CHAMBER OF COMMERCE
NEEDED IN BREVARD

With reports coming from all sections of increased business, and especially from Florida of the influx of tourists in the Sunshine State, there is a more evident need for Chamber of Commerce organization here, and there is to be one it should be organized now—not next July.

Full credit should be given to the Women's Civic Club for the splendid work that was done by the ladies last year, but business houses, hotels and boarding houses should not stand back and expect the ladies to carry the load that must be shouldered this season. There must be some advertising literature, and there must be some manner of distribution of this literature, and there must be other concerted efforts to make people Transylvanians minded if we are to have the kind of a summer season this year that we want and need.

We can count on the ladies doing their part—what about the men?

AN APPRECIATED DOLLAR BILL

While The Times is always glad to have one of its many subscribers come in and renew thus showing that the type of paper we are publishing is appreciated, and is of enough interest to be read and paid for, a renewal that we are especially proud of was from Oscar E. Reese of route two. Oscar, while not being able to hear or talk, enjoys reading very much and takes the home paper as one of his first choices.

A WORTHWHILE BOYS' ORGANIZATION

Any parent in Brevard who doesn't know just what the Boy Scout movement stands for and really accomplishes...

I requested to attend a meeting of the Brevard troop at the Presbyterian Hut any Monday night at 7:30 o'clock and see what type of youngsters attend the meetings, what they do and what their aims are.

One of the greatest organizations ever formed is the Boy Scouts.

Times are getting better every day—not newspaper mythology—but plain facts. A Brevard business man told this newspaper Monday that his Saturday business was $25 better than the same date one year ago and that the past two months was better by one-third. You can't get around actual figures.

Lady over in South Carolina found a gold ring in a head of cabbage, which is a sign that more people in Transylvania county should raise more cabbage (and other garden stuff). A program of grow more and buy less would stop the awful howl about paying taxes.

National Defense Week, now being observed will no doubt be causing for pacifists to assert that "there is no room for wars, all nations should disarm." Fine, if ALL nations would disarm, but until the good old U. S. is certain that ALL nations are disarming, we favor the Boy Scout motto: Be Prepared.

Wonders will never cease—a jury in Buncombe county returned a verdict in favor of a corporation in the death of a man due to being run over by a train—"his own negligence" said the jury's verdict.

Asheville, long a political boiling pot, now is in the throes of a "civil" war (among themselves, of course) in regard to just how business of the municipality shall be conducted, whether in closed sessions or in open hearings. One would think, on the spur of the moment that Asheville has suffered plenty from too many closed sessions, and that the powers that be would be glad to have the public look-see once in a while as to how affairs are conducted and how matters of import to the people of this section's biggest center were handled by the body-elect. One could take a red pencil and a blue map and draw plenty of rings around costly adventures that people in Asheville will be paying interest on many moons hence—these things growing out of closed hearings by the town and county boards.

No, No, dear madam, we did not mean any particular person or persons last week when we mentioned the fact (not theorization) that some funny things were happening in Brevard among some of the younger girls. Incidentally, there has been a noticeable decrease in the aforementioned situation. "A word to the wise is sufficient."

If there are any people who wonder what pleasure there is in publishing a newspaper in Transylvania county, turn back to page one and read the long list of subscribers who have renewed their subscription to this paper since Wednesday night of last week—seven days. We hate to crow and tout our own horn so loudly but point us out a weekly paper published in any county in North Carolina the size of Transylvania that has secured the same number of renewals without a big "campaign" and we'll shut up from this time forth forever more. You bet we're proud of our readers and proud of the fact that they like our paper well enough to pay the hard old cash for it.

WHEN THE EDITOR TOLD THE TRUTH

Here's an old newspaper classic however, garbed a little differently than the old stand-by of yesteryear: Sam Smith is dead. Some days ago he was stricken with poisoning from a wound in the neck while fighting with his wife when he was drunk. Doctors Grindle, of Eureka, and Butts of Anyoldville were in attendance, but despite their utmost efforts the poison spread until as a last resort they used the knife. The operation was of no avail, however, and now he ain't here any more.

Sam was a unique character. Only once in a generation is a community pestered with such a human viper, such a moral X; he was the unsolved conundrum, "What is he good for?" His only virtue was the stability of his unrepentance. Booze-fighter, liar, wife-beater, chicken thief, egg stealer, dope fiend profane and vile of speech to the point of nausea, he was the trademark of sin the sentiment emblem of vice, with no crime—but work beyond his capacity. He was seen even worse, but he has gone hence, and it is never our inclination to kick a man when he is down.

Yet at his death his proverbial luck was with him. He goes below just as the whitening frosts and chilling winds are ushering in a long and tedious season for the good who are left. And as often the case when in life and in jail, he will keep warm and comfortable at other's expense. Well, so long, Sam, and so long as it is long, good luck.

W. O. W. NEWS

W. H. GROGAN, Jr.
District Manager

Sylva gets the Log Rolling Convention. We received a very warm invitation from Camp No. 560, Sylva, N. C., to hold our April District Convention there, and after due consideration we came to the unanimous conclusion that we all wanted to go to Sylva and spend one night with Hugh Montieth, the little but loud ATTY. that hails from Jackson County.

The Convention dates are April 25th and 26th. Dr. McGuire the Consul Commander and all the officers and members will see that all delegates and visitors attending this meeting are provided for as only Jackson folks can do.

There are a few Camps yet that have not started on this year's program. We want every Camp to get started this month. The only thing required to start is to get an application for membership in your camp. There must be some home in your section that needs the Woodmen of the World Protection. Find that home and write to me and we will find out the reason why that home is not protected with Woodmen of the World Life Insurance.

The camps that have had social meetings this year have been getting applications and holding regular meetings. If your camp seems to be dragging, try an oyster supper or chicken stew or an opossum hunt or just any old thing that will attract and entertain folks. Something new or different gets the crowds these days.

Chas. A. Hines, Head Consul of North Carolina will be with me for two or three days before Sylva convention; if you want him to visit your camp at this time and deliver an address; you can write me at once in order that proper dates can be arranged. Sovereign Hines is a good talker and likes nothing better than an opportunity to talk Woodcraft. Sovereign Hines and Judge Barrington T. Hill will be with us at Sylva and both will be heard from there.

A kind face is never homely. Failures reveal the secrets of always sin back of sickness, a viola-GREEN.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to express our sincere gratitude to our many friends in Rosman and the county for their kindness rendered during the illness and death of our dear brother, Clyde. We also thank those who sent the beautiful flowers. Mr. and Mrs. Fred Nicholson.

GLANCING BACK AT BREVARD

Taken from the files of The Sylvan Valley News, beginning in 1896, through the courtesy of Mrs. W. B. F. Wright.

(From the file of Jan. 12, 1896)

We omitted through an oversight to mention last week a very important occurrence of the holiday season. We refer to the twin babies, male and female, which found their way into the home of Rev. and Mrs. J. L. Wicker. How such an important bit of news could have escaped our columns is a mystery.

R. R. Deaver has assumed full control of the Bell & Blythe stock and store, Mr. Patton having retired from the firm. New goods have been bought to replace those sold, a full line of groceries will be put in, and business will be continued at the old stand as a permanent institution of our town.

We are informed that Miss Lottie Glazener, of Atlanta, was married at her home there during the holidays. Miss Glazener has many relatives in this county who will be pleased to learn of her happiness.

J. E. Clayton is feeding a car load of cattle for the spring market, and as an experiment is using cotton seed meal and hulls as a portion of their daily ration. He is so favorably impressed with results thus far that he reports it a cheaper and more satisfactory feed than corn at 35 cents per bushel.

Since the division of the Southern Drug company's stock it looks quite natural to see the familiar features of E. W. Elythe again behind the prescription case. Pharmacy seems to be somewhat like the newspaper business, once a man has thoroughly learned either it is hard to wean from it. Mr. Elythe has proven himself thoroughly reliable by a long acquaintance with our people, and we congratulate the Southern Drug company on having secured his services as pharmacist.

Shall Brevard vaccinate—was decided at a meeting of the town council last night after we went to press. It might be the part of wisdom to provide against the spread of smallpox scourge.

Wallace Galloway, son of Squire Willis Galloway of Gloucester, and Miss Lemance were married at the home of the bride on Wednesday of this week. The ceremony was pronounced by Rev. E. Allison.

At a meeting of the Board of Aldermen held at the residence...

At Wednesday night... of A. E. Boardman made a reorganization of the Board necessary. In addition to a plain alderman, Mr. Boardman was a member of the finance committee and secretary and treasurer. Jas. Hadden was chosen to fill his place on the Board. W. L. Carmichael tendered his resignation as chairman and was elected secretary and treasurer, while M. D. Cooper was elected chairman. The new member was given a place on the finance committee. The Board now stands: M. D. Cooper, chairman; W. L. Carmichael, Sec.-treas.; W. P. Whitmire and Jas Hadden, Fin. comm.

Col. W. L. Hume left Brevard early this week as a delegate to the Grand Lodge of Masons which meets this week at Oxford. The position delegate is an honorable one, and Dunn's Rock Lodge could not have made a wiser selection.

Why go and give 15 cents per pound for green coffee when you can buy the very best grade at the Racket store for 10 cents?

In looking over what has been accomplished in the building up of Brevard since our railroad became a certainty, our people deserve credit for the progress made. Very little outside capital has yet been attracted here for investment and what is done has been by the efforts of our own people. W. H. Allison's immense business house, McGaha's two-story building, the Bell & Blythe commodious place of business, the Cooper brick block, R. J. Pickelsimer's beautiful steel front, and T. B. Galloway's fine business place, have all been added to the buildings on Main street since the railroad was assured. One can hardly imagine the change in appearance which two short years have made in the business portion of our progressive town. But what of the future? If Brevard would continue its advantages there are some things which it is our duty as a town to accomplish without delay. We need a hotel that will meet the requirements of those who are able and willing to pay. But of greater importance than a hotel is a water supply. No capital will seek investment in a town which has no protection against fire or drought. With abundance of never failing mountain branches on all sides of the town, it is a disgrace to us that we depend on wells which annually go dry. Our streets and sidewalks need improvement. The bicycle is one of the institutions of the country which is here to stay, and we must prepare for the comfort of those ladies as well as gentlemen who ride the wheel for pleasure and recreation. While we may not be able to pave our streets there is much that we could do to make the sojourn of summer visitors more enjoyable.

What sort of a world would this be if everybody were just like me?

AT THE CLEMSON THEATRE

Root Gibson, ace of outdoor actors, and Greta Garbo, greatest of all-time portrayers of emotion, will feature the Clemson's program for the week beginning Friday.

"The Dude Bandit," scheduled for Friday and Saturday of this week, with Gibson in the stellar role as a dude who goes wild in order to accomplish his purpose, is fast, suspenseful, comical and dramatic, with a love story interwoven.

FARM QUESTIONS

QUESTION: Can a grower sign the Corn-Hog contract, and still grow corn on land not planted to that crop in 1932 or 1933?

ANSWER: Yes, provided that the total acreage planted to corn on the farm does not exceed the base acreage for 1932 and 1933, less the 20 percent reduction required under the contract. This reduction, however, may be greater than 20 percent but cannot be less. Where the reduction is more than 20 percent the grower will receive rental payments on all land taken out of production up to 30 percent of his base acreage for 1932 and 1933.

QUESTION: When should culling begin in the poultry flock?

ANSWER: With the baby chicks. All crippled and weak chicks should be destroyed as soon after hatching as possible as such chicks are always first to contract colds, roup, or pox. They may also be carriers of diseases that will cause heavy losses in the flock. After this period the birds should be carefully watched for slow developing, stunted, and undersized pullets or cockerels. These should be taken from the flock and sold as broilers or fryers.

Better destroy the house you live in.
