

CAR ACCIDENT ENDS LIFE OF C. MOSELY

Jury Exonerates Driver Of Blame—Is Buried Near Pickens Tuesday

ROSMAN, Feb. 7—Clyde Mosely, 22, died at Lyday Memorial hospital in Brevard Monday morning at five o'clock, death resulting from injuries received in an automobile accident on Sunday afternoon. Elzie Ellenburg, of Creet, S. C., was absolved of blame in connection with the young man's death Monday afternoon, the jury returning a verdict that the deceased came to his death in an unavoidable automobile accident.

According to evidence given at the inquest Monday, by Miss Alma McCall, Miss Ethel McCall of Cashiers and Lescoe Mosely, of South Carolina, brother of the dead man, four people, Ellenburg, Lescoe Mosely and the two McCall girls left Rosman about one o'clock Sunday afternoon enroute to Cashiers Valley riding in a Ford coupe. Just on the edge of the Rosman town limits, the party was hailed by Clyde Mosely and Sylvannus McCall who asked for a ride. With four people inside the small coupe, Mosely and McCall were allowed to ride on the running boards of the car.

While going up the grade on No. 28, just above the home of Henry Chapman, Ellenburg is said to have partly turned around in the closely crowded coupe to reach for his cap lying behind him and the car left the pavement, running for about twenty yards along the shoulders of the road. In attempting to pull the car too quickly back onto the pavement the car turned over on its side and crushed Mosely. McCall, riding on the opposite side of the car was thrown clear. One of the girls was slightly injured, other occupants escaping with minor bruises.

After turning the car off the young man, he was brought to Brevard by Policeman Bill Stroup of Rosman and given medical attention, but died during the night.

The coroner's jury and Sheriff Tom Wood investigated the accident, and found according to several witnesses, that there was no whiskey in the party, and that to all intents the affair was an accident. Grady C. Kilpatrick, coroner, had the following men as jurors: S. G. Fisher, James Holden, R. F. Whitmore, Frank Bagwell, W. M. Henry, Emmett Reese.

The body was carried from Brevard to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Nicholson here, and taken to South Carolina Tuesday for burial. Young Mosely had been employed by Winchester's garage for a number of years.

Survivors are the mother, Mrs. Mary Mosely, Creet, S. C., four brothers, Lescoe, Nathan and Charles Mosely of Creet, and Elmer Mosely of Gloucester. One sister, Mrs. Fred Nicholson of Rosman, also survives.

Final Notices Sent To Two Hundred Subscribers

Two hundred subscribers to The Transylvania Times have been sent "final notices" in regard to payment of their subscription. Unless renewals are received during this month this group of subscribers will be taken from the lists on March 1.

All subscribers whose time expires up to one month hence have been notified, these notices having been sent out over the week-end, with several already sending in their renewals.

While the matter of one subscriber being in arrears does not make a great deal of difference in conducting the business of a newspaper, yet when several hundred lag behind it works tremendous hardship on the newspaper. Those who have received notices during the week will confer a needed favor by renewing at once.

MISS VIC GALLOWAY IS CALLED IN DEATH

Well Known Lady Passes At Home In South Carolina On Tuesday

Funeral services for Miss Victoria Galloway, 79, will be held at Mt. Moriah Calvert Baptist church on Thursday afternoon at one o'clock. Interment will be made in the cemetery nearby.

Miss Galloway, a lifelong resident of Brevard and Transylvania county, died at the home of her nephew, Edwin Howell, near Greenville, S. C. on Tuesday afternoon, death being due to pneumonia.

Miss "Vic", as she was affectionately known to hundreds of people of this county, was a daughter of the late Wash Galloway, prominent farmer and stock raiser of the Calvert section, and resided on the farm now known as the "Orphanage Farm" until a few years ago, when she has made her home in Brevard and Taylors, S. C.

It was through the generosity of Miss "Vic", her sister Miss Mary and brother, Joe, all now deceased, that the 200 acre farm was given to the Baptist Orphanage at Thomasville, the farm being held in trust for Miss Galloway until her death.

Mr. Morgan graduated from Rosman high school with the class of 1927, and later entered Anthony Wayne Institute at Fort Wayne, Indiana, where he completed a business course and was graduated from that institution with honors in 1931. He is a member of the Mt. Moriah Calvert Baptist church, and is superintendent of the Sunday school of that place, and is recognized as one of the rising young farmers and business men of the county.

Most assuredly the town is growing better, take it from the status of drunks over the week-end in Brevard.

Nary a man was sufficiently drunk to be placed in the lock-up over the week-end for too much "mountain dew", the first time in several months, if memory serves the sheriff and policemen aright. There were a number all "lit up" in town Saturday night, but none was to be seen top-heavy.

Uncle Joe Orr, old-time singing master of note, has found appropriate music to the poem carried in The Times two weeks ago—"Tired of Mother." Mr. Orr says that correct music for the poem can be found on page 258 of the "Christian Harmony" song book, the song listed on that page being "Thorny Desert."

Plans have been forwarded to the Raleigh office by the local CWA for a community house to be constructed in the swimming pool park in Brevard.

Sponsored by the American Legion and other groups of the town, endeavor is being made to secure federal aid in building a recreation center and athletic building that will take care not only of group meetings but will serve as a meeting place for young folk, and will be a decided addition to the park, plans calling for the structure to be built of native stone.

PARK ROADWAY HAS N. C. PROBABILITIES

Would Bring Scenic Route To Within Twelve Miles Of Brevard

BALTIMORE, Feb. 7—An impressive assortment of information on North Carolina's claims for an important place on the main section of the scenic parkway was laid before George L. Ratchliffe, regional advisor of PWA and his associates, commissioned on Tuesday to locate and plan the great federal highway connecting the Great Smoky mountains national park and the Shenandoah national park.

"I never recall a presentation made in a more graphic or interesting manner," said Gilmore D. Clark, consulting landscape architect whom the government has employed in connection with the proposed parkway, after the North Carolinians had presented their arguments.

Although not committing himself, Ratchliffe said frankly that he was "impressed." Later he said that he had gone to the secretary of the interior, Harold W. Ickes, with the statement that North Carolina had not received its fair share of public works expenditures.

The route proposed by the North Carolina group would bring the scenic road by way of Mt. Mitchell, near Asheville through Pisgah National Forest twelve miles from Brevard, and on through the Soco Gap. Observers at the meeting in Baltimore on Tuesday expressed belief that this route would be adopted by the PWA commission.

Next Fighting Champion May Come From Brevard

Happenings in Brevard over the week-end give rise to the hope that Transylvania county may furnish the next champion fighter of the world, and especially is this true if the next champion should happen to be of the so-called "weaker" sex. Basis for this belief is.....

One of the prettiest (from an action standpoint) fights seen here in many a day happened in the court house Saturday afternoon when two women proceeded to mix it up for fair for several minutes, using the old style hair pulling method. The fight started in the ladies rest room, according to Rainey Hale, who heard the commotion inside and opened the door so as to give the participants more room in the hall. Sheriff Wood disappointed the hastily gathered crowd of fans by locking the two fighters in jail to cool their ardor for action.

FEDERAL CASES ALL TO BE DROPPED NOW

Transylvania Liquor Cases In Asheville Federal Court Be Not Prossed

WASHINGTON, Feb. 6—An army of more than 14,000 alleged bootleggers was freed from the threat of prosecution under the Jones and Volstead acts yesterday when the supreme court swept from all federal court dockets every prohibition case pending since the repeal of the 18th amendment.

In an appeal by the government from North Carolina federal court decision, the supreme court ruled that with repeal, the 18th amendment died and that "neither the congress nor the courts could give it continued vitality."

The decision not only wiped the federal court slates clean of every dry law charge but extended freedom to several hundred violators who were convicted in the district federal courts and had appeals pending on December 5.

Need Felt For Chamber of Commerce To Serve Brevard and This Community

Public affairs pertaining to Brevard and the county were ably discussed by Lewis P. Hamlin at the meeting of Brevard Kiwanis club Wednesday, Mr. Hamlin touching upon relations of the members and individuals to the community, and pointing to certain phases of community life that should be gone into.

Special emphasis was laid on the fact that Brevard now stands in need of a Chamber of Commerce in order to keep the standing of this section on a parity with other towns, whether the organization be operated on an elaborate basis or on a small scale.

One particular instance of trade that is being diverted from Brevard to another state was pointed out as a matter of public affairs, and manner of handling such situations discussed again the idea being forwarded that the town is in need of a Chamber of Commerce rather than that such things should be handled by the Kiwanis club, which organization, while not refusing to get into these things, could, it was pointed out, get better results if they were handled by a chamber of commerce or strictly business organization. A committee was appointed by President Pat Kinzey to go into the matters that were brought out by Mr. Hamlin.
