were carried out with pride by the young farmer to an empty pen. His chickens had been removed during the night.

Loss of fourteen fryers of ordinary sort is sufficient to cause most any person grief, but to lose a pen that has set one back $1.50 each, in times like these, is a catastrophe indeed, and he lost no time in laying his sad story before Sheriff Wood.

After several days of careful investigation, Sheriff Wood arrested one young fellow of the Blantyre section last week who readily admitted his guilt and implicated a friend who was nabbed Sunday night.

Some degree of satisfaction was gained by Mr. Frady in the arrest of those said to be responsible for his loss, but failed to take away his ire for anybody who would sell chicks that cost $1.50 each at ten cents per pound, just like ordinary run of the woods chickens.

Much Interest Shown In Proposal To Build Storage Dam On French Broad

Representative citizens of Transylvania, Henderson and Buncombe counties met at the Hendersonville court house Thursday night, heard the Tennessee Valley proposition discussed in an intelligent manner by E. D. Burchard, of Asheville, and approved appointment of a committee of fifteen to dig into the matter and report their findings to a meeting to be held in the near future.

Discussions pro and con were heard after Mr. Burchard, in charge of the U. S. Geological Survey for this district had outlined plans for the project of building the dam on the French Broad in Buncombe county, as he understands them.

Mr. Burchard expressed the idea that the recent visit of Dr. Morgan, head of the TVA, to Asheville had significance for this section—he believing that Dr. Morgan was putting out a gentle hint to people of this section that there was a general development of some sort in this section being contemplated by the TVA.

Completion of the Muscic Shoals plant along lines that are called for under TVA plans, Mr. Burchard said, would be futile unless there was a guaranteed supply of water

FOUR MILLION MEN TO BE PUT TO WORK SOON

No official word had been received in Brevard at noon Wednesday by Chairman W. L. Aiken of the county board of commissioners in regard to the project which was announced through the daily newspapers on Tuesday, in which President Roosevelt expects to put 4,000,000 unemployed men back to work within one month.

Under the proposed plan, each county will submit at least six road projects, these to be passed upon by the State Highway department heads and relief heads at Raleigh.

No estimate of the number of men to be put to work in this county was available Wednesday. Of the amount to be paid by the government for road work, 65 per cent will be from the relief fund and 35 per cent will be from the federal aid fund.

COUNTY MINISTERS AT METH. MEETING

Rev. West and Rev. Hall Are Attending Conference in Charlotte

Methodist pastors of Transylvania county, the Rev. J. H. West pastor of Brevard Methodist church, and the Rev. J. N. Hall, pastor of the Rosman circuit, left early this week for Charlotte to attend the Western North Carolina conference convening there this week.

Both ministers are popular in their work, the Rev. Mr. West having served as pastor of the Brevard church for four years.

During the ministry of Mr. West, he has taken an active part in community affairs and was very active in securing location of the Brevard Junior College here. Mr. Hall has likewise made numerous friends throughout the county during his stay, and especially in the upper end of the county where his work has been for the most part.

Chicago—The Century of Progress curtain dropped here at midnight to be re-opened next June, authorities state.

HIGHWAY SURVEY IS PLANNED FOR PISGAH

(Waynesville Mountaineer)

Survey on highway number 284 between here and Brevard is expected to get under way just as soon as engineers are available, said Frank Miller, member of the highway commission, just before leaving for Raleigh to attend the meeting of the board at which time contracts are to be let for about 18 projects throughout the state which will cost approximately $953,000.

Work has been completed on the survey of the highway 284 from Dellwood to the Tennessee line and work started on the Crabtree and Fines Creek stretch.

The survey of 284 from here to Brevard was ordered at the last meeting of the board. Because of the number of projects in the cities the engineers of the departments have been working on these projects but it is expected that the survey will get under way at an early date.

A total of $81,000 has been appropriated by the National Forest service for improvement on the road. Of this amount some will be used in widening the motor road to the inn and the remainder will be used on the main road.

There is a possibility that the project for the extension of highway 293 from Soco Gap to Cherokee will be in the contracts let at Wednesday's meeting.

Much Interest Shown In Proposal To Build Storage Dam On French Broad

flow, which at present did not exist. Storage dams would be required, the engineer said, to insure a steady flow to the plant which he termed as a "run of the river project," that is, very little reservoir supply being on hand at the great plant.

The French Broad river, Burchard said, offers one of, if not the greatest, place for a reservoir of any tributary streams to the Tennessee river and for this reason, there is a very great possibility that the Bent Creek dam will be constructed.

U. S. Army surveys propose a dam of 125 feet at Bent Creek with a 65-foot draw down. This, he said, has naturally many objections. It would flood a large area (about 40,000 acres), the drawoff would many times leave the flats exposed, and much work would be necessary to replace railway lines, highways, and buy land. It would also be in the territory of power companies, and he expressed the view that TVA did not wish to take power users away from the companies, but to create new power users.

In the opinion of Mr. Burchard,

DUST CLOUD IS SEEN HERE LAST MONDAY

What is supposed to have been a dust cloud caused much comment in Brevard Monday afternoon, with the sky becoming gradually overcast until it seemed that a heavy snow storm was just in the offing but never arriving.

As the afternoon passed to nightfall, the dust became more noticeable the minute particles seeping through seemingly tight rooms and onto furniture enough to be perceptible.

First thought to be a forest fire smoke, people kept waiting for tell-tale odor, and then presumed that it was a fog. However, there was no dampness felt with the enveloping clouds, causing the general belief to be that it was a dust cloud that had swept eastward across the high mountain ridges west of Brevard. Later, increasing velocity of winds bore out this belief.

Several citizens report scattered flakes of snow during the day, the first to be reported here this season.

HEAVEN BOUND WILL BE GIVEN ON FRIDAY

"Heaven Bound," said to be one of the outstanding negro plays to be given by North Carolina talent in a number of years, will be staged at Brevard High school Friday of this week at eight o'clock, by a troupe of 30 negroes from Sylva. The program will be negro spirituals all in songs.

The pageant, which is being sponsored here by The Guild of St. Philips Episcopal church, has been presented in several Western North Carolina towns, and has been accorded a great play in every respect. Patterned to a great extent after "Green Pastures," which has won national acclaim, the pageant by the Sylva troupe is said by many to be better in many respects than the widely advertised "Green Pastures."

Some of the best negro talent in the state has been assembled, making a troupe that has a number of exceptionally fine voices, and actors that do credit to metropolitan centers, according to press reports received here.

Ladies of St. Philips Guild have investigated the play and announce that they feel it will be worthwhile in every respect, aside from being highly entertaining. Colored people will be admitted to the balcony.

ROLL CALL IS GOING FINE IN COMMUNITY

With workers in each community in the county the annual Red Cross Roll Call bids fair to reach the two hundred mark, judging from reports turned in by canvassers for the first two days of this week to Jerry Jerome, roll call chairman.

Teachers in the schools of the county are assisting in taking the campaign into each school community, while workers in Brevard, Pisgah Forest and Rosman are expected to have their drives completed by the last of the week.

Goal has been set by the national organization for Transylvania at two hundred memberships, and it is readily believed that people in general will respond to the call, especially so when they remember the great amount of work that has been done in the county during the past year by the Red Cross, and which is continuing this winter.

Hundreds of families in the county were dependent to a great extent on the food supplied them last winter, this being true in many sections of the United States, over six million families being given flour last winter when other food was unavailable, with nearly the same number receiving clothing.

Half the enrollment fees of one dollar are kept in the chapter treasury to be used as the chapter deems fit, the money derived from memberships last year, being used to defray operations of delicate nature for children of parents who were unable to pay.
